Mayer's fate was spelled out this morning when the bloc of deputies elected under the banner of Gen. Charles de Gaulle met. Most of them, about 70, announced they would vote against the government.

Although de Gaulle has officially disbanded his Rally of the French People's Party, the bloc has continued to act almost as a unit.

Mayer won confirmation as Premier last January only by promising this bloc that he would seek changes in the six-nation European Defense Community Pact—which would bring Germans into Western defense—and would make a settlement of the Saar question with Germany a condition to ratification of the army pact. As a result, ratification of the pact has been further delayed.

Student Handbook Available Today

Copies of the student government handbook are now available at the Student Union desk in Old Main to campus leaders and members of the administration. Myron Enelow, handbook committee chairman, has announced.

Handbooks were scheduled for distribution Wednesday, but wet ink prevented the books from being bound and hindered the delivery of the books to the SU desk, Enelow said.

Only one copy of the handbook, an 84-page book explaining major campus organizations, will be given to each person, he said.
