Panhel Modifies 'Strict Silence' During Rushing

Panhellenic Council has approved an amendment to the rushing code designed to modify the "strict silence" period formerly in effect during informal rushing.

The amendment states, "If there are three sororities represented in a conversation group, a sorority woman may talk to a rushee."

During formal rushing this fall the only conversation permitted between rushee and sorority woman was a greeting of "Hello."

Janet Melzer, Panhel rushing chairman, announced that according to a national Panhellenic rule, if a girl pledges a sorority it is the responsibility of the sorority to submit the name of the girl to the Panhellenic Council president. She will then announce it at the next meeting.

Miss Melzer also clarified the sorority quota system. According to another national rule, any woman who is a matriculated student at the college where she was initiated into a sorority must be counted as a member of her chapter even if she does not pay dues or attend meetings. Pledges also come under this quota.

Ellen Wandel, council president, appointed Marie Kean, Nina Finkle and Carole Avery to the coordinating committee of Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils. The committee will consider the possibility of changing the type of Christmas entertainment conducted by sororities and fraternities for underprivileged children.

Mary Jo Heckman and Eleanor Moran were appointed to represent the council on the All-College Secretariat.

Aye Sees, Kappas To Play Football In Powder Bowl

A touch football game Oct. 31 between Kappa Kappa Gamma and Aye Sees sororities will mark the first time in the history of the College that women have been allowed to play on Beaver Field.

The game, which will be played in conventional football style except for tackling, originated here because of similar contests between the two sororities at Ohio State and other colleges, according to Frances Black, general chairman for the Kappas.

Tickets for the Powder Bowl game will go on sale next week for 25 cents at the Corner Room and in front of Carnegie Hall.

Profits will go to the Campus Chest.

Anderson to Speak At Joint Meeting

Dr. John Anderson, professor of philosophy, will discuss "Oriental Views on the Nature of Insight" at a joint meeting of the Young Friends and Young Unitarians at 6:15 p.m. Sunday in 304 Old Main.

His speech will be the second in a series of talks sponsored by the Young Friends.

The meeting is open to the public.

Cosmopolitan Club To Meet Sunday

The Cosmopolitan Club will hold a "Native Costume" party at 3 p.m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. Philip X. Rice, 829 N. Allen street.

The club was organized to promote universal understanding through friendly discussions and meetings. Membership is open to foreign students and townspeople.

Harnett Gets New Post

Dr. Arthur L. Harnett Jr., professor of physical education, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania division of the American Cancer Society.

Slavonic Club to Meet

Korean Clothes Drive Continues

Student organizations wishing to donate clothing and bedding to the State College in Korea Week clothing drive may take donations today and tomorrow to the Old Print Shop, located in the basement room next to Woodring's Floral Shop on E. Beaver avenue.

The drive is co-sponsored by Phi Kappa Psi and Chi Omega. Donations will also be collected today and tomorrow from dormitories and living units upon student request to Frank Derk, at Phi Kappa Psi.

Items needed are blankets, sweaters, jackets, socks, heavy trousers and dresses. Donations should be in such condition that they can be used after they reach Korea, co-chairmen Thomas Eastland and Mary Selig said.

A wall plaque will be presented to the student organization contributing the largest amount of clothing.

Thru the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

Since co-education is the greatest thing since night baseball, we're even going to let today's suggestions be for the femmes and males alike, so you'll know just what ETHEL'S has for you when gift-giving time rolls around.

Save that gray hair for middle-age

... and don't fret and fuss over what to give that guy for his birthday, because choosing something he'll cherish can be as enjoyable as a moonlit night at ETHEL'S. For him she's got the finest in jewelry—cufflinks and tie clasps that even your blue-books can't surpass in originality. They're copper and old silver, modern and unique, and come in suede, draw-stringed pouches that can double for chewing tobacco or gold nuggets (dealer's choice). If he always looks as though a pipe is as much a part of him as his nose, we think that a tartan-plaid, plastic lined tobacco pouch is as ivy as you can get. Or set him aglow with a Ronson or Ash lighter that's handsome and handy.

No need for ulcers, boys, here's the right medicine ...

"I love you honey, even if I do spend all my extra hours in chem lab," can always be backed up by an appropriate gift. Instead of using your pockets for her equipment, why not get her an evening clutch bag in taffeta, leather or velvet—fitted with gold compacts and combs. No, you won't need to cash another check this month because ETHEL'S has considered your wallet. Hey, that's an idea, an imported leather wallet, ideal for your picture and her money. Have it monogrammed right there, all for the same price.

The best part is the thank you

This is only a smattering of what you'll find at ETHEL'S because she's got the most fabulous selection. A feature attraction is the knack they have there for boxing and wrapping, they're so darn pretty, you almost hate to unwrap them.
