STATE COLLEGE, PA., SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 9, 1953

FIVE CENTS

Ike Arrives Today by Train

President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Dowd, were expected to arrive in State College at 7:30 this morning by special train after unfavorable weather forced a change in original plans to fly.

In an announcement yesterday from the White House, it was revealed the President would leave Washington at 11:55 p.m. His coming directly to the College by train will be the first time in several years a passenger train has traveled on the all-freight Bellefonte Central.

The President is expected to return home either tomorrow evening or Monday morning, but it is not known whether he will return by air or train. Mrs. Eisenhower will stay at the College to crown Miss Penn State Monday night as part of Spring Week festivities.

SS-Men Investigate

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, has revealed none of the Chief Executive's plans for his weekend "vacation," but it is possible, good weather predicted, he may be able to get in a few rounds of golf or go trout fishing in nearby streams. A general hope among students is that he will attend chapel services tomorrow in Schwab auditorium.

His arrival will climax several days of preparation including a thorough investigation of the campus by a group of secret service men. Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, said there is no truth, to his knowledge, to the rumors that classes in the engineering buildings surrounding the President's home will be canceled this morning.

Extensive press facilities have been set up in Electrical Engineering building to handle some 50 newsmen and photographers who will cover the event. Movie-tone newsreels are already reported to have taken pictures of the campus and of the five finalists in the Miss Penn State contest.

Five Finalists

The queen, who will reign over the 1953 Spring Week activities, will be chosen by Mrs. Eisenhower; Harry Stuhldreher, U.S. Steel executive and one of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame; Mimi Smith, Miss Pennsylvania of 1952; and Laura Lou Brookman, managing editor of the Ladies' Home Journal.

Finalists are Mary Braun, Kay Lloyd, Sheila Rosenson, Madeleine Sharp, and Sara Ann Updegraff. They were chosen from 72 entries by movie actor John Wayne.

At the coronation ceremony, which will begin at 8 p.m. Monday, the contestants for the title will form an honor chain for the queen. Nancy D. White, coronation co-chairman, said doors will open at 7 p.m. and will close at 7:55 p.m. Miss White asked contestants to meet for a dress rehearsal at 12:25 Monday in Recreation Hall.

Ugly Man Sherman Wins Penny Contest

Ugliest of the ugly, Robert Sherman, sponsored by Beta Sigma Rho, yesterday won the Ugly Man penny-a-vote popularity contest with a total of $112.23. Sherman, eighth semester commerce major, was one of the eight late entries in the contest.

Ralph "Rabbit" Breidenthal won the second place position with a total of $109.77. Breidenthal was sponsored by Phi Kappa Sigma. Following him were Franklin Kelly, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon, with a total of $93.49 and Thomas Barrett, sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega, with a total of $90.32.

Total votes from the 57 contestants plus entrance fees, amounted to approximately $830. This amount, minus operating expenses for the trophy and tent rental, will be given to the Campus Chest by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, sponsor of the contest. Last year $250.16 was given to Campus Chest.

Approximately $75 was collected the first day, $130 the second, and the remaining amount came in yesterday. The biggest rush came yesterday in the last hour of voting.

The exact amount collected and the amount given to Campus Chest will be announced when tabulation is completed.

Sherman will officially receive his Ugly Man title next week at the Senior Ball. He will receive an Ugly Man key of silver metal. The gold Ugly Man trophy will also be given to Beta Sigma Rho, Sherman's sponsor in the contest.

Ugly Man entries may pick up contest photographs at the Student Union desk in Old Main, according to Hampton Huff, contest chairman.
