

Lion Runners Beat 'Has Beens', 27-28

By HERM WEISKOPF

Saturday there was a notice on the bulletin board in the locker room of Rec Hall which read, "Today the varsity cross-country team will run against the Has Beens and Was Nots."

The "Has Beens," composed of such topflight stars as Bill Ashenfelter and Curt Stone, upheld the honor of the alumni and proved that their title was a misnomer. Although the ex-Penn State harriers lost by the narrowest possible score, 27-28, they never lost the good humor that they brought with them and which prevailed throughout the meet.

An unexpectedly large crowd voiced its approval when Olympians Ashenfelter and Stone crossed the finish line deadlocked for first with a time of 20:22. Varsity runners Lamont Smith, Doug Moorhead, and Jim Hamill took the next three positions. Their times were 20:30, 21:14, and 21:26 respectively.

Ashenfelter, Stone, and Don Austin were in the lead at the two-mile post. Ash was clocked at 4:33, while Stone and Austin were five seconds behind him. Austin was the only Nittany runner in the first three at that point. Ashenfelter increased his lead at the two-mile marker when he was timed in 9:50. Stone crossed at 9:57. Then came three Lion stalwarts, Jim Hamill, 10:13, and Lamont Smith and Doug Moorhead at 10:04.

Long-legged Bill Ashenfelter had his lead cut by Stone as the runners swept past the three mile post only one second apart. The bespectacled Stone caught Ash a little before the three-and-one-half-mile point and from there they raced side-by-side to the finish line and a hearty ovation.

After the Lions nailed down the next three berths Johnny St. Clair came home sixth for the "rocking chair runners." The Nittanies then captured the following five slots to put the victory in the bag.

Other alumni harriers who competed were Bob Freebairn, 12th, Bob Parsons, 13th, and Al Porto, 15th. Horace Ashenfelter was unable to compete. He had accepted an invitation to be a speaker on Saturday night. Red Hollen, who injured his foot in the Cornell meet Oct. 10, was the only varsity runner who did not compete.

Deception, Danser's Block Aid Moore's Touchdown Scribes Lead Coaches in Pigskin Poll

State's end, Jesse Arnelle, recovered Sam Alexander's fumble to start the Lions off on another TD. With Blockson and Moore carrying the pigskin State had the ball on Syracuse's eight yard line. Rados completed a pass to co-captain Don Malinak for four. Rados called time with fourth down and four yards to go for a possible TD. Engle's call from the bench led to the most beautifully executed play seen at Beaver Field in a long time.

After an exchange of punts, Syracuse had to acknowledge the kicking formation once more. This time, however, DeFalco stepped in front of Ed Albright's kick. The ball landed just a few feet away from him, but the ever-alert Garrity picked up the ball and scored. Garrity's extra point was wide.

Bruce Yancey endeavored to put Syracuse ahead with his passing attack. On his third attempt Engle's outstanding defensive and offensive star, Moore, intercepted his pass on State's 12 and scampered up the sidelines. He was finally stopped out of bounds on the Orange 40. So was Syracuse. The final reading, 20-14.

Fencing Club to Meet

The Fencing Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in the northeastern corridor of Recreation Hall. Interested students may attend.

Sports Editor Sam Procopio has forged into the lead in the Daily Collegian football prediction contest as a result of Saturday's collegiate football action. Procopio correctly picked 11 of 15 games listed in this week's contest to bring his overall total to 46 right, nine wrong, and five ties, a .776 percentage. Tie games are counted as misses in the contest.

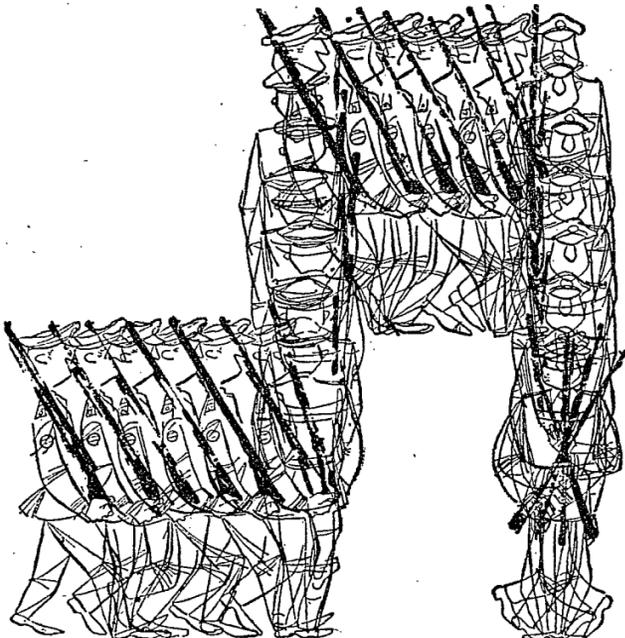

Procopio jumped ahead of Assistant Sports Editor Dick McDowell and the Penn State football coaches. The three were deadlocked in first place prior to Saturday. McDowell guessed ten games correctly Saturday. His overall total now stands at 45-10-5, one game behind Procopio.

The coaches, who were led Saturday by swami Al Michaels, slipped badly, predicting only eight games correctly. Rip Engle's staff is now tied in third place with staff writer Herm Weiskopf, who hit ten in Saturday's contest. Both hold .716 percentages and overall totals of 14-12-5.

All four contestants missed the Alabama-Tennessee, and the Yale-Cornell games Saturday since both contests ended in ties. It was a hectic weekend of close contests and upsets. Four games ended with one-point margins. This was the fourth week of the contest. Grid pickings will be published every Saturday.

The standings:

1. Procopio, 49-9-5 (.776)
2. McDowell, 45-10-5 (.750)
3. Coaches, Weiskopf (tie), 43-12-5 (.716)

What's buzzin', Cousin?

A sophomore at a midwestern college was bothered by buzzing in his ears and headaches. He went to doctor after doctor ... had his appendix and tonsils removed ... his teeth pulled. But nothing helped: Finally, the doctors gave up and told him he had only 6 months to live.

The young fellow decided to "live it up" for his last 6 months. First, he went to his college sportswear shop for the smartest sport shirts money could buy. Naturally, he chose Van Heusen's VAN GAB.

"VAN GAB is completely washable," beamed the salesman. "See the saddle-stitched trim about the collar and pockets. Feel the silky texture of the fabric. And only $5.95. With a 15 neck like yours, I suggest a Medium size."

"Don't waste my time," snapped the fellow. "Give me one of each of the 18 smart solid colors. Size 14."

"But sir," gasped the salesman, "your neck is much larger than a 14. You need at least a 15."

"I've worn a 14 all my life, and I don't feel like changing now," replied the youngster, greatly annoyed.

"Okay," muttered the salesman. "But I warn you, that tight collar will give you buzzing in the ears and headaches!"
