

Hat Societies to Enforce Customs for Freshmen

Nine hat societies on campus, five for men and four for women, honor student leaders in government, politics, publications, athletics, dramatics, forensics and managerships.

Eight societies have been active on campus for several years. The ninth honorary will become active this semester.

The main duty of hat societies is to maintain College traditions and enforce freshman customs.

Members of male hat societies are tapped from men who have filed formal applications to the societies. Women's hat societies select members from activity and scholarship records

Student Drivers Must Register Cars on Campus

Students who intend to operate a car in or around State College must register it at fall registration, according to College traffic regulations.

Parking permits, issued by Campus Patrol, will be granted to students who live outside an area outlined by the patrol. Because of the severe parking space shortage on campus, students who live near campus are not permitted to park on campus.

Permits will not be issued to persons whose car cannot pass Pennsylvania inspection requirements.

The area in which student-residents are not granted permits will be decreased this year as additional parking spaces become available.

Handicapped Get Permits
Students living in dormitories are issued permits to park in a designated area on campus. Men living in fraternities on campus will be issued a special permit to drive on campus roads to available parking areas provided by fraternities.

Permits are also issued to physically handicapped students who require a car. These students must get a certificate from the College Health Service, if they live within the boundary outlined by the patrol.

Permit stickers must be attached at the center of the top of the windshield.

Cars Towed
Parking and driving on campus is prohibited from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and to noon on Saturday, except to visitors, College employees, and students with parking permits.

Parking permit stickers designate the only area where cars may be parked. Cars parked illegally are towed away by the patrol at the owners' risk and expense.

Speed limit on campus roads is 25 miles per hour. Parking and traffic fines are imposed on violators by Tribunal, men's student judicial committee. Habitual violators are subject to disciplinary action by the Dean of Men's office.

Women students must get the permission of the dean of women to bring cars to State College.

Hat Society Council
Tapping is done in the spring or fall and active membership lasts one year.

Hat Society Council, composed of the president and secretary of each group, governs and coordinates hat societies.

Parmi Nous and Skull and Bones, senior men's hat societies, select members from sixth, seventh and eighth semester men. Unaccepted applicants to one senior honorary are frequently considered by the other.

Tapped by Point System
Parmi Nous chooses members by a flexible quota system, selecting a certain percentage of top men from campus activities.

Members are tapped for Skull and Bones through an elaborate point system emphasizing broad and thorough activity interest.

Two junior men's hat societies, Blue Key and Androcles, select fourth and fifth semester men from all fields of campus activities. However, the membership of Blue Key is generally composed of no less than two-thirds of the men who have served as first assistant sports managers.

Druids Taps Athletes
Androcles, founded three years ago, employs a point system to select men from all fields of campus activity.

Druids, sophomore men's honorary, selects members from second, third and fourth semester athletes who have shown outstanding ability during their freshman year.

Druids annually alphabetize the files in the Dean of Men's office during fall registration, and, as a pledge project, are responsible for cleaning the trophy cases in Recreation Hall.

Most Men's Housing Units Near Capacity

With the exception of three Pollock Circle dormitories, men's housing facilities at the College are expected to be filled to capacity. An additional 500 men are being housed in town in College approved units.

The entire 2800 campus living units will be filled at the start of classes except Pollock Circle dorms 8 and 9, presently closed, and Pollock 10, which has been converted into women's quarters. A breakdown shows 1050 men in the Nittany dorms, between 500 and 600 in the Pollock dorms, and the rest in the West Dorms.

James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, stated that dormitories have been cleaned, repaired, and put in excellent shape. The Nittany dorms have been repainted and refurbished and lounges have been remodeled, he said.

Approximately 200 College approved and recommended units in town will house another 500. Privately owned housing facilities have been inspected by College officials and found to meet standards that put them on a par with College-owned quarters.

Dean said the townspeople co-operated splendidly and inspecting officials found 98 per cent of the rooms in good condition. The list of these living units, however, has already been exhausted.

Except for a few special exceptions the 2065 freshman men on campus are required to live in College dormitories their first year.

Students Get Aid, Information At College Student Union Desk

Student Union, according to the General College Catalogue, is the "clearing house for all student information."

Here students can find answers to questions they have about campus or campus activities. Managed by George L. Donovan, the Student Union desk is located on the right, inside the front door of Old Main.

It maintains a lost and found department where students may claim lost articles or leave things they have found. The central distribution point for the Daily Collegian, Froth, Pivot, Independent, and other campus publications is at the SU desk.

Tickets for Players and Thepian productions, community forum series, dances, recitals and concerts are sold there.

Student Union keeps current bus and train schedules for the entire United States and telephone directories of major eastern cities and cities of Pennsylvania for student reference.

The desk is open for regular student services from 8 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon Saturday. It is open for general information service from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

If kept free from bacteria, milk can be kept fresh indefinitely.
