

Weather—
Fair and Warm

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Spring Carnival
Senate Action—
See Page 4

VOL. 53, No. 25

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21, 1953

FIVE CENTS

ONE OF THESE five finalists will reign at Saturday's game against Texas Christian University as 1953 Homecoming Queen. The candidates, left to right, are Juliana Fees, Nancy Hagy, Jane Mason, Louise Justin and Joan

Ziegler. The queen was chosen Monday night in a secret ballot by the football squad. She will be crowned at the Thespian show, "Let's Face It," 8 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

Football Team Selects Queen

The Nittany Lion football team voted Monday night by secret ballot for the 1953 Homecoming Queen.

Each of the five finalists was interviewed before the balloting.

The candidates for queen are Louise Justin, Nancy Hagy, Jane Mason, Juliana Fees and Joan Ziegler.

Each candidate was presented to the team and asked to give her name, curriculum, hobbies and her opinion of the team.

The Homecoming Queen will be crowned at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the first performance of the Thespian show "Let's Face It." She will also be presented at the Friday and Saturday shows. The other four finalists will serve as members of her court.

The queen and her court will attend the alumni luncheon in Recreation Hall before the game Saturday. They will also participate in halftime activities with the Blue Band at the game.

A capacity crowd of between 25,000 and 28,000 is expected at Saturday's Texas Christian-Penn State football game according to the Athletic Association office. Harold C. Gilbert, assistant director of athletics, said yesterday that there will be a "full house" if the good weather continues.

Only end zone and east stand tickets remained on sale yesterday. About 2000 tickets at $3.60 are still available for the game.

Ross B. Lehman, assistant executive secretary of the Alumni Association, said yesterday that plans for the large Homecoming crowd are well under way. Registration for alumni will begin at 1:30 p.m. Friday in Recreation Hall and will continue Saturday morning.

Other events planned for the Homecoming weekend include an alumni golf tournament Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, a pre-game alumni luncheon in Rec Hall, and a cider party Saturday night in the West Dorm lounge.

The Homecoming Queen and her court will be introduced to the alumni at the luncheon Saturday along with Richard Lemyre, All-College president; Thomas Schott, Interfraternity Council president; Joe Somers, Association of Independent Men president and Nancy D. White, Women's Student Government Association president.

State Party to Conduct Workshops Tomorrow

The State party will conduct workshops at 7 p.m. tomorrow and Oct. 29 in Willard Hall under the direction of John Fink, all-College clique treasurer.

Co-chairmen of the party's ten committees will meet with members to plan the campaign for freshman and sophomore class elections Nov. 12, according to Kenneth White, all-College clique chairman.

Dance to Feature Football Award

The presentation of a cup to the winner of the Penn State-Texas Christian University game will inaugurate a new tradition between the rivals Saturday.

The 21-inch loving cup will be presented during intermission time at the Autumn Ball by the and Leonides; independent women's organization, on behalf of the College. The organizations will sponsor the annual Homecoming dance from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday in Recreation Hall.

The names of the participating colleges, scores, and dates of the games played will be inscribed on the bronze cup, Lavanche Leith, co-chairman of the dance, reported.

Gerry Kehler's band and two vocalists will perform at the informal ball. Cider will be served.

Real trees, colored spotlights and many-colored fall leaves will highlight the autumn theme of the ball. Rec Hall will be covered with a ceiling of crepe paper.

A surprise feature will be the unveiling of the "Tenth Wonder of the World."

Tickets for the ball are now on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main, and may be obtained from any elected representative in AIM or Leonides. The price is $2.50 per couple.

Nittany Council Elects Steindell

Richard Steindell, seventh semester commerce major, was elected Nittany Council president at elections Monday night.

Other officers elected are Donald Ruland, vice president; James Lloyd, secretary; and Donald France, treasurer.

Joe Somers, president of the Association of Independent Men, explained the AIM Judicial Board of Review and its powers.

Somers pointed out the new AIM reorganization plan and urged members of the council to get behind AIM to make the coming year a more successful one.

Two men from the Nittany area will be appointed to serve on the review board.

AIM Board Sets Meeting Tonight

Area representatives from dormitory living units and town areas will attend a meeting of the Association of Independent Men Board of Governors at 7:30 tonight in 119 Osmond to discuss possible revision of the present AIM constitution and elect a treasurer.

Other business on the agenda, president Joseph Somers said, will include selection of a delegate to a coming National Independent Student Association, discussion of Campus Chest solicitations, and reports from the Autumn Ball and Dink Debut dance committees.

UN to Hold Israeli Inquiry

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—The UN Security Council decided today to inquire fully into Arab-Israeli border incidents including the recent killings at Kibya, Jordan.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., American delegate, told the council the United States is disturbed by reports of truce violations along the border. He said the council must act if these reports are confirmed by Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, Denmark, chief of staff of the truce supervision organization in Palestine, who is coming here to report on the situation.

"Nations should not take the law into their hands," Lodge said. A raid last Wednesday by Israelis on the Jordan village of Kibya killed 66 Arabs. Jordan charged the raid was carried out by Israeli armed forces but Israel denied its army was involved. Israel said the raid was in retaliation for the killing by Arabs of

Anonymous Gift To Chapel Fund Totals $50,000

The receipt of $50,000 by the Penn State Foundation from an anonymous donor has brought the total of the All-Faith Chapel fund to approximately $90,000 and given rise to hopes that construction on the first unit may soon be started.

An additional allocation of $20,000 from undesignated funds of the foundation's first annual alumni financial program, plus this gift, have raised the total to a point where it now represents nearly one-half of the expected cost of the first unit.

The first unit will be the smallest and therefore the least expensive. Plans for this unit have not yet been released.

$5000 Gift Received

President Milton S. Eisenhower has already revealed that it is the College's wish to design the chapel so that it will be immediately useful for many types of religious activities, such as personal devotions, weddings and small religious exercises. As such, he said, it will eventually serve as one unit of a larger all-faith structure.

The acknowledgment of the receipt of the gift and the announcement of the $20,000 contribution from undesignated funds was made by W. W. Sieg, chairman of the foundation's board of directors. He said it came as the result of a weekend meeting of the Board of Trustees at which the executive committee acted favorably on the foundation's recommendations.

Also included in present total of $90,000 are an earlier anonymous gift of $5000, alumni contributions specifically directed to the chapel fund, and other small sums raised in Chapel collections last year and this year.

Scholarships Established

Other action by the executive committee included the approval of a $50,000 appropriation towards the furnishings of the new Student Union Building and the authorizing of the establishment of an alumni memorial scholarship fund.

The purpose of the latter is to provide a means to administer annual Alumni Fund gifts of all sizes for scholarships. Some $8000 has already been set aside for scholarships and will be administered by a newly-established committee consisting of the director of student affairs, dean of admissions, dean of men, dean of women, and executive secretary of the Penn State Alumni Association.

Awards from the fund, which is dedicated to the memory of those alumni who gave their lives in defense of their country, will be made to members of the upper classes on the basis of need, scholastic record and extra-curricular activities. Freshmen recipients

(Continued on page eight)

Construction Underway In Old Main

Construction of a new conference room in the northern part of the second floor lounge in Old Main has been started.

Plans, as revealed by Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, call for an increase in space for meetings of College and student groups. It will also enable 201 Old Main, the present conference room, to be converted into additional space for the President's office, he said.

Approximately one-third of the present lounge will be partitioned off from the rest of the room, and a new lighting system will be installed, he explained. He was unable to give an estimate of the cost, however, but said it would be small.

Room 201, now used for conferences, will become the entrance room for persons wanting to see President Milton S. Eisenhower and C. S. Wyand, executive assistant to the president, Kenworthy said. The present entrance room, 203, will still be used for the offices of the provost, the director of student affairs, and the senatorial scholarships secretary, he added.

Groups which will meet in the new room include All-College Cabinet, Student Tribunal, Senate committees, the Board of Trustees, and the board's executive committee. President Eisenhower will hold conferences there.

The rest of the lounge will be retained as a place for students and College visitors to relax and study, Kenworthy said. It will be available, as before, for functions such as All-College elections.

IFC to Meet Tonight

Interfraternity Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in 219 Electrical Engineering.