

Cathedral Choir To Be Feted In Washington

St. Paul's Cathedral Choir, which will open the Community Concert series Oct. 26 in Schwab Auditorium, has been invited to a tea at the White House Tuesday, Canon L. John Collins, representing the dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, has announced.

The 48-voice group arrived Tuesday in New York on the Cunard liner, Queen Elizabeth. Canon Collins said a two-month tour has been underwritten by former Supreme Court Justice, Owen Roberts.

On its tour the choir, the first English choral group to come to the United States, will pay tribute to 28,000 American servicemen who died in Great Britain during World War II.

In honor of these men, a special chapel is being built in the St. Paul's Cathedral on the site of the Jesus Chapel which was wrecked by the blitz in 1941. It was financed by anonymous contributions amounting to $280,000.

(Continued from page one) move will help efforts of the College to obtain more classroom buildings from the state. Currently the state points to the vacant rooms on Saturday morning as the answer to the classroom and laboratory shortage, they say.

Prior to the present class schedule plan, which was developed at the Annapolis Naval Academy, the College used several plans based both on the five and a half and the five day week.

One was similar to next semester's except that classes were all morning or all afternoon and this was objected to. Another, called the stagger system, had both morning and afternoon meetings in each sequence but was changed because class meetings were on consecutive days.

Candidates for the queen must submit photographs, 5 by 7 inches or larger, at the Student Union desk in Old Main by 5 p.m. Oct. 12. Sponsoring groups may enter one or more coed candidates. Information on the back of the photograph should include the candidate's name, school address, semester, curriculum, and sponsoring organization.

The Homecoming Queen will be introduced Oct. 24 at the alumni luncheon before the Penn State-Texas Christian football game.

Parking Violators Will Get Tickets

Unauthorized cars using the parking lot adjacent to the College golf course will be given parking tickets, according to a recent announcement from the Dean of Men's office. A number of tickets have been given to cars using the golf course and parking in the authorized area.

Violators should be reminded, reported James Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, that for each violation, a ticket will be given. Penalties will no longer depend upon the number of appearances before Tribunal, but the number of offenses, he said.

Grad Students To Be Issued Athletic Tickets

Graduate student season football tickets will be issued to graduate students who have paid $18 fees or who are carrying more than 12 credits this semester, Harold R. Gilbert, assistant director of athletics, has announced.

Tickets will be issued Monday and Tuesday at the Athletic Association office, first floor, Old Main. Students reporting to the office before or after those dates will not receive tickets, Gilbert added.

Graduate students who did not receive undergraduate AA books at registration must show their pink registration receipts. Graduate students who received AA Books must exchange them for graduate tickets.

Tickets will be for seats in the west stands and will admit holders to home football games.
