Engle's Gridders Third In East; Army Is First

Although they were defeated by West Virginia Saturday, Coach Rip Engle's gridders had much to say when the NCAA and Lambert trophy committee released their weekly national ratings yesterday.

Penn State, which held the fifth position in the East, rode up to third position (over Pitt and Navy which outranked the Lions last week). Penn State started the season in fourth place, then dropped one notch the second week. It remained there until yesterday. Army tops the East.

W. Virginia Drops to 7th In AP Poll

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—A couple of teams that were rated among the first ten in college football earlier this season get their chances to return to the upper bracket this week.

Notre Dame, with a stronger hold than ever on the top rating it has held all season, plays Pennsylvania at Philadelphia Saturday.

The teams with the brightest chances of knocking off the leaders appear to be Michigan and Ohio State. The latter is rated 16th in this week's Associated Press ranking poll; the former is tied with Southern California for 17th. Only a few weeks ago both were ranked in the first ten.

Michigan meets fourth-ranked Illinois, the only undefeated team left in the Big Ten. Ohio State takes on Michigan State, the team that ran second to Notre Dame until it was bumped off by Purdue a couple of weeks ago and now is ranked fifth.

After last week's decisive victory over Navy, Notre Dame polled the season's strongest first-place vote—90 of 134 votes.

Maryland, with 21 first, continued in second place with 1087 points and Baylor held third with 906. Behind them were Illinois, 782; Michigan State, 553; Georgia Tech, 545; West Virginia, 504; Oklahoma, 499; UCLA, 217; and Duke, 217.

Georgia Tech advanced two places in the ratings and Michigan State, Oklahoma and UCLA one each since last week as West Virginia, only a one-point winner over Penn State, dropped from fifth to seventh.

Maryland and West Virginia figured to win this week's games rather handily from George Washington and Virginia Tech, respectively. UCLA has an open date. The other first-tenners may be in for trouble—possibly more upsets.

The second ten: 11. Stanford 183; 12. Mississippi 180; 13. Minnesota 171; 14. Kentucky 159; 15. Auburn 97; 16. Ohio State 84; 17-18. Michigan and Southern California 79; 19. Texas 51; 20. Alabama 41.

Leonard Stars in Army

Bill Leonard, former Penn State varsity football star, is playing football now for the Fort Monmouth Signal Corp eleven. In a recent game, he scored two touchdowns, one of which was an 80-yard punt return.

Co-captain Tony Rados, who was sixth nationally last week, moved up to third place in the NCAA forward passing ratings. Rados' pass-snatching end, Jim Garrity, is fourth in the nation in the pass receiving department, moving up one position.

Rados 2d in TD's
 Penn State's quarterback sensation, Rados ranks third with 68 completions in 125 attempts for a 51.2 percentage. He is now second in the nation with eight aerial touchdowns. Rados is trailing Zeke Brathowski of Georgia and Bill Garret of Stanford. The ratings, which are listed according to completions, show that Brathowski completed 77 out of 148 attempts while Stanford's ace completed 72 out of 127. Garret leads in the TD department with ten.

Rados is also tenth in total offense. His record in six games reads: 138 plays for 800 yards.

7 Short of Record
 Garrity, who had been behind his leaders by a considerable margin last week, caught seven passes against the Mountaineers Saturday to move up one position. He has caught 26 passes for 292 yards and two touchdowns. He is only seven catches away from the Penn State record set last year by Jesse Arnelle.

Rados and Garrity continue to dominate the East in their respective departments. This combination has aided in placing Penn State eighth in the nation in forward passing offense. The Lions have completed 69 of 143 attempts for a 48.3 percentage. Penn State has averaged 142.8 yards per game.

Because of Penn State's fine defensive work, West Virginia, which had been first in total offense and second in rushing offense in the nation, is now rated fourth and fifth respectively. Coach Art Lewis' gridders averaged 317.2 yards per game in rushing offense, but it is now down to 274.8.

Leahy Will Return To Coaching Duties

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 3 (AP)—Frank Leahy is expected to return to his coaching duties at Notre Dame tomorrow to direct practices with a squad slowly gaining full strength for its test against Penn at Philadelphia Saturday.

Leahy has been confined to his home this week after being released from the hospital. He collapsed during the Georgia Tech game Oct. 24.

Booters Seek 5th Win at Navy Friday

Two schedule changes will affect the course of events this week for Coach Ken Hosterman and his soccer eleven. The second home match of the season for the Lions originally set for today was canceled last month after a request from North Carolina University.

The second change in the soccer array of opponents was made after a request from Annapolis. The game has been changed from Saturday to Friday of this week. It will be played at Annapolis.

By virtue of a fourth period rally, and three goals by Dick Matacia, the Lions routed the Blue Devils of Duke, who made the Saturday homecoming a rugged contest for the Lions during the first three periods.

As Hap Irvin, Captain and defensive fullback for the Nittany soccer eleven, put it after the game, "The breaks were with us for a change. We were clicking very well during the majority of the game, and the play of Dick Packer, the center forward, and our wings was outstanding."

Coinciding with a strong defense, the Lion's offensive attack proved to be very deadly. The win was the fourth for the Nittanians in five starts, and their third shutout.

Duke's eleven was held to only fourteen shots at State's net, while Penn State had forty opportunities to dent the Blue Devils goal. The two teams both had five corner shots, two of which resulted in tallies for Hosterman's squad.

After the game, Jim Duyes—Captain of the Duke squad and the "soccer coaches' choice for All-American last year remarked—"We were just too tired to put our all into the game in the fourth period. But State does have a terrific team, no one can deny that."

Duyes, who was named to the first team of the Southern Conference club last year, continued, "We've traveled over 500 miles since Tuesday, and after edging Franklin and Marshall yesterday, 2-0, I guess we couldn't keep pace with this fast-moving State squad."

The Lion's victory marred the Duke win and lost log for the second time this season. Maryland did the trick by a 5-1 score. The loss to the Nittanians marked the first time that Duke had been shutout this year.

Duke worked the ball close to the Lion net several times, but often failed to even attempt a score. The usual scoring power of the Blue Devils of passes from outside left, Rudy D'Emilio to center forward Fernando Almeida wasn't clicking.

Paul Dierks, junior center half-back who played brilliantly on Saturday, remarked after the game, "This Duke squad had several excellent foreign players, and they made it tough for us. Our forward line loosened up very well, and our positional play was greatly improved."

IM Swimming Record Posted

Season records continue to fall as the intramural swimming program heads into its second week. Last evening Duke Miller of the independent Penguins cut three-tenths of a second off the old mark as he covered the 60-yard free-style course in 32.1.

Baseball's Greatest Argument?

NEW YORK, (AP)—The arguments over whether Ted Williams or Stan Musial is major league baseball's best hitter apparently are ready to break out again.

Before the Boston outfielder reentered the Marines in 1952, baseball observers spent much of their time comparing the two. Ted's followers claimed he was more of a long ball threat. Those who favored Musial, said he was the more scientific batter — he hit to all fields.

Including their 1953 performances Williams shows a mark of .348 and the Cardinal slugger is close behind with .345. They far outdistance the active big league field in lifetime averages, figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today.

Overall, Williams has pounded out 1804 safeties in 5187 times at bat. Stan shows 2223 hits in 6437 trips. Ted is ahead in home runs, 337 to 257, and runs batted in, 1298 to 1127. Musial leads Williams in doubles, 467 to 367 and triples 142 to 62.

Jackie Robinson, a .329 batter in 1953, brought his lifetime mark up to .319 to rank second to Musial in the National League. Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies is third with .312 followed by Monte Irvin of the New York Giants with .309.

Carl Furillo, the National League's 1953 batting champion, lifted his lifetime average seven points to .301. Mickey Vernon, who won the American League title for the second time last season, gained five points to bring his mark for 12 years to .285.

Besides Musial, only two other major leaguers have more than 2000 hits. Enos Slaughter of the Cards has 2063 and Bob Elliott of the White Sox, 2061. Johnny Mize, who announced his retirement after the last World Series, closed his brilliant career with 2011 safeties and a .312 batting average.
