415 Donate Blood In Three-Day Drive

By BEV DICKINSON

Four hundred fifteen pints of blood were donated by students in the three-day campus blood drive, according to Jack Huber, liaison representative of the State College Red Cross unit.

Donations yesterday reached 124 pints, the least blood donated in the three days that the Johnstown Red Cross Bloodmobile was stationed at Temporary Union Building. Tuesday donors exceeded the daily goal of 150 pints by six, and donations on Wednesday totaled 135 pints.

West Dorm Dating Code Interpreted

A clarification of the West Dormitory code for chaperoned dating has been made by West Dorm Council President, Ross Clark.

"Although we've had nothing reported requiring action by council, we believe that men in West Dorm living units are under the wrong impression concerning the code," Clark said.

According to the code, women guests may be entertained in the presence of chaperones in McKee, Hamilton, and Irvin Hall and the recreation rooms on level "A" of McKee and Hamilton Halls during the regular semesters, except during the vacation periods.

No women, however, will be permitted in the rooms of men living in the unit areas at any time.

Women guests will not be allowed in any area of the dormitories other than those specifically mentioned in the code. Women guests must enter and leave by the entrance adjacent to the lounges mentioned.

All women guests must leave lounges and recreation rooms by 1 a.m. Friday and Saturdays. Sunday nights women guests must leave by 10 p.m.

Women may not enter these places before 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, and 7 p.m. Fridays. The code is only in effect on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays, during the hours noted, and not on other days.

Violations will be referred to the executive committee of the West Dorm Council. It will consist of the resident counselor adviser and officers of the council. Proper action will be recommended to the student welfare committee.

Froth on Sale Today

The Pennsylvania Week issue of Froth will be on sale today at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Ike Says Completion Of Farm Plan Near

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower told the nation's farmers and consumers tonight the administration's effort to hammer out a solidly based comprehensive farm program is entering its final phase.

Eisenhower promised "the price support principle" will be continued—though possibly in a "radically" revised form.

And he announced he has called a White House meeting of his 18-member Agricultural Advisory Commission with Secretary of Agriculture Benson Oct. 24 "to launch the final phase" of charting a new farm program.

The President's speech was prepared for a nationally broadcast and televised appearance before the Future Farmers of America, meeting in the heart of America's food producing region at a time of drought in many areas and falling farm prices in others.

4 Point Outline
Giving what he described as "a sketchy outline" of what his administration is doing and may do in the future to meet these problems, while protecting the consumer of farm products, Eisenhower said:

1. The federal government will continue "as long as necessary" to aid the drought stricken states, with whose governors he will meet here tomorrow.

2. He will recommend farm law changes to Congress early next year.

3. Secretary of Agriculture and Congress already have "vigorously attacked" the problems of farmers caught in an "economic grinding machine."

4. The basic farm problem is over-production.

Price Support Needed

In his speech to the Future Farmers, holding their Silver Anniversary convention, Eisenhower said existing price control laws could be extended as written, or modified somewhat, or revised "radically in favor of a new program" after they expire at the end of next year.

Cabinet Proposes Pitt Half-Holiday

Cabinet Tables Spring Week Holiday Plan

By TAMMIE BLOOM

A recommendation that spring recess be shortened one day and a one-day holiday be granted for Spring Week Carnival was tabled last night by All-College Cabinet.

George Richards, Spring Week chairman, asked cabinet approval of the recommendation that classes be resumed at 1:10 p.m. April 20 instead of 1:10 p.m. April 21, and that May 12 be declared a holiday for the carnival. The measure was tabled with the consideration that it be brought up in two weeks, after cabinet members discuss the suggestion with groups they represent.

Perkins Named Adviser
If approved, the measure will require approval by the Council of Administration.

Richard's recommendation that Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, be named Spring Week adviser, was passed. Cabinet also approved the suggested eight-member screening committee for the week. Members will include the All-College officers—president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer—and presidents of Interfraternity Council, Association of Independent Men, Leonides, Panhellenic Council, and Women's Student Government Association.

WSGA President Added
The screening committee will review in advance all entries in the carnival and parade. It will be empowered to give one official warning to any group it feels is not conducting itself properly and then close or prevent participation of the entry if the warning fails to produce satisfactory changes.

The Senate Committee on Student Affairs previously approved the proposed faculty adviser and a seven-member screening committee. The WSGA president was added to the list of members before the proposal was presented to cabinet.

In other action by cabinet, two resolutions of the encampment committee on academic honesty presented by Robert Carruthers, committee chairman, were adopted.

The first resolution provided for formation of a permanent committee to implement an honesty program. Members will include the Senate subcommittee on academic honesty, the encampment committee, and any individual needed to make the group representative.

All-College President Richard Lemyre appointed Carruthers chairman of the permanent committee.

The second resolution resolved that immediate action be taken in regard to teaching procedure affecting dishonesty and establishing a system of corrective measures on a graduated scale against individuals involved in academic dishonesty.

Revenge Theme To Pace Rally

A revenge theme will be present in the air at 7 tonight at a pep rally sponsored by Mortar Board and Skull and Bones.

Syracuse trimmed the Lions last year, 25-7, and kept them from possible Bowl bids.

Both the Blue Band and cheerleaders will be present at the rally tonight. Team members will speak.

Approval Given Charter Of Cabinet Secretariat

By PHIL AUSTIN

All-College Cabinet recommended last night that a half-holiday be granted students for the football game with Pittsburgh, Nov. 21.

Cabinet also approved the charter for the Cabinet Secretariat which will replace Cabinet Projects Council.

Approval of the recommendation by the Council of Administration is necessary before the holiday will become official. Under the proposal no Saturday morning classes would be held the day of the game.

The proposal for the half-holiday was originally presented at a meeting of cabinet last week, but was tabled. Members felt it would be improper at that time to grant such a holiday after Cabinet had expressed discontent with the Penn game weekend conduct.

Secretariat Positions Listed

Richard Kirschner, president of the Liberal Arts Student Council, attempted to amend the proposal to warn students that misconduct at Pittsburgh would mean the end of the half-holiday. Robert Smoot, substituting for Junior Class President Joseph Barnett, reminded Kirschner that the 1954-55 and 1955-56 calendars, as approved by the College Senate, do not schedule a half-holiday.

Under the secretariat charter, the All-College vice president will serve as executive secretary. The executive secretary will appoint the assistant to the executive secretary, and supervisors of secretariat bureaus. Secretaries of the bureaus will be appointed by bureau supervisors.

Under present plans, bureaus will be set up for National Student Association, surveys, public relations and information, and administrative assistant committees.

Bureau Supervisor's Duties

The executive secretary will assign projects to proper bureaus and assign members of the staff to the bureaus. The assistant to the executive secretary will maintain secretariat membership rolls and administer clerical work of the secretariat.

The bureau supervisor will administer and execute projects as

Tomorrow Set as End Of Customs

By PEGGY McCLAIN

Freshman customs will end tomorrow during half-time at the Penn State-Syracuse football game, Freshman Joint Customs Board announced last night.

A special program designating the official end of customs will be given by the Blue Band, Hummel Fishburn, head of the music department, said.

According to the board, freshmen must wear dinks to the game tomorrow. Blue Key, junior men's hat society, will enforce this regulation at the gates to Beaver Field.

List Four Points

The board last night expressed extreme dissatisfaction with this year's custom program. They said failure was due to four factors:

1. Freshmen are not interested in customs regulations. This was illustrated by the large number of violations.
2. Upperclassmen are not interested in customs. This was shown by lax enforcement.
3. Hat societies were, at times, crude in their means of enforcement.
4. Customs were enforced mainly by student leaders and not the majority of students.

Possible revision in the customs program will be studied by the board this year for recommendation to Cabinet in the spring.

5 Homecoming Queen Finalists Selected

Five finalists for the 1953 Thespian Homecoming Queen have been selected, according to Alex Gregal and Jane Larpenteur, co-chairmen of the Thespian Homecoming Queen Contest committee.

Those chosen are Nancy Hagy, Juliana Fees, Louise Justin, Jane Mason, and Joan Ziegler.

The five finalists were selected from 94 entries by Ray Fortunato, director of Thespians, Ridge Riley, alumni secretary, Louis Bell, director of public information, and Frank Morriss, director of personal services.

The Homecoming Queen will be crowned at the first Thespian show, "Let's Face It," on Thursday, after being selected from the finalists by the College football team. Before the Penn State-Texas Christian game Oct. 24, she will be introduced at the Alumni Luncheon.

Miss Hagy, a seventh semester elementary education major, is being sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta.

Phi Delta Theta is the sponsor of Miss Fees who is a seventh semester education major.

A fifth semester pre-medical major, Miss Justin is sponsored by Kappa Kappa Gamma. Jane Mason is sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon. She is a seventh semester student majoring in home economics.

Sigma Chi is sponsoring Joan Ziegler, a third semester elementary education major.

Persons who have submitted photographs for the contest may pick them up at the Student Union desk in Old Main as soon as possible, according to George Donovan, Student Union director.
