

12 Will Speak At Career Day

Twelve business leaders will discuss opportunities for students in the various fields of business tomorrow at the Career Day program sponsored by the School of Business.

A one-day management conference will be held on campus tomorrow by the Central Pennsylvania Chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management.

Junior Show Schedules Nine Variety Acts

Because of the variety of entertainers at preliminary try-outs Monday night, nine acts instead of the originally planned six were selected for the Junior Week talent show, Carole Avery, co-chairman, announced yesterday.

The finalists were chosen by Moylan Mills and Michael Rosenfeld, directors of Thespians; Donald Stohl, choreographer for Thespians; and Alec Beliasov and Miss Avery, co-chairmen of the show.

Juniors who will participate in the talent review are Richard Mercer, Robert Yoder, Donald Vaughn and Bruce Coble, ATO quartet; Margaret Troxell, Nancy Phillips and Joan Shaddinger, vocal trio; Harriet Barlow, novelty act; Jeanne Lippy, vocalist; Celeste McDermott, dancer; Robert Little, magician; Ross Lytle, hill-billy comedian; Suzanne Kiel, vocalist; and Ronald Spangenberg, vocalist. Barbara Repscha will be accompanist.

An engraved trophy will be presented to the winning act. The top three performers will receive tickets to the Junior Prom.

Judges for the talent show are Frank J. Simes, dean of men; Pearl O. Weston, dean of women; Ray Fortunato, director of Thespians; and Patricia Thompson, assistant to the dean of women.

No admission will be charged for the show.

Traffic Court Sets Procedure

The Traffic Court last night outlined procedure to be followed in traffic violation cases.

The group indicated that a summons in the form of a postcard will be sent to violators on their first and second violations. The student may plead guilty to the charge and pay the designated fine at the Student Union Desk in Old Main without appearing before the court.

The fines imposed are $1 for the first offense, $2 for the second and on a third offense the violator will be referred to the Dean of Men's office. If the student feels the charge is unjustified he may appear before the court and plead his case.

Refusal of a violator to heed a summons will result in severe disciplinary measures by the Dean of Men. Third offense violators will be notified by a letter and must appear before the board.

Chem Lab Is Accepted By College

Whitmore Laboratory, the new chemistry building near Pond Laboratory, was officially accepted Monday by the College, Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant, has announced.

The building was turned over to the College by the General State Authority. The laboratory had already undergone one previous pre-final construction examination by GSA inspectors before the final examination Monday.

GSA is a state agency created for the purpose of borrowing money from the national government over the constitutional debt limit. The money is paid back usually by rentals collected from the projects constructed.

The laboratory, which is 100 feet by 220 feet, will provide laboratory and classroom facilities for 3600 undergraduate students per week.

The building was named after Frank C. Whitmore, dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics until his death in 1947. He had served since 1929. Previous to the appointment, Dean Whitmore headed the Department of Chemistry at Northwestern University.

In 1945, Dean Whitmore received the highest chemical honor in the country, the Willard Gibbs medal. He was awarded the William N. Nichols medal for outstanding chemical research in 1938.

All for Charity

CAMPUS CHEST solicitor Samuel Kahn explains the operations of the combined charities to freshman David Andre yesterday in a door to door solicitation of McKee Hall.

Students to Conduct Model UN Sessions

Model United Nations Security Council sessions will be held tomorrow and Friday in Atherton lounges, with more than 35 representatives from 11 Pennsylvania colleges.

The meeting, sponsored by the International Relations Club, will include open sessions from 8 to 10 p.m. tomorrow, 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 4 p.m. Friday.

Each school will represent a member country of the Security Council and will prepare resolutions on settlements for "The Korean Question." The delegations will give views in relation to the ideas held by the countries they represent.

Penn State will represent Pakistan; the University of Pittsburgh, Brazil; University of Pennsylvania, Chile; Pennsylvania College for Women, China; Seton Hill College, France; Ursinus College, Greece; Bucknell University, The Netherlands; Lehigh University, United Kingdom; Allegheny College, United States of America; Lafayette College, Russia; and Dickinson College, Turkey.

The model UN Security Council began two years ago at Lehigh. The program was begun to develop interest in the work of the UN and train students for possible participation in governmental affairs, according to Dr. Elton Atwater, associate professor of political science and adviser to the International Relations Club.

Following registration at 5 p.m. Thursday, delegates will attend a closed dinner. Dr. Robert T. Oliver, head of the Department of Speech and four-time adviser to Syngman Rhee, and Dr. Channing Liem, a native of Korea, head of the Department of Political Science at PCW, will speak.

Brode to Address Chemistry Groups

Dr. Wallace Brode, associate director of the National Bureau of Standards, will deliver two lectures at the College today.

He will discuss "Phototropic and Steric Effects on Dyes" at 3:10 p.m. in 112 Osmond and also "Chemical Research and Facilities at the National Bureau of Standards" at 8 tonight in 119 Osmond.

'Juno and the Paycock' Tryouts Set Tonight

Tryouts will be held at 7 tonight in the Little Theater, basement of Old Main, for Players' production of "Juno and the Paycock."

The play will open a six-week run at Center Stage Dec. 11.

IFC Rushing Features Film, Open Houses

The Interfraternity Council rushing program will continue with the showing of the film, "A Toast to Your Brother" at 7 and 8:30 tonight in 119 Osmond.

Open houses in fraternity houses will be held from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday. These open houses will give independent men a chance to see study and recreation facilities available in fraternity houses. Members of each house will be on hand to answer questions.

The Penn State fraternity magazine will be distributed next week as part of the IEC rushing program. The magazine explains the Penn State fraternity system and includes pictures and information of each fraternity.

Bruce Coble, chairman of the IFC rushing committee, announced yesterday that a list containing the names and telephone numbers of fraternity rushing chairmen will soon be sent to resident dormitory counselors. This will enable independent men to contact the fraternities of their choice, Coble said.

Eng Staff of WDFM

The engineering staff of the campus radio station WDFM will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 309 Sparks.

Accounting Panel

Career Day will begin with six panel discussions scheduled for 3 p.m. and a general meeting at 7:30 p.m. in 121 Sparks.

Emil St. Elmo Schnellbacher, assistant director for intelligence and services, Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, will speak at the international economics panel in 214 Willard. Student chairman for the panel is Joseph Polito, seventh semester commerce major.

M. C. Conick and J. Woodrow Mathews, certified public accountants, will head the accounting panel in 10 Sparks. Gerald Young, seventh semester business administration major, will be student co-chairmen.

Sessions Open

The finance and insurance panel will be led in 305 Sparks by B. Carl Whaton, manager of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Co., Harrisburg; H. Paul Abbott, director of male employment, South American Co., Philadelphia; and John R. Truby, cashier of the First National Bank, State College. Student co-chairmen are Kent Clouser and Edward Shields.

Dr. Sheldon C. Tanner, professor of business law and chairman of the Career Day program, said sessions will not be limited to faculty and students of the School of Business.

The one-day management conference will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn. All day sessions will be held beginning at noon.

President Milton S. Eisenhower will open the conference. H. Thomas Hallowell Jr., president of Standard Pressed Steel Co., Jenkintown, will be the dinner speaker.

3 Lambda Chis Still Suffer Flu

Three members of Lambda Chi Alpha remained in the Infirmary yesterday suffering from influenza, according to Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the College Health Service.

Eighteen members of the fraternity were hospitalized Sunday from the illness. No new cases were admitted to the Infirmary yesterday, Dr. Glenn said.

Geography Honorary

Gamma Theta Upsilon, national geography honorary, will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 218 Mineral Science.

Dr. E. Willard Miller, head of the Geography department, will speak and show slides.

FMA Group to Meet

Fraternity Marketing Association representatives, caterers and food buyers will meet at 8 tonight in the Allencrest Tea Room.
