FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 54, No. 30

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 28, 1953

FIVE CENTS

Registration For Voting To Continue

Registration for voting at Lion and State party meetings Sunday night will continue today at three campus locations. Freshman and sophomore class officer candidates will be elected at the meetings.

Members of the elections committee will be stationed in West Dorm lounge, the Student Union desk in Old Main, and the Temporary Union Building to register students. Students may register tomorrow and Friday at the SU desk in Old Main. Booths will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Approximately 100 students registered yesterday, Edwin Kohn, chairman of the All-College elections committee, reported.

Students from any class may register to attend clique meetings, Kohn said. It was reported earlier that only freshmen and sophomores could register.

Membership in both cliques is prohibited by the All-College elections code.

Students must present matriculation cards when registering, Kohn said. Names will be recorded on a master list and will be checked by members of the elections committee before students enter the meetings Sunday. Registration cards are different colors for each party, Kohn said.

Nominations will be continued and candidates selected by the cliques to run in the election Nov. 12. Election will probably be held in the lobby of Schwab Auditorium, Kohn said last night, since the lobby on the second floor of Old Main is now being redecorated. Final approval for the use of Schwab has not been given by the College, he added.

Seniors to Air Spring Holiday

Seniors will discuss the recommendation to All-College Cabinet concerning the one-day Spring Week holiday at a senior class meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 119 Osmond, according to Richard Craffon, president.

The recommendation, tabled at the last cabinet meeting, provides that Easter vacation be shortened by one day to make the Spring Week Carnival holiday possible.

Suggestions for the senior class gift, the orchestra for Senior Ball and the possibility of eliminating final examinations for eighth semester students will also be discussed.

Israel Halts Work On River Project

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 27 (AP)—Israel unexpectedly offered today to suspend work on its Jordan River hydroelectric project and promised full cooperation with the Security Council in its effort to settle the issue. Syria complains the project diverts water from Syrian farms.

The council unanimously noted the Israeli offer and asked the UN truce supervision organization in Palestine to check on its execution. It will continue debate on the Syrian-Israeli dispute Friday.

The Israel move came shortly after the UN truce supervisor in Palestine, Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, warned the Council that serious trouble was ahead in Palestine unless cool heads prevailed and the 1949 armistice agreements are strictly followed.

Bennike said the high fever mark in the situation was the Israeli raid on Kibya village, in Jordan. The Mixed Armistice Commission reported this was "cold-blooded murder" of more than 50 Arabs by a half battalion of regular Israeli troops.

"They indicated that tension had increased to breaking point, either locally, in a particular area, or perhaps generally between the

Conduct Warning Given; Councils Report Elections

Nineteen freshmen and four upperclassmen were elected yesterday to posts on seven school councils. All schools, with the exception of Agriculture and Business, held elections Monday and yesterday.

John Iddon, third semester petroleum and natural gas engineering major, Charles Larson, sixth semester ceramics major, and Paul Diefenbach, seventh semester metallurgy major, were elected to the School of Mineral Industries Student Council.

LA Freshman
Freshmen in the Engineering school elected six freshmen, one from each department, to the Engineering School Council. Freshmen and the departments they represent are John McMillin, civil engineering; Harold Willard, aeronautical engineering; Dominick Cossa, electrical engineering; Raymond Burkley, mechanical engineering; Jon Plaut, industrial engineering; and Charles Marshall, architecture and architectural engineering. George Yingling, third semester engineering major sophomore, was elected to the council.

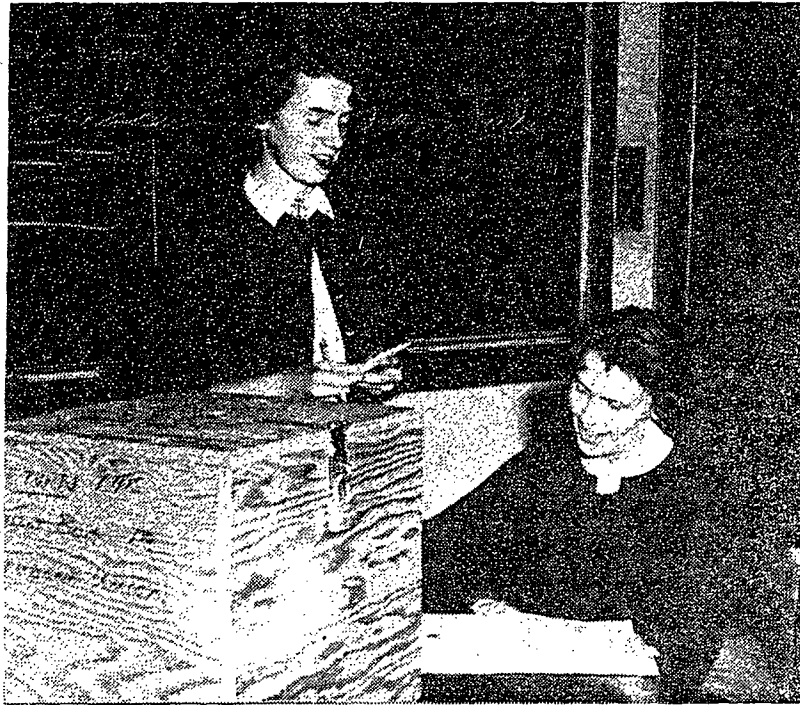

Four liberal arts freshmen, Dorothy DeMay, Stanford Glick, Nancy Jane Swartz and Roberta Weinberg were elected from ten candidates to Liberal Arts School Council.

Home Ec Council
Richard Carson and Joseph Eberly were chosen from 16 candidates to represent the freshmen on the Chem-Phys Student Council.

Forty per cent of the freshman home economics majors voted to select Rheda Berger, Dorothy Glading, Donald Genhart, Sue Hill, and Suzanne Scholl to the Home Economics Student Council.

Barbara Frederick and Richard Boggs were chosen by the Physical Education freshmen to fill seats on the school council. Fifty-four of the eligible 58 freshmen voted in the election.

Education School Council elections also closed yesterday, but results have not been released. Two freshmen will be elected from the candidates.

LA COUNCIL MEMBERS Ann Lederman (left) and Norma Vollmer, tabulate votes yesterday in the lobby of Sparks. Four freshman representatives were elected to the council in the two day balloting.

'Chest' Contributions Reach $1000 Total

By MARY LEE LAUFFER

Contributions totaling almost $1000 were received by Campus Chest by 10 p.m. last night, Myron Enelow, solicitations chairman, announced.

The Association of Independent Men is still leading in the contest for a trophy to be awarded to either AIM, Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, and Leonides.

The award will be made on the basis of the highest participation percentage.

One hundred per cent participation is the goal of the drive which ends today.

Solicitors may return money from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Student Union desk in Old Main until tomorrow.

Group Trophy
One group within each of the above mentioned groups will also receive a trophy. Leading fraternities were Phi Sigma Kappa, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Delta Tau Delta.

Sororities leading were Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Omicron Pi, and Alpha Xi Delta. Kappa Alpha Theta was the only group to have 100 per cent participation so far, Enelow said.

In the independent units, Woman's Building and McKee Hall were leading, he said.

Ann Weber, and Thomas Tomaskovic are leading solicitors. Junior Prom tickets and corsages will be awarded to solicitors with the highest participation percentage.

Awards At Dance
In cases where two or more groups have equal participation, the awards will be made to the groups with the highest average contribution per person.

Awards will be made at a dance to be held from 7 to 10 p.m. tomorrow in the Temporary Union Building. Contributors to the drive will receive tickets. Lynn Christy's orchestra will play.

The drive is an effort to combine all fund-raising campaigns into one. Eleven groups will receive benefits from the drive.

Student contributors may designate the organizations included in the drive to which they wish to give their donation. Undesignated funds will be distributed on a percentage basis.

A recommendation that the Senate disciplinary committee warn in advance that student misconduct will not be tolerated in Pittsburgh was included in confirmation of the Pitt football holiday by the Council of Administration.

The group, in action taken yesterday, also suggested that the disciplinary committee take severe steps against students guilty of property damage or misconduct at the Penn State-Penn game.

They said lists of guests should be obtained from Pittsburgh hotels to enable College officials to identify students there.

The ruling confirms the choice of Nov. 21 as the half holiday provided for in the current calendar. The recommendation of the date was made by All-College Cabinet.

Condemn Misconduct
This year's holiday will be the last in the foreseeable future, according to the calendars released for the next two college years. The half-day recess was eliminated with the scheduling of more Saturday classes.

The action of the council also included:

(1) Strong condemnation of the behavior of a minority of students who were guilty of misconduct and who caused property damage in one or more Philadelphia hotels following the Penn State-Penn football game.

(2) Recommendation that the disciplinary committee deal severely with those who are proved to have been involved in property damage or were guilty of gross misconduct.

Discredit College
(3) Recommendation that the director of student affairs accept the offer of the Pittsburgh Hotel Association to provide lists of hotel guests for the Nov. 21 weekend so that the College may, if there is rowdiness or property damage following the Penn State-Pitt game, quickly identify the students, if any, who are involved.

(4) Suggestion that the disciplinary committee warn students in advance that those who are guilty of misconduct prejudicial to the College will be disciplined as severely as if the incidents had occurred on campus.

Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, in speaking for the group said they believed that

College Presents University Petition

An attorney for the College Monday made formal presentation of the petition that would change the name of the College to the Pennsylvania State University to Judge Ivan Walker in the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County.

The petition, handled by Roy Wilkinson, Jr., of Bellefonte, who represented the College, will be followed by a request for the charter amendment from the State Council of Education. If approval is given by the council, the petition will be returned to Centre County for final action by the court.

In explaining the action, which was announced last week by President of the Board of Trustees Judge James Millholland, a report of the Board said the College was qualified for university status because of graduate work offered and research conducted.

Research Program Large
The College stands third in Pennsylvania (19th in the nation) in the number of master's degrees awarded and second in the state (30th in the nation) in the number of doctorates awarded.

Its research program, dollar-wise, is probably the largest of all Pennsylvania institutions, and the College is the fourth largest
