

Women Told to Beat Fate in Baiting Mate

By INEZ ALTHOUSE

This is not an "Advice to the Lovelorn" column, nor is it a dissertation on "The Happy Hunting Grounds of Matrimony." It is merely a condensation of an article we read lately entitled "How to Get a Man."

There is an old saying that a girl must chase a man 'til he catches her. This may be all right if you've been dating a track star, but it can get awfully tiring after a while. Besides, he might give up.

Sororities Hold Parties Tonight

Sorority rushees will be doing extensive traveling tonight as they visit parties ranging from Delta Delta Delta's "Under the Sea" to Kappa Delta's "Hell to Heaven." Alpha Gamma Delta's "Greek Party" and Kappa Kappa Gamma's "Night in Chinatown."

After stops at Kappa Alpha Theta's "KAT Carnival" and Chi Omega's "Chi O Big Top," a mythical rushee hitting all the highspots might leave from Alpha Xi Delta's "Wharf Party" "Aboard the US DG," (courtesy of Delta Gamma) to attend Alpha Omicron Pi's "Plantation Shrimp Party."

Staying in the rebel country she would visit with the Gamma Phi Betas under "Southern Starlight." Then heading west she'd stop at the Beta Sigma Omicron "Beta Badlands" and go on to Phi Sigma Sigma's "Blue Golden Nugget Cafe."

Hitting more Indian country our fast-moving rushee would visit Delta Zeta's "DZ Pow Wow." Somewhere along the line she'd meet with Zeta Tau Alpha's "Gypsy Party."

Then off to faraway lands and a chat with "Blue Beard" and the Aye Sees. Going collegiate she'd visit the "Phi Mu Boola Racoon Room." Hitting the world of fantasy after Tri Vi's "Childhood Daze" she would find herself at the "Alpha Chi Omega Doll House."

Finally resting, the travel-weary rushee would watch a fashion show with the Sigma Delta Taus at "A Mademoiselle Party." She might also visit the "Toy Maker's Party" at Alpha Epsilon Phi, Theta Phi Alpha's "Club Tepa" or Alpha Kappa Alpha's "Come as a Song Party."

'Scroll' Chosen As New Name For Hat Group

"Scroll" was selected by the 22 members of the new women's hat society as the name of their group at an organizational meeting Sunday at the home of Mary Jane Wyland, group adviser.

The society made nominations for officers. Elections will be held at 9 p.m. Monday in the WRA room of White Hall.

Scroll was selected as a symbol unifying the new group with Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society.

Scrolls will participate in a pep rally prior to the West Virginia-Penn State football game — and will form an honor guard with Farmi Nous, senior men's hat society, at the game Oct. 31.

Members of Scroll are investigating whether a comparable group exists on a national basis. The group has ordered gray hats with the new scroll emblem in royal blue.

Drinking—

end to the public opinion of collegiate drinking.

The percentage of students drinking more than once a week is probably quite a bit higher than the report indicates. It is also hard to believe only 43 per cent of men students drink no more than once a month.

A survey of 16,000 students and 27 colleges is an admirable task, and the results may be the closest we have to the true picture of college drinking. But college drinking varies with the type and size of school, the average student income, and the age of the student. Surely, only 27 colleges cannot present a true picture, although they may present a fair one.
