

Psych Prof To Be Final LA Lecturer

Dr. Charles Hartshorne, professor of psychology at the University of Chicago, will deliver the final lecture of the Liberal Arts series at 8 p.m. Monday in 121 Sparks. His subject will be "Science, Religion, and Metaphysics in the 20th Century." The lecture is open to the public.

Dr. Hartshorne received his doctorate at Harvard University. He has been president of the western division of the American Philosophical Association, lecturer at Yale, and recipient of a Fulbright Fellowship for study in Australia.

AFROTC Gets Aptitude Tests

A seven-hour aptitude test has been given this week to all sophomores in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corp. The object of the test is to form a sample group of considerable size to verify accuracy of a test that will be used as an entrance examination for all aviation cadets. The results of this test will be used as one of the factors in the selection of advanced cadets. All students completing this examination will receive a mark of 85 per cent for the scheduled Air Defense Examination.

Student Receives Brain Concussion

Charles Belan, second semester architecture major, was admitted to the College Infirmary early Wednesday night with a slight brain concussion. Belan was hit on the head by a ball Wednesday and knocked unconscious. He was taken to the Infirmary after suffering headaches and slight loss of memory. He was reported in good condition late yesterday, and is expected to be released today.
