

Coeds Rediscover Animal Skins In Search for New Fashions

By AL MUNN

Females of the species have been appropriating animal skins for their wardrobes for a good many years. Female apparel in leather heretofore had included articles from hats to shoes and this season adds something new—leather collars.

These leather strips, that look like sun-visors, come in a variety of colors and styles. Ranging from natural tans and browns to vivid greens and purples they are a bit difficult to ignore. Some are even reversible—two collars in one, how about that?

Getting them around the neck sometimes presents a problem. One type has little gros-grain ribbons at each edge and the idea is to tie a pretty bow, like for a baby's bonnet. Another way to secure them is to stick a specially designed safety pin (just ups the cost a little) through two holes and hope the pin doesn't break. Systems of snaps, buttons and clips have also been devised by the manufacturers.

They Shrink

According to girls who have worn them, collars present a few problems. Over a sweater in a warm room they are more than slightly hot and not at all porous. The only solution is to remove the collar and that just isn't stylish, so the wearer suffers.

One girl claims that her collar started to shrink in a hard rain one afternoon and she almost choked. It was a very embarrassing situation because her blue face didn't match the green collar.

Fads or Fashions?

Women used to have an extremely difficult time trying to buy shoes, belts and purses in exactly the same shade of leather. The shopping tour is now extended another hour matching a collar.

Like a lot of other things, call them fads or fashions, leather collars appeal to a number of women. Wearing the many things required to be well-dressed fortifies females for almost anything, even collars. Well, dogs wear them!

Engagements

Graham-Rahm

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rahm of Elkins Park have announced the engagement of their daughter, Herta, to Mr. John Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Graham of Connessville.

Miss Rahm attended the College.

A former member of Kappa Delta Rho, Xi Sigma Pi, forestry society, Thespians, and LaVie staff, Mr. Graham is presently serving with the Army at Sandia Base, N.M.

They will be married in the spring.

Auerback-Ruttenberg

Mrs. Louis Ruttenberg of Reading announces the engagement of her daughter Hannah to Milton Auerback of Philadelphia. Miss Ruttenberg attended the College and is a member of Sigma Delta Tau. Mr. Auerback was graduated from the College and is a member of Beta Sigma Rho.

Radman-Gross

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Gross of Jeanette announce the engagement of their daughter Rosalind to Daniel Radman of Uniontown.

Miss Gross, a graduate of the College, is a member of Sigma Delta Tau. At present she is teaching in the Jeanette school system. Mr. Radman, also a graduate of the College, is a member of Pi Lambda Phi.

Alpha Phi Omega To Meet Monday

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will hold an open meeting at 8:15 p.m. Monday in 12 Sparks, Gail Bimber, president, has announced.

Men interested in joining the group may attend. Members must be second semester students and have at least a 1.0 All-College average. Past scouting experience is necessary, Bimber said.

Projects to be conducted by the group this semester include soliciting town students for Campus Chest, setting up and taking down the Bloodmobile during a drive Tuesday through Thursday, and working in the infirmary.

Belle Hop Ball Tickets Ready

Tickets for the Belle Hop Ball are on sale now and will be sold until the night of the dance. The informal dance, sponsored by the Hotel Greeter's Association, will be held Oct. 17 in Recreation Hall.

Tickets priced at $2.40 are available at the Hotel Administration office, the Student Union desks in Old Main and West Dorm lounge and from members of the Greeters Club.

Monday is the deadline for returning entry blanks for the Mr. Penn State contest to the HA office. More than twenty contestants have been entered so far, Theo Balbanis, Greeters publicity director, said. Any undergraduate male student sponsored by an organized campus group is eligible for the title.

Mr. Penn State will be crowned by Mrs. Milton Eisenhower at the Belle Hop Ball.

Former Students Get Navy Mention

Four former students of the College have received mention in Navy flight school releases recently.

Donald L. Drake was graduated from pre-flight training at Pensacola, Fla., Samuel W. Hamilton III, has qualified as a carrier pilot at Pensacola, Fla.; John C. Morgan has started instruction in precision air work at Whiting Field, Fla. and Dick D. Allio has started precision work at Pensacola.

Biz School Photos

Seniors in the School of Business must have their pictures taken for the 1954 LaVie at Penn State Photo Shop by 4 p.m. Tuesday, Herman Golomb, editor, has announced.

Freshman Women Learn to Cope With Trials of Late Permissions

By CECILIA JOHNS

This weekend is an eventful one for freshman women. It will be the first time since they have entered Penn State that they will be allowed to "live it up" a bit outside the dorms until 1 a.m.

Most freshman women will probably take this precious first one o'clock on Saturday for the Dungaree Drag.

The one o'clock may seem a real treat to the frosh who has gone without late hours for so long, but it will not be long until she will begin to envy her older friends in the sophomore, junior and senior classes who have the advantage of two one o'clocks per weekend.

The one o'clock may affect the frosh in one of two ways. For some, the evening will be one of constant clock-watching, not out of boredom (we hope), but in determination to make it back to the dorm before zero hour.

Consequently, this coed gives her date the wrong impression, causing both to have a mediocre time. Others, however, will find this release into night life so invigorating that 12:56 a.m. will find them waking to the realization that they have only four minutes to sign in.

The real experience for most freshman women will be watching the weekly 12:59 traffic jam. Overcoming the one o'clock is a major accomplishment. It is a survival of the fittest.

Marriages

Wolfram-Monack

Roseann Monack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Monack of Charleroi, was married to Harold Wolfram of Towson, Md., on May 15.

Mrs. Wolfram was formerly a home economics student at the College and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Mr. Wolfram, now serving with the U.S. Army, was graduated from the College in 1952. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

Wohl-Skwer

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skwer of Philadelphia announce the marriage of their daughter Sally to Jay Wohl of Cleveland, O.

Mrs. Wohl attended the College and is a member of Sigma Delta Tau. Mr. Wohl is a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi. He is now a practicing pharmacist in Cleveland.

Hillel Schedules Weekend Plans

The Graduate Club of Hillel Foundation will hold an organization meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Graduate students and their wives or husbands may attend the meeting.

A folk dance session will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the foundation. Independents' football team tryouts will be held at 2 p.m. on Holmes Field behind Atherton Hall.

The first Hillel Hour broadcast over Station WMAJ will be presented at 7:45 p.m. Thursday. Tryouts will be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

FFA to Initiate Frosh

Future Farmers of America will initiate new agriculture freshmen at 7 p.m. Monday in 100 Horticulture, according to Daryl Heasley, president.

Co-Edits

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta recently pledged Mary May, Jeanne Capozzi, Audrey Brown, Nancy Light, Miriam Rauhauser, Christine Kauffman, Patricia Monzi, Lois Cowden, Barbara Richards, Jane Tressler, Judy Newell, Gayle DeDonis, Rose Marie Mazza, Margaret Ross and Maureen Flannery.

A pizza party was held last night in the suite for new pledges.

Aye Sees

Aye See Colony of Pi Beta Phi recently initiated Constance Anderson, Jacqua Betz, Lois Bean, Elizabeth Bickel, Nancy Bird, Peggy Byrnes, Nancy Coulter, Helen Cunningham, Alice Gardner, Joyce Gardner, Diane Geigle, Sara Higgin, Lynette Jones, Mary McElhaney, Nancy Norling, Mary Packer, Susan Pentz and Nancy Thompson.

Kappa Delta Rho

Kappa Delta Rho recently initiated Robert Thomas, William Groce, Charles Groff and William Shook.

Pledge class officers are Ellsworth Smith, president; George Biemesderfer, vice president; Peter Kiefer, secretary; and Robert Little, treasurer.

Phi Kappa Tau

Recently initiated into Phi Kappa Tau were David Bromley, Duane Bydos, William McCann, Ray Seid, Randolph Smallwood, Daniel Smith and Robert Wolf.

New officers are Ray Seid, caterer; Daniel Smith, rushing chairman; Robert Wolf, social chairman; and Edward Tezekjian Jr.,

Alpha Chi Rho

James Brownlee, John Aniston, Samuel McLaughlin, John Alderdice, and James Williams were recently initiated by Alpha Chi Rho.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta was recently entertained by Alpha Chi Rho at the fraternity house. Skits were performed by both groups and refreshments were served.

Theta Xi

Theta Xi recently initiated David Norris, Dana Taylor, John Callett, Donald Law, Edward Lay, Willard Kline and Charles Mayhew.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Recent initiates of Tau Kappa Epsilon are Gail Bimber, John Klein and Roger Staub.

Penn State Club Mixer Will Be Held Monday

Penn State Club, independent men's social organization, will hold a smoker 7 p.m. Monday in the game room of Hamilton Hall, president Walter Kowalik announced.

New members will be introduced to the club, its activities and members. Movies will also be shown.

The meeting is open to independent men who wish to join.

Delta Sigma Pi to Hold Mixer Tomorrow

Delta Sigma Pi, men's commerce and finance fraternity, will hold a rushing mixer at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Alpha Sigma Phi.

The mixer is open to men who have maintained an All-College average of at least 1.5 and are enrolled in the business curriculum of the Liberal Arts or Business schools.

NSA to Hold Interviews

Interviews for the National Student Association's first screening board will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in 204 Old Main.

Positions are open for two junior and four sophomore members. Conducting the interviews will be the All-College president, NSA chairman, and NSA coordinator.

Blue Jeans Are Style For 'Drag'

Blue jeans will be the official wearing apparel for the Dungaree Drag from 9 to midnight tonight in Recreation Hall. Lynn Christy's Campuseers will play for the dance.

Two 15-foot caricatures of the comic strip characters Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner will be used to carry out a Dogpatch theme.

Al Capp, cartoonist and creator of the Dogpatch family, gave the black and white portraits to Cwens, sophomore women's hat society, which is sponsoring the affair.

In accordance with the Sadie Hawkins tradition in Dogpatch, the dance will be a girl-ask-boy affair.

The two coeds who create the most original corsages for their dates will receive dungarees from the Lee Rider Dungaree Co. Corsages are to be made of fresh vegetables or other available materials.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.50.

Kielar Named To 'News' Post

Evelyn Kielar, eighth semester journalism major, has been named associate editor of "Who's in the News at Penn State" by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary.

Miss Kielar will work with Richard Rau, eighth semester journalism major, who was elected editor by Sigma Delta Chi, men's national professional journalistic fraternity.

Plans were made Tuesday for the Theta Sigma Phi tea Nov. 8. Women journalism majors in the Liberal Arts and Home Economic schools will be invited.

Members of the tea committees are Mary Jameson and Margaret Trolter, invitations; Ilene McKenzie, name tags; Lynn Kahanowitz, refreshments; Eliza Newell, arrangements and Virginia Bowman and Miss Kielar, cleanup. Nancy Gemmill, president, and Grace Shoffstaff, vice president, will pour.

12 College Grads Finish Navy OCS

Twelve College Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps graduates have completed instruction at the Navy's Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I.

They are Blair Smith, Charles Pollock Jr., Donald Mercer, Forrest Fryer, Edwin Smith Jr., Richard Style, Kenneth Haas, William Hopper Jr., John Berry Jr., Robert Bogan, Fred Schoenagel Jr. and William E. Lindsay.

The men have received commissions as ensigns.

More Frosh Socials Considered by Deans

Work on a proposed plan for more freshman socialization is being done by the Dean of Men and Dean of Women's offices.

This plan, if approved, would include exchange dinners plus a program of after-dinner social affairs and discussions for freshmen with members of the faculty, administration and student leaders.

Multiple MacDonalds Mixed Up

Time was when the Smiths and Joneses got all the kidding about their names, got all the wrong mail and phone calls, and perhaps even got the wrong grades on their transcripts. Not so these days: the clan MacDonald has taken over this dubious honor.

Shall we start with the freshmen? Virginia and Janice MacDonald both live in Mac Hall. They are not related. No doubt they get each other's mail, as their mail boxes are side by side. Perhaps they even get some of Ronald MacDonald's misaddressed letters.

Upperclassmen Too

Or maybe if one loses a meal ticket, it gets returned to Beatrice, who lives in Woman's Building, but also eats in the Mac Hall dining room. Nor is Beatrice related to the other MacDonalds.

Bad enough already, but wait and see what happens as the upperclassmen and women move in. Here we find four young ladies enrolled in the School of Home Economics, three of which are MacDonalds and one a McDonald. If they had very different first names, the problem would be easy.

Same Box Numbers

Heavens no, one Mac and the Mc are Marthas, one Martha R. and one Martha P. The other two Macs are Margaret and Miriam. To make it simple for their friends, these coeds are nicknamed Marty, Marcie, Margie and Mimi. (Say that fast!) None of them are even cousins—no relation at all.

Now the dorm postmistresses could surely put the right letters in the right boxes if only the names were similar. But Marcie and Margie have the same mail box number, only one is in Atherton and the other in Simmons.

Solution Sought

Frederick MacDonald probably doesn't have too much trouble being mistaken for Jerome McDonald or Ronald, nor do the girls often get confused with the men. But all of these good people have their last names spelled the other way at least ten times a week.

If any one has any quick and sure solution to this terrible situation, please leave it in my Collegian mailbox. The name is MacDonald, Marcie MacDonald.