

College Accepts Library Wing

The College has officially accepted the new wing of the Pattee Library, Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plan, announced yesterday.

The $1.2 million unit was turned over to the College yesterday by the General State Authority after the remaining minor construction adjustments were approved.

The General State Authority was created for the purpose of borrowing money from the national government for public works construction over the constitutional debt limit. The money is usually repaid by rentals from the projects constructed.

Stocks to Be Utilized

When the wing will be opened for general use is not known because of an equipment delay. The equipment order for furniture has been filed for over a year, Ralph W. McComb, librarian, said, but when it will be filled is not known at this time. McComb said the equipment delay could possibly hold up the opening until February.

Part of the stack area will be utilized this week, McComb said, and the remainder of the building will be put to use as the equipment arrives.

Even when new areas of the wing are open, they may have to be operated on a limited scale because of personnel problems, McComb said.

Triple Working Capacity

The new wing will not be formally dedicated. After the unit is sufficiently equipped, there will be a series of three open houses in which the faculty, students, and townspeople will be invited on successive days. The open houses will probably be held in February, McComb said, after the bulk of the equipment has been installed.

Work on the book stack area, which will swell the total capacity to nearly 600,000 volumes, will start this week. With the completion of the installation of tie stacks, the total working capacity will be tripled. The completion of the stack-installation is expected this week and the moving of books will begin immediately.

The main circulation desk will be moved to the east room on the second floor and the card catalogue files will remain in their present location. The new circulation desk will present the largest "bottleneck" in moving. The new desk has been ordered, McComb said, but delivery is not expected until as late as February. When installed, the desk will be provided with a pneumatic tube system that will transport requests for books. A conveyor will automatically carry the books to the desk. Two book lifts also will be added to handle larger numbers of books.

Blue Key Forms Due Tomorrow

The deadline for applications to Blue Key, junior men's hat society, has been extended to tomorrow, John Speer, president, announced.

Fifth semester men having a 1 or better All-College average are eligible. Letters of application, to be addressed to Speer and turned in at the Student Union desk in Old Main, should include the applicant's name, college address, curriculum, All-College average, and a list of college activities.

Membership is not limited to athletic team managers.

Ed Council Meets Tonight

Education Student Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in 206 Burrows.

The Pilgrims were bound for New York when they landed at Plymouth by mistake.

California Vacation
By Sea By Air
Literature Reservations Tickets

STATE COLLEGE TRAVEL BUREAU
State College, Pa. - Phone 7136
Louetta Newbaum Jo Gettig

New Fee System To Be Repeated Spring Semester

The new system of paying fees before registration was successful and will be repeated in the spring, according to David C. Hogan, College bursar.

Seventy five hundred of the 11,529 students who registered on campus paid fees by mail before returning to the College this fall. A remaining 2500 paid fees immediately before registering at Recreation Hall.

Because the majority of students paid for the semester by mail, the system proved successful, Hogan said. He added that everything went on schedule, and very few students registered late due to tardy paying of fees. The unified system facilitated early payment, and caused less confusion and better handling of fees in the Bursar's office, he said.

C. O. Williams, dean of admissions and registrar, said requiring payment of fees before registration had "all around better results" than the old system of paying fees three weeks after registration. He added that both parents and the faculty were pleased at the results of the new system.

Steering Committee Names Due Tomorrow

Names of the steering committees of Lion and State parties must be submitted to the All-College elections committee by tomorrow, according to Edwin Kohn, elections committee chairman.

The elections committee will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 204 Old Main.

Ward Leaders To Be Elected

Election of Town Council ward chairmen of the Association of Independent Men will begin at 7 tonight in 103 Willard and continue tomorrow and Thursday nights.

Over 2300 postcards have been distributed to independent men living in the town area to explain the procedure of the meetings. Men interested in running for ward chairmanships who did not receive postcards may report to 103 Willard at 7 tonight, Byron Fielding, AIM elections committee chairman, said.

Twenty representatives of the various town wards must be elected at these meetings, Chester Cherwinski, Town Council president, reported.

Alpha Nu to Sponsor Smoker for Candidates

Alpha Nu, astronomy society, will hold a smoker for candidates at 8 tonight at Triangle fraternity.

A brief business meeting will be held at 7:15 p.m. at the fraternity. The group will discuss general plans for the school term and the observatory program.

Ed Senior Photos

Seniors in the School of Education may have pictures taken for LaVie today through Oct. 27 at the Penn State Photo Shop.

Chest to Aid Education Project

World University Service, sponsors of an international education program, is one of the 11 charities which will benefit from the 1953-54 Campus Chest drive.

Student contributors will have an opportunity to indicate how much of their Campus Chest contributions they wish to give to WUS. Twenty per cent of any undesignated funds will also be given to WUS.

Other charities benefiting from the drive will be the Penn State Christian Association, Penn State student scholarship fund, Women's Student Government Association Christmas fund, the State College Welfare fund, American Heart Association, Cerebral Palsy Association of Pennsylvania, Salvation Army, American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, and the Damon Runyon Cancer fund.

In its program, WUS encourages and supports all efforts to meet the needs of universities to make them centers of national and international life.

The basis of WUS activities is a program of mutual assistance to develop a broad international relationship.

Approximately $1 million is necessary to promote WUS activities. The extent of WUS projects is determined by all recent information on student and university needs.

Many types of projects benefit from WUS activities. Assistance is given to improving living conditions, health services, educational equipment and refugee services. WUS also promotes research, seminars, conferences, educational travel and scholarships.

IFC Fall Rushing To Begin Oct. 27

The Interfraternity Council fall rushing program will get underway next week with the showing of the film "A Toast to Your Brother" at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Oct. 27 and 28, in 119 Osmond.

The IFC sponsors the fall rushing program each year to orient new students to the Penn State fraternity system and to arouse

Riding Club Announces Show Winners

Approximately thirty members of the Penn State Riding Club took part in the first of a series of "little" horse shows Sunday afternoon at the College riding grounds.

James LaRosa, riding instructor at Grier School, served as judge for the four horsemanship classes and one open jumping class.

Results are as follows: intermediate horsemanship; first, Alan Cleland, second, Elizabeth Maule; third, Diane Hallock; fourth, Margaret Powell.

Intermediate horsemanship over jumps: first, Elmer Milton; second, Robert Milton; third, Kaye Vinson; fourth, Alan Spencer.

Advanced horsemanship: first, Edwin Brodnax; second, Nancy Wild; third, Jo Anne Bygate; fourth, Edward Campbell.

Open jumping: first, Edwin Brodnax; second, Geraldine Aquist; third, Thomas Zerbe; fourth, Edward Campbell.

Young GOP Meeting

The executive board of the Young Republican Club will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Young Republican campaign headquarters, 222 E. Beaver avenue.

interest in fraternity membership. "A Toast to Your Brother" depicts life in the average fraternity and the pledging and social activities of fraternities. According to Bruce Coble, chairman of the IFC rushing committee, the movie will help to dispel any false impressions new students have about fraternities.

Magazine to be Given

The second phase of the rushing program will be open houses in each fraternity from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Nov. 1. At this time new students will have an opportunity to visit any houses in which they are particularly interested. Members of each fraternity will be on hand to show visitors through the various houses and to answer questions.

The third phase of the rushing program will be the distribution of the magazine "Penn State Fraternities" sometime during the first week of November.

The magazine explains the Penn State fraternity system and includes a picture and information on each fraternity. It also contains a copy of the IFC pledging code.

Preference Cards Used

A letter explaining the purpose of the rushing program and preferential reply cards will also be enclosed in the magazine, Coble said. The preferential cards will be used by men to show preference and interest in a particular fraternity or group of fraternities.

The cards will be compiled into a master list for distribution to all fraternities for use in their individual rushing programs. Men whose names appear on this list will be contacted and rushed by various fraternities.

A list of fraternity rushing chairmen will also be compiled and sent to dormitory counselors, Coble said. Independent men may then contact individual fraternity rushing chairman.

Frakes to Address Belle Lettres Tonight

Dr. James R. Frakes, instructor of English composition, will address the Belle Lettres Club at 7 tonight in the northeast lounge of Atherton Hall.

He will discuss "Ring Lardner, Debunker."

Watch for the Lucky Matric Number

Two free tickets to "Let's Face It" will be given to the persons whose matric number appears in Collegian advertisements today through Thursday. Winners can pick up tickets for Thursday or Friday nights' performance at the Student Union Desk in Old Main.

KAMPUS

KRAZE...

The all-purpose stars

of your winter

wardrobe - - chic, easy-

to-laundry blouses.

We've got all styles in all colors - checks, stripes, and plaids, too!

And they're only $2.95 - $7.95

Clearfield's

... fashion center in State College

★ Gals
★ Songs
★ Gags

"LET'S FACE IT"

A Musical Comedy Revue

Presented by Penn State Thespians

Thurs., Fri., Sat., Oct. 22, 23, 24

HOME COMING WEEKEND

Schwab Auditorium

Curtain Time 8 p.m.

Get Your Ticket Today at Student Union Desk

"LET'S FACE IT!"

Let's face it, you've had it, if you miss it