FIVE CENTS

Choir to Sing Mass At Concert Tonight

Haydn's "St. Cecilia Mass," performed only once before in this country, will be presented by the Chapel Choir in its sixth annual spring concert at 8 tonight in Schwab Auditorium. Doors will open at 7:30.

Soloists for the concert, which will be open to the public, will be Barbara Troxell, soprano; Mary Alyce Bennett, contralto; Robert D. Simpson, tenor; and Herbert W. Beattie, assistant professor of music, bass. James F. Beach, a graduate of the College, will sing in the tenor section.

George E. Ceiga, chapel organist, and the College Symphony Orchestra directed by Theodore K. Karhan will accompany the choir in its presentation of the work which had its first American performance by the Chorus Pro Musica last May in Boston.

Studied in Philadelphia

Because published scores of the composition are not available, the choir, directed by Mrs. Willa C. Taylor, will sing from unpublished scores used by the Boston group.

Mrs. Troxell studied voice with Elizabeth Schumann at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia after she received her M.A. degree in music education at the College. During the 1950-51 season she made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera.

Miss Bennett has appeared as contralto soloist at the Phillips Gallery and the National Gallery in Washington, D.C. She has sung with the American University Chamber Music Society and the Chamber Music Society of Catholic University, where she was a member of the faculty.

Oratorio Soloist

Beattie, director of the Women's Chorus, has performed in recitals at the College and recently appeared in the Players' production of Shakespeare's "Merry Wives of Windsor."

Simpson is an oratorio and cantata tenor soloist from New York City. He appeared with the Westminster Choir when it performed with the New York Philharmonic at Carnegie Hall.

Beach, who received his B.S. degree and master of education degrees in music at the College in 1948 and 1949, is studying at the Julliard School of Music in New York City.

Assistant Dean To be Chosen

A second assistant to the dean of men will be chosen by June 1, Dean of Men Frank J. Simes, has reported. Five men are being considered for the position, he said, but three more must be interviewed.

Harold R. Dean was chosen a few weeks ago to fill one of the two posts, which are assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, and assistant in charge of dormitory affairs.

The dean in charge of fraternity affairs will work with Interfraternity Council and individual fraternities to develop a positive approach to social activities, rushing, scholarship and fraternities projects.

The dean in charge of dormitory affairs will work with graduate resident counselors, act as adviser to the Association of Independent Men, and promote dormitory activities.

Both deans are expected to assume their positions by June 1, Simes said.

Liberal Arts Seniors May Pick Up LaVies

Today and tomorrow seniors in liberal arts may pick up copies of LaVie at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Transfer and other students who have not paid the entire amount for LaVies will be told how much they owe when they go to receive their copies.

30 Seniors To Vie for Class Titles

Ballots with names of outstanding seniors who may be chosen for honorary titles at Class Night ceremonies are available at the Student Union desk, Douglas Schoerke, chairman, announced.

Seniors may vote for the traditional titles today through June 1 when they pick up copies of LaVie. Ceremonies will be held June 3 in Recreation Hall.

The ballot includes the names of 15 senior men and 15 senior women chosen by the Class Night committee. Senior men may vote for spoon man, barrel man, cane man, pipe orator and class donor. Candidates for these titles are Willard Dye, Franklin Kelly, Theodore Kimmel, John Laubach, Joseph Lemyre, William Leonard, Richard Neuweiler, Samuel Nowell, David Pellnitz, James Pylar, Arthur Rosfeld, Douglas Schoerke, Richard Stanley, Lincoln Warrell and Robert Watson.

Bow girl, slipper girl, fan girl, mirror girl, class donor and class poet will be chosen from the list of women on the ballot. Candidates are Yvonne Carter, Barbara Denniston, Margaret Hepler, Janet Herd, Joan Hutchon, Margaret Lamaster, Joan Lee, Bettie Loux, Mabel Marple, Peggy Mayberry, Carolyn Morris, Therese Moslak, Vivian Peterson, Irene Taylor and Marian Whitely.

Serving with Schoerke on the Class Night committee are Miss Carter, Donna Rae Estabrook, Watson and William Harral.

IFC Meeting Canceled

The Interfraternity Council meeting originally scheduled for tonight has been canceled, according to Thomas Schott, IFC president. The council will not meet again until next fall, Schott said.

Student Government Book Ready Today

The student government handbook will be distributed to campus leaders today at the Student Union desk in Old Main, Myron E. Now, handbook committee chairman, has announced.

Copies will also be sent to the President's office, members of the Board of Trustees and the Pattee Library, he said. A limited number of copies will be available later to the general student body, he said.

Eisenhower Outlines Five-Point Program

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower submitted to the nation tonight a five-point program that offered no immediate reductions in what he called this "age of danger."

Speaking by radio on "an issue affecting all our lives," Eisenhower told the people "we must be strong—and we must stay strong" in the face of perils brought on by the cold calculation of Soviet leaders.

His tax plan supported that idea by calling for continuation of present income and corporation levies, at least for the time-being. It did propose that a scheduled boost in social security taxes, which would take effect Jan. 1, be put off.

It was Eisenhower's first formal speech direct to the nation by radio.

No Soviet Change

What it amounted to was an attempt to spell out for the people in ABC terms why he believes taxes must remain high even though his administration has promised economy.

"We all know something," Eisenhower said, "of the long record of deliberately planned Communist aggression. There has been, to this moment, no reason to believe that Soviet policy has changed its frequently announced hope and purpose—the destruction of freedom everywhere."

Need Tax Program

Defense of the nation, the President said, must be borne for a long, indefinite time. He said it cannot "consist of sudden, blind responses to a series of fire alarm emergencies."

In this "age of peril," he said this is the tax program he is recommending to Congress:

1. The present excess profits tax on corporations, now scheduled to end June 30, should be extended for six months. Eisenhower estimated this will bring in a revenue of $800 million.

Sets Excise Tax

2. The reduction in the regular corporate income tax, now set for next April 1, should be repealed. Keeping the tax, the President estimated, will bring in $2 billion a year.

3. A cut in excise taxes scheduled for April 1 would be postponed until after he has made specific recommendations to Congress next January for a sounder excise tax system.

4. A boost in the old age security taxes from 1½ to 2 per cent on both employees and employers, scheduled for next Jan. 1, should be postponed. Eisenhower said the old age and survivors trust fund now holds $18 billion and present tax rates are bringing in receipts in excess of expenditures.

5. A ten per cent reduction in individual income taxes, now set for Jan. 1, should go through—but no earlier than that.

Eisenhower said he doesn't believe "the American people think that earlier reduction would be prudent," as their communications to him show they want our nation secure and our dollar sound.

$16,000 Expected In FMA Business

The Fraternity Marketing Association has done $14,333 worth of business so far this school year it was reported at the FMA board of trustees meeting last night.

Prof. R. K. Murray, chairman of the board of trustees, expressed the belief that the FMA's business would reach $16,000 before the end of the school year.

Murray complimented the members of the board on their fine work throughout the first year of FMA's operation and expressed the hope that the FMA will soon reach the stage where it will be a benefit to all fraternities at the College.

Questionnaires Sent

The board elected R. E. Peters to replace Stanley H. Campbell, Central Extension, as secretary-treasurer of the board.

Murray reported questionnaires have been sent to all fraternities in an effort to get their opinions on the FMA program and to get suggestions for next year's operations.

The board is currently investigating the possibility of adding fuel oil, coal, hardware, laundry and furniture to the list of items which may be purchased through the association. Present FMA purchases are limited to canned goods and potatoes.

25 Fraternities in FMA

Murray instructed all participating fraternities to prepare their orders for the first two weeks of next year so that bids may be called for sometime during the late summer. Murray also asked participating houses to prepare an approximate list of their needs for the first semester.

Murray reported that 25 fraternities enrolled in the FMA during its first year of operation. These are Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Acacia, Alpha Zeta, Beaver House, Beta Sigma Rho, Delta Chi, Delta Theta Sigma, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Pi, Theta Kappa Phi, Triangle, Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Sigma Phi, Zeta Beta Tau, Alpha Chi Rho, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Kappa, and Alpha Gamma Rho.

HEc 'News' Ready Today

Final issue of the Home Ec News and Views, available today in the lobby of the Home Economics building, features articles on bridal fashions, foreign bridal traditions, a comparison of low and high cost weddings and ideas for bridal showers.

Next year's staff will be Nancy Gemmill, editor; Lorraine Mondrick, managing editor; Patience Ungethuen, business manager; Barbara Woodward and Dorothy Stone, associate editors; Sally Pickett, feature editor; Patricia Rile, local advertising manager; Gloria Beppler, national advertising manager; Mary Lou Scharar, circulation manager; Susanne Brosseau, promotion; George Moore, art and photography editor; and Janet Fietsam, secretary-treasurer. Mary Pitzer will be staff adviser and Dr. Eva D. Wilson, professor of foods and nutrition, will act as sponsor.

Tryouts Scheduled For Cheerleaders

Six new cheerleaders will be chosen at tryouts at 6:45 p.m. today in 405 Old Main.

Three men and three women from the freshman class will be chosen. Candidates must have at least a 1.0 All-College average. They will meet at 6:30 p.m. Next year's head cheerleader will be announced at the tryouts.

Candidates will be judged by Ernest B. McCoy, director of athletics; Hummel Fishburn, professor of music; Eugene Wettstone, associate professor of physical education; Harold R. Gilbert, assistant director of athletics; and Alan McChesney, head cheerleader.

Fehnel Explains Encampment Leader's Duties

The duties of the 12 workshop chairmen at the second annual student encampment at Mont Alto, Sept. 10-12, were explained to them by Edgar Fehnel, chairman of the encampment committee, last night.

John Garber was named head of the cultural aspects workshop; John Flanagan to student-town relations; Richard Gibbs, Campus Chest; Ross Clark, resident counselor relations; Donald Herbein, operation of Student Union Building; Gerald Maurey, student recreation; Robert Smoot, leadership; James Dunlap, campus political conventions; Charles Obertance, book exchange; Thomas Farrell, judicial; Robert Carruthers, academic honesty; and David Arnold, cabinet finances.

Fehnel asked the chairmen to think about and solicit problems that can be solved by discussion at the encampment.

He reminded the chairmen that each will be responsible for a report from his workshop group to All-College Cabinet.

Fehnel said 160 invitations will be sent out this week to students, faculty members and townspeople. This will mean 12 to 14 members on each committee, he said.

The group dynamics process will be used in the workshop sessions, Fehnel said. By this method, the recorder will read back to the workshop to see what ground has been covered by the group's discussions. An observer will then report on what ground the group has covered since the last report of the recorder.
