

Blues Favored in Bucket Bowl; Lion '9' Play Hoyas Today

Scrimmage to Follow NCAA Football Rules

By SAM PROCOPIO

An underdog White squad will endeavor to dot the win column for the first time in Penn State's third annual football Bucket Bowl today when it battles a six-point favorite Blue team at 2 p.m. on Beaver Field.

The game will follow the one-day football clinic and officially close spring football drills.

Engle and his staff—Jim O'Hara, Al Michaels, Joe Paterno, Earl Bruce, Frank Patrick, and Sever Toretti—have divided the 70-odd candidates into the usual Blue and White squads which will play under the new NCAA football rules.

Since each squad will attempt to strengthen itself in any weak spots because of injuries and/or

CARDS TRIUMPH

Gerry Staley allowed the feeble New York Giants only six hits yesterday while St. Louis evened an old score with Dave Koslo, a persistent jinx pitcher, with a 3-2 victory.

All Dark's two-run homer in the second gave Koslo an early lead that soon slipped through his fingers.

Rip Repulski opened the third with the first hit off Koslo—an infield single on which Dark's weak throw from an off-balance position failed to beat the runner. But the veteran lefthander easily erased the next two.

Solly Hemus' single just beyond the reach of first baseman Whitey Lockman scored Repulski from second. Singles by Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial, and Steve Bilko added two more.

DETROIT VICTORS, 7-3

The Detroit Tigers ended a six-game losing streak by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-3, behind the slow ball pitching of Ned Garver.

Serving up an assortment of butterfly balls, the Tiger right-hander gave up six hits, including home runs to Eddie Joost, Gus Zernial and Cass Michaels.

Detroit's Bob Nieman had three hits and Jim Delsing knocked in three runs.

After the A's took a 2-0 lead, the Tigers tied it up in their half of the second on doubles by Walt Dropo and Matt Batts and a single by Nieman.

They scored once in the third to take the lead for good on a walk to Dropo and Nieman's run-scoring double that rolled to the 365-foot sign in left centerfield.

U.S. vs. Russia In Dual Meet Competition?

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—It's sure to take a lot of pounding on the Iron Curtain to get results, but U.S. track officials are pushing for a giant dual athletic meet between Russia and America.

Where? When? How? They're good questions. Nobody can answer them yet but Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, figures there may be answers soon.

"We think it would be a wonderful thing for the promotion of world peace," Ferris said. "We'd like a dual meet between the two countries possibly between Olympic years—alternately in this country and the Soviet."

Ferris said it's not just a fantasy or the figment of some man's imagination. He said the project is in the works.

"Actually it's the idea of John T. McGovern, counselor of our Olympic committee," the AAU executive said.

"When American Olympic officials were feted by the Russians in the Soviet camp at Helsinki last summer, McGovern brought the subject up informally with Russian Olympic officials."

because of the many absences of "name" players, who are playing another sport, the deadline for any possible trade will end just before game time.

One deciding factor in the game will be pass defense. The White team which carries a strong and well-balanced line with its five lettermen appears a little weaker in the aforementioned department. The letterwinners are Don Malinak, Dan DeFalco, Don Balthaser, Gene Danser, and Jack Sherry.

The Blue squad, on the other hand, led by Co-captain Tony Rados, who will probably not see any action, will exhibit an unbrutal pass defense and a potential running backfield. The defensive backs will include Lenny Moore, Matt Yanosich, Don Bailey, and Ron Younkers. All are lettermen except Younkers.

Offensively, Moore will be the man to watch. He has been very impressive in spring drills and praised by Engle. Quarterbacking for the Blues in the absence of Rados will be Bailey.

Leading the White squad will be end and Co-captain Don Malinak and eight lettermen. The only non-letterwinners of '52 in the line are guards Ray Pattios and Earl Shumaker, and fullback Chuck Blockson.

Native Dancer After 12th Win

LOUISVILLE, May 1 (AP)—The names of 12 horses were dropped into the entry box today for the 79th running of the $100,000-added Kentucky Derby and the vital question is whether the unbeaten Native Dancer can make this victory No. 12.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's flashy grey colt and Social Outcast, a stablemate, are expected to be established an odds-on choice when the field parades to the post tomorrow, but it didn't scare off the owners of 10 other horses.

There were no surprises when the entry box at old Churchill Downs closed this morning—just the same dozen who had figured in speculation for several days.

The experts were picking the speedy California colt, Correspondent, as most likely to succeed if anyone is to halt the hitherto invincible Dancer in this one mile and a quarter classic.

Hoyas Defeat Lion Nine, 4-2

By DICK McDOWELL

Hitting safely only five times, the Penn State baseball team suffered its first loss of the season yesterday when Georgetown edged the Lions, 4-2 at Beaver Field.

The Nittanies lacked their usual hitting power as Hoya pitcher Bob Stuhr hurled a no-hitter for five innings before giving up a single to Sil Cerchie leading off in the sixth. Big Keith Vesling, who lost his first game after winning four straight, allowed only eight hits while walking one as he went the distance for the Lions.

The Bedenkmen will meet the Hoyas again today at Beaver Field in the second game of the weekend series. Game time is 2:30.

Georgetown jumped off to a two-run lead in its half of the first frame and the Lions could never quite catch them, leaving 11 runners stranded on the bases. Ron Weidenhammer's error at shortstop, a walk, and two singles brought the two Hoya runs across the plate.

Vesling Weakens
The Lions scored one run in the bottom of the frame without the aid of a hit. After Weidenhammer was safe on a fielder's choice, Stuhr walked Cerchie, Bill Leonard and Hubie Kline, forcing Weidenhammer over to score.

After that Vesling went neck and neck with the Georgetown lefty until the seventh when he weakened. Stuhr, leading off the inning, lined a single to center, and catcher John Hogan followed with a scratch infield safety, advancing Stuhr to second. Chuck Gagliano, Hoya leftfielder, attempted to sacrifice and was safe when Vesling fumbled the ball on an attempted pick up. With the bases loaded Vesling got Master-son on a fly ball to Cerchie. Stuhr scored, however, after Rex Bradley caught George Gerado's foul fly to left.

In the eighth, the Lions appeared to be hitting Stuhr a little more solidly, but could only score one tally on two hits. Werner led off with an infield single and Cerchie was safe on an error. Leonard was safe on a fielder's choice and Kline walked. Then Bradley punched a single to left scoring Werner, to make the score, 3-2. At this point Jim Waddell relieved the tiring Stuhr and forced Kline at third on Kennedy's ground ball. Vesling struck out.

Lions Threaten in Ninth
The Hoyas added an insurance run in the ninth when Hogan belted a long triple to left-center and Gagliano followed with a single to left, scoring him from third.

The Lions threatened in the bottom of the ninth but couldn't bring in a run. After Vesling had struck out, Russo singled and went to second when Waddell hit Weidenhammer on the shoulder. Werner followed with a walk loading the sacks. Cerchie worked the count to 3-2 but then smashed a hard grounder to short which was turned into a game-ending double play.

DUGOUT NOTES: Cerchie's catch in the eighth with the bases loaded was the most spectacular play of the day—if not the season. The strong-armed centerfielder ran about 100 feet to make a shoestring catch of a sinking bloop, then whipped the ball to the infield holding the runners on base. . . . Baver is slated to go in the second contest today. . . . Weidenhammer looked sharp at short, turning in several outstanding plays.

Lion Golfers Meet Cornell Today at 1:30

By ROY WILLIAMS

The Big Red of Cornell will invade State's 69 par golf course at 1:30 today with two thoughts in mind. First, to snap the two-game win streak sported by the Nittanies, and second, to regain some sweet revenge over the team that clubbed them last year by a 5-2 score.

The Ithacans, however, are going to have their hands full when they meet the Lion's seven-man squad. State's short but very influential win and loss log has already commanded the respect of the opposing college golf squads. After romping over the Panthers of Pitt, 6-1, the Rutherford men defeated an always powerful and respected Navy squad.

One Point Decides

The Big Red will be confronted with battling five of State's lettermen and two newcomers who have given their previous opposition some tough going on the greens. Lou Riggs, a junior, and letterman Warren Gittlen have won their first two matches for 2-0 records. Gittlen was medalist with a par 69 score in State's opening day win over Pitt.

The five remaining members of Coach Rutherford's own 1 and 1 records. Four of these defeats, however, were by a slim one-point margin. Joe Webb lost 4-3 against Pitt, but came back to win 5-3 in the Navy match. After winning against Pitt, 7-5, John Carney suffered his first defeat at the hands of his Swabby opposition, 6-5.

Samson Eyes Berth

George Kreidler handcuffed the swinging effectiveness of his Panther foe with a 5-3 victory, but lost 4-3 in the Navy match. Rod Eaken has a fifty-fifty record after a 4-3 win against Pitt, and a 5-3 loss, suffered at the hands of one of the go's midshipmen.

Hud Samson, captain of the team who has not yet qualified for match play, went against John Carney yesterday afternoon to earn a spot on the squad for the Lion's third home match of the season.

U.S., European Group to Settle Title Disputes

PARIS, May 1 (AP)—The heads of American and European boxing commissions agreed today to set up a four-man committee to iron out perennial disputes over rightful claimants to world championships.

The agreement will be signed tomorrow. Then the committee can go to work on the outstanding current disagreement—the vacant world middleweight title.

The British Boxing Board of Control has recognized the Charles Humez-Randy Turpin fight in London on June 9 as a world championship bout. Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York commission, has said that world championship billing must wait until the European champion is matched against the best American middleweight.
