

Blood Forms Available at SU

Pledge cards and minor release forms for the Oct. 13-15 campus blood drive may be picked up at the Student Union desk in Old Main or in the lobby of the West Dorm lounge, Marie Wagner, student Red Cross committee chairman, has announced.

The Johnstown Red Cross Bloodmobile, which will set up facilities in Temporary Union Building for the drive, will be prepared to handle 500 donations.

Pledge cards and release forms are now being distributed to sororities, and fraternities have been informed of the drive by mail, Miss Wagner said.

Students between the ages of 18 and 21 are required to have release forms signed by parents. Forms must be turned in to 112 Old Main by the Monday deadline to allow for scheduling. Donors will be informed of their appointments by mail.

When filling out pledge cards, students should list at least two times when they will be able to give blood.

Students are asked not to sign up for the morning of Oct. 14 because the TUB has been reserved for another function.

Women wishing to serve on the canteen to serve refreshments, or as hostesses to greet donors, may sign up with Betty Buchanan in 231 McElwain.

Donors are given an examination before donating blood and receive refreshments following the donation. The entire process takes approximately one hour for each donor.

Blood may be given from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Oct. 13 and 15, and from 1 to 5 p.m. Oct. 14.

Flight Training Now Required For Commissions

In order to be eligible for immediate reserve commissions, students completing the advanced program in Air Force ROTC in June will be required to enroll for flight training, Lt. Col. Jack W. Dieterle, professor of air science and tactics, announced yesterday.

Seniors who will qualify for commissions in February will not be affected by this policy, he added.

Two years in an enlisted status will be required of seniors who complete the four-year program in June and do not enroll for the flight training at least 90 days prior to graduation before they become eligible for commissions. At the time of completion of the program, they will be presented certificates of completion instead of reserve commission, Dieterle said.

He explained that curtailment of the program also has slowed the calling to active duty of the 240 graduates who received their commissions in June.

Council Seeks LA Interest

The improvement of faculty-student relations and increasing the interest of Liberal Arts students in the LA school were discussed last night by the LA Student Council.

Several suggestions were made to accomplish the council's aims. The continuation of the LA Angles and the proposing of coffee hours for faculty and students were suggested. These two suggestions were also thought to return some of the 25 cents which each LA student was assessed.

Approximately 100 students would be invited to attend each coffee hour if the plan is carried out. Faculty from groups of departments would be invited to each coffee hour, and students majoring in the departments invited for that week would be selected to attend.

Dean Ben Euwema, a guest at the meeting gave several suggestions as to what the council could do to help the LA school.

About 39 million people, a quarter of the population of the U. S., live in or near the 12 biggest cities of our country.

Grad Students, Faculty to Hold Joint Meeting

The Graduate Student Association and Graduate School administration and faculty will jointly sponsor a convocation at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

According to Harold K. Schilling, dean of the Graduate School, purposes of the convocation are:

1. To aid in orientation of the new graduate students to the purposes, standards, and procedures of the College and Graduate School.

2. To acquaint them with the work of the Graduate Student Association.

3. For the old graduate students and faculty to consider together the tasks of the Graduate School.

4. To offer the opportunity for new and old graduate students to get acquainted.

The Graduate Student Association is planning informal social functions following the convocation.

Frank J. Simes, dean of men, requests new graduate students call today at his office to fill out an information blank.

Psych Tests Tonight
Psychology makeup examinations for freshmen who did not take them during Orientation Week will be held at 7 tonight in 121 Sparks.

Fire Destroys Trailer Home Of ME Student

A third semester mechanical engineering major is looking for a new home for his wife and two children today after fire completely destroyed his trailer in the Hoover trailer camp in Woodycrest early yesterday morning.

The owner, Ronald Mohler, estimated the loss of trailer and personal belongings at $2000. Mohler said he believed the insurance would cover the loss. None of the personal possessions were saved except those that were worn from the trailer.

The fire, which awoke Mrs. Mohler, about 1:15 a.m., was started by a bucket-a-day stove in an enclosed porch attached to the trailer. The flames were ranging out of control when the Alpha Fire Co. arrived.

Firemen said a line from the tank to the trailer's gas stove broke and the gas was feeding the flames with a blow-torch effect. Other trailers in the camp, several within ten feet of the Mohler trailer, were not damaged by the flames.

Mrs. Mohler and the two children were not injured by the fire. Mohler received a burn on his arm.

The Mohlers had only resided in the trailer about two weeks.

WORLD-FAMOUS St. Paul's Cathedral Choir of London will open the Community Concert series Oct. 26 in Schwab Auditorium. The choir, currently on a two-month tour of the United States, recently sang with the Westminster Abbey Choir at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

Community Concerts To Begin with Choir

St. Paul's Cathedral Choir of London, on a two-month tour in the United States, will open the Community Concert series Oct. 26 in Schwab Auditorium.

A campaign for new members of the Community Concert Association will be held the week of Oct. 19 under the direction of David H. McKinley. Present members will have an opportunity to renew memberships the week of Oct. 12.

Dr. Frel R. Matson, association chairman, said although the London choir has been scheduled the program can not be completed until after the membership campaign when the budget will be known.

The choir, brought to the United States by arrangements with the dean and chapter of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, is an institution whose history reaches back more than 800 years.

Thirty boy choristers or "Children of Paul," 18 men, the director, an organist and assistant, and a suborganist compose the choir.

From 1127 until the last century, the boy choristers were under the direction of an almoner. Choristers are mentioned as producing spiritual plays in the 14th century and appeared in plays of Shakespeare and Ben Johnson in the reign of Elizabeth I. In 1876 a school for 30 choristers and 10 probationers was built and has been functioning since that time.

The choir has taken part in many religious and royal celebrations in St. Paul's Cathedral. In June the choir sang with the Westminster Abbey Choir at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

College Offers Night Courses

Elementary typing, elementary shorthand, accounting, speech, electric arc welding and machine shop practice are among the evening classes offered by the College this year.

Registration for typing, shorthand, accounting and speech will take place from 7 to 9 p.m. nightly until Thursday in 8 Sparks. Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday nights beginning Oct. 6.

Welding and machine shop groups will meet for registration and the first-class at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 20.

At the same time welding class will meet in 101 Engineering B, and the machine shop group in 122 Engineering B. Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Eng Council Mixer

Engineering Student Council will hold a council-faculty mixer at 7 tonight at Tau Kappa Epsilon. Plans for the coming year will be discussed.

Chest Provides Charity Choice

Contributors to the 1953-54 Campus Chest drive will have an opportunity to designate the charities to which they wish their money given, Richard Gibbs, chairman, has announced.

The charities included in the drive will be listed on International Business Machine cards and contributors may indicate how much of their donation they wish given to specific groups, Gibbs explained.

Contributors who do not wish to designate their money may also indicate this on the IBM cards. Profits from special events sponsored by Campus Chest and any undesignated donations will be distributed to the charities included in the drive on the basis of a percentage system approved by All-College Cabinet, Gibbs said.

Percentages established are Penn State Christian Association, 35; World University Service, 20; Penn State Student Scholarship fund, 10; Women's Student Government Christmas fund, 4; State College Welfare fund, 1; American Heart Association, Cerebral Palsy of Pennsylvania, Salvation

A total of $935 was collected at the Kick Off Dance sponsored for the benefit of Campus Chest Friday night, Gibbs said.

He said $847 was received from ticket sales; $57 from cokes sold by Skull and Bones, senior men's hat society; and $31 from the Penny Pitch game operated by Mortar Board, senior women's hat society.

Net profit from the dance can not be determined until expenses are tabulated, Gibbs said. He estimated they would be between $200 and $300.

Army, Cancer Fund, and American Red Cross, 5. Five per cent will be allocated for operational expenses.

Previously the amount received by each charity was determined by a percentage system only. Contributors could not indicate where they wished money donated. Gibbs said this year's program is an experiment to determine which charities students desire to support.

Students may contribute to all Gibbs said, but faculty members charities included in the drive, may designate their contributions only to PSCA, World University Service, Penn State Student Scholarship fund, and WSGA Christmas fund.

Faculty members therefore will not be asked to contribute to a charity which also conducts a drive in the borough, Gibbs explained.

Contributions will be made in cash only. Previously, students could make cash donations or pledge contributions. Pledges could be paid with spring semester fees. Because fees are now collected before registration, students may not make pledges.

Up from the bench

OR... You can't buck that line unless you break into the line-up

A third-string quarterback named Witherspoon had a Laudable Ambition. He wanted to be first-string quarterback. Particularly to start the opening game under the Admiring Eyes of his Number One Girl. Unfortunately the coach was a Hard Man to Convince. So our hero, undismayed, uncorked a Master Plan.

Two weeks before the opening game, the coach got a Telegram. Message—"Ten reasons why Witherspoon should be first-string quarterback. First, Witherspoon is resourceful. Witness this approach." Each day the coach received a similar Telegraphic Tribute to the Sterling Qualities and Gridiron Prowess of Witherspoon, ending on the tenth day with "Witherspoon knows the T-formation to a T. Incidentally, his father is considering endowing a new gymnasium."

Who started Saturday? Our Boy, naturally. Did very well, too. Played all season. "Just one of my Finds," the coach murmurs modestly, when found in the New Athletics Building.

Nothing puts a point across as convincingly as a Telegram... whether you're trying to get a "Yes" out of a Coach, a Chick or that Checkbook at home. (Fact—when it comes to prying Pesos out of a Recalcitrant Parent, a Telegram is just about the world's Best Crow-bar). Whatever your message, it'll Mean More when it goes on the Yellow Blank.
