Giles Disallows 'Brat's' Protest On Obstruction

CINCINNATI, May 8 (AP)—President Warren Giles of the National League today disallowed a protest by St. Louis Manager Eddie Stanky concerning the 7-3 victory by the Dodgers over the Cards at Brooklyn Wednesday.

Giles said his action followed a careful study of the umpires' verbal and written reports and a personal conference with Stanky.

The St. Louis manager was ejected from the game in the sixth inning after vehemently protesting a decision by Umpire Jocko Conlan which ruled obstruction by Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus and allowed Jackie Robinson to score a run. Hemus lay sprawled on the base path after making an unsuccessful effort to snare a liner and Robby, trying to make third from second base, tripped over him.

Giles cited a baseball rule providing for a base runner's unimpeded progress where the fielder is not in the actual process of fielding a ball.

Black Sells Yankee Wares

SCARSDALE, N.Y., May 8 (AP)—Joe Black, ace Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, proved himself a ready salesman of New York Yankee wares.

Appearing at a Boy Scout fund raising contest here, Black tried to auction off a baseball signed by all the Dodger players but found no takers.

"This looks like Yankee territory," said Eddie Dunn, television actor who was master of ceremonies.

"I'll fix that," said Black. "If anyone takes this ball for $200 I'll get another one inside two weeks signed by all the Yankees."

A young woman immediately put up the $200.

Texas Schoolboy Nips Owens Record in 220

AUSTIN, Tex., May 8 (AP)—A Texas schoolboy today bettered the national interscholastic record for the 220-yard dash.

Frank Daugherty of Olton ran the distance in 20.5 seconds in the preliminaries of the Texas High school track and field meet here.

That is two-tenths of a second under the national standard set by Jesse Owens at Cleveland in 1933, but isn't likely to be allowed as a national record because of a helping wind for the runner.

McCarthy Is Better

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 8 (AP)—Joe McCarthy, retired New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox manager, was reported in good condition at St. Francis Hospital today.

He has been in the hospital since April 11 for treatment of a virus infection.

COACH JOE BEDENK'S heavy hitting outfield trio which will lead the Lions in their first doubleheader of the season this afternoon against the Pitt Panthers. The batters (l. to r.) are Tom Werner, Sil Cerchie, and Rex Bradley. Werner and Cerchie are battling for batting honors. The trio are well ahead of the other Lion hitters in extra base blows.

Twin-Bill Set With Pitt Today

Rain intervened again yesterday, forcing the postponement of the scheduled baseball game between Penn State and Pitt. The contest has been rescheduled for this afternoon when the two will meet in a doubleheader at Beaver Field. The first game will get underway at 1:30.

Coach Joe Bedenk has named Gar Gingerich and Keith Vesling, a pair of righthanders, to pitch for the Lions. Gingerich has a perfect 3-0 slate while Vesling sports a 4-1 mark.

The Lions go into the contests with an impressive 8-1-1 record, boasting wins over Lehigh, Villanova, Western Maryland, American U., Bucknell, Georgetown, Penn, and Gettysburg. They dropped a 4-2 decision to Georgetown before drubbing the Hoyas 22-6, and tied Rutgers, 2-2, in a game that was called after eight innings because of darkness.

Vesling and Gingerich will oppose another pair of righthanders, Don Miller and Dick Shannon. The Panthers have compiled an 8-6 record, their latest win coming against St. Francis.

Following the Pitt series, the Nittanies will meet Dickinson Tuesday and then hit the road for a three-game weekend trip to Syracuse, N.Y. where they will meet the Orange in two games, and on to Hamilton, N.Y. for a single contest with Colgate.

Probable Penn State Lineup: First base, Pat Kennedy; second base, Chuck Russo; shortstop, Ron Weidenhammer; third base, Hubie Kline; leftfield, Rex Bradley; centerfield, Sil Cerchie; rightfield, Tom Werner; and catcher, Bill Leonard.

Lions' Six-Man Team Plays in Tourney Today

By ROY WILLIAMS

"If the boys play in the EIGA tourney the way they have been playing in the last four matches, they may cause some serious trouble for their opponents," said Joe Boyle, assistant golf coach. Boyle said these words after State's six-man golf squad was well on its way to Princeton's Springdale golf course. Boyle commented, "the scoring of the tournament is much different from that of regular seasonal matches. Medalist scoring (counting each stroke the man takes) often causes a lot of trouble for good college golfers."

The thought that the Lions were on their way to participate in the annual Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Association tourney brought back some memories to Boyle.

Five years ago Boyle was a member of the Penn State squad which participated in the EIGA for its best scores of the season. First-day eliminations will be by medalist score. Each team will be allowed to enter its four best 36-hole scores to determine the EIGA team champ.

In 1948, when State won the EIGA team trophy, no individual champ was honored. This year the 16 men, one from each team entered, will compete for individual honors. This final round of elimination and scoring for team champs will be by match play, and not medalist.

PRINCETON, N.J., May 8 (AP)—Eighty-seven of the top collegiate linksters in the East will be off tomorrow in the Eastern Intercollegiate golf championships.

Yale, captained by Wally Kile, son of a onetime great pro hockey player, looks like a fair bet to take the crown from Virginia, the defending champion.

Snead Scores Another 67 to Lead Hogan by 1

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 8 (AP)—Sam Snead went ahead of the pack trying to dethrone him as champion on his own course by shooting his second straight 67 today to lead Ben Hogan by one stroke at the halfway stage of the 72-hole Greenbrier Open.

Snead's 134 for the first 36 holes was six strokes better than par for that distance on the old White course.

The pros will start shooting for double prizes tomorrow. Besides the $2000 first prize in the 72-hole competition, there will be a $1000 top award to the winner in the last 36 holes with an amateur partner.

Coach Rutherford and his team arrived yesterday at the Tiger's stomping grounds and participated in a few pre-tourney warm-ups. The Lions will enter this afternoon along with 15 Eastern golf squads—Cornell, Army, Penn, Pitt, Virginia, Navy, Georgetown, Brown, Yale, Princeton, MIT, Dartmouth, Columbia, Harvard and Holy Cross.

Each six-man team will shoot
