

Juniors Seek Varied Talent

Is there a snake charmer in the house?

Alec Beliasov and Carole Avery, co-chairmen of the Junior Week talent show, have been scouting for sword swallows, dancers, singers, musicians and comedians. They promise to provide the necessary snakes and swords to junior entertainers at tryouts 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and Monday nights in 405 Old Main.

The talent show, to be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 4 in the Temporary Union Building, will include six acts. Five Junior Prom Queen finalists will be introduced at the show.

An engraved cup and a ticket for the prom Nov. 6 will be presented to the winning performer. Second and third prizes will be tickets for the dance.

Kidd Blasts--

"The advisory council of the party shall consist of all former Lion Party candidates and former party chairman, vice chairmen, secretaries and financial managers."

In the present constitution, the clique chairman may appoint ten representatives-at-large with the consent of the vice chairman and secretary.

Campus Chest--

(Continued from page one) Tickets to the Junior Prom and corsages will be given to the woman and the man who solicit the highest participation percentages. The program for the drive will be outlined and campaign material distributed to solicitors at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the TUB.

Home Ec Alumni
