

Walcott Title Protest Lost

CHICAGO, May 8 (AP)—The Illinois Athletic Commission, voicing disappointment of Jersey Joe Walcott's showing against Rocky Marciano and urging his retirement, today rejected a protest of the fight by the aged ex-champion's manager.

There was little drama at the commission's hearing as Chairman Livingston Osborne ruled that Marciano's knockout of Walcott in Chicago Stadium Friday night "stands as official" and all five points of a written protest are "disallowed."

Unless Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, and his attorney, Angelo Malandra, decide to seek legal action against the decision in the courts, the case is closed.

Both men attended a special showing of a three-dimensional film of the heavyweight title bout prior to the hearing, and charged they had been edited. Bocchicchio then went to Chicago Stadium and picked up a check from the International Boxing Club for $250,000 as Walcott's guarantee, before appearing at the Commission with Malandra.

The film showed conclusively that Walcott stirred only slightly at the audible count of ten and then arose, somewhat wobbily, after being waved out by Referee Frank Sikora.

In slow motion and conventional speed they showed that Rocky's kayo punch in 2:25 of the first round was a left hook partially blocked followed by a combination right cross-uppercut sort of blow to the chin.

The right did not appear to be as devastating as the head-snapping right cross Rocky landed eight months ago in Philadelphia to put Walcott away in the 13th round. But it was the damaging blow, and not the left hook that most television fans thought did the trick. Walcott's back was to the TV cameras, but the 3-D films captured his dazed look through the fifth or sixth count tolled out by Sikora at his side and the official knockdown timekeeper Mike Murphy. It showed him on his haunches, one arm over a rope, and his face trained on his corner and Bocchicchio.

Time Trials In IM Track Slated Tonight

Tonight over 200 fraternity and independent men will be started off towards intramural track championships at Beaver Field. Trial heats in the 100 yard dash, 440 run, and 880 relay are on the agenda. Starting time is 6:45.

Finals in field competition will be run off tomorrow while Thursday will see the finals in all running events. A 6:45 p.m. start is scheduled for each night's competition.

Competition in the fraternity division is wide open. Last year's winner, Alpha Phi Alpha, is not entering a team in this year's tournament. Alpha Tau Omega placed second last year and will be aiming to better that tonight. Alpha Zeta and Beta Theta Pi, last year's third place finishers, are also expected to enter strong teams.

Five independent teams are entered — Dorm 39, Taxis, Saints, NROTC, and Gilmores.

The best three times will be recorded in each trial heat of the 100 and 440. The finalist will be chosen from the six best overall times.

Lion Thinclads Lose To Panthers, 68-63

By HERM WEISKOPF

PITTSBURGH, May 18—Chick Werner can be proud of his crew of trackmen, even though they were edged by Pitt, 68-63, Saturday in the Smoky City. The Lions proved themselves a scrappy, hustling team as they fought for every point.

Despite a record-setting performance by the Lions in the mile relay, the last event of the day, they lost the race and the meet simultaneously. The Nittany quartet lowered the 14 year old school mark by 3:19.2 by two tenths of a second, but Pitt whizzed to a 3:18.4.

A virtual triple finish climaxed the 880-yard run, won by Nittany Don Austin with a last second spurt. He nipped teammate Roy Brunjes and Pitt's Don Delligatti.

Ollie Sax won his first 440 since injuring his ankle some two months ago. He got off to an early lead, but had to finish fast to stave off a stretch drive by Pitt's Ray Lee.

Three more Nittany firsts went to Rosey Grier in the shot, discus and javelin. Dan Lorch hit 13 feet in the pole vault, but so did Panther Don Minihan, as they tied for first. Red Hollen topped the mile in blazing finish that brought him to the lead with only some 30 yards from the finish line.

Two-miler Lamont Smith picked up another first as he finished in 9:26.5, far ahead of any Pitt competitor. Hollen pulled in second for the Lions at 9:34.9 to put him in front of Bernie Luterancik of Pitt.

It was another first for Jim Herb in the high jump as he cleared the bar at 6 ft. 3 in.

Atherton Men Are IM Soccer Champs

Atherton Men won the independent intramural soccer championship last night by beating Iron Men in a sudden death overtime. With the score tied 1-1 after fifteen minutes overtime, the Atherton Men scored their victory by virtue of a corner kick.

Members of the championship Atherton team are Ron Denker, Dick Zimmerman, Oscar Murillo, Dwight Barkley, Earl Brubaker, Fred Owlett and Jim Jones.

In the semi-finals of the fraternity division, Tau Kappa Epsilon, last year's champ, defeated Sigma Pi, and Alpha Gamma Rho topped Pi Delta Theta.
