

Weather—
Cloudy and Cooler

The Daily Collegian

University Status:
A New Name—
See Page 4

VOL. 54, No. 36

STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 5, 1953

FIVE CENTS

To Vie For Title

JUNIOR PROM QUEEN finalists Suzanne Strome, Faith Gallagher, Nancy Van Tries, Katherine Reynolds and Gail Smith have tomorrow night's dance on their minds as they pose for the Collegian photographer. The winning contestant will be crowned at 10:15 p.m.

by Joseph Barnett, junior class president, and the four runnersup will serve in her court. Finalists were chosen by a selections board of outstanding juniors on the basis of personality, poise and beauty.

Prom Queen Deadline Set For Today

The deadline for voting for Junior Prom Queen is 5 p.m. today, Patricia Ellis, coronation chairman, has announced. Juniors may vote at the Student Union desk in Old Main by presenting matriculation cards.

One of five finalists—Faith Gallagher, Katherine Reynolds, Gail Smith, Suzanne Strome and Nancy

A pre-Fordham game pep rally, sponsored by the junior class, will be held at 7:30 tonight in front of Old Main, John Speer, chairman, has announced.

Featured in the rally will be junior members of the football team—Jesse Arnette, Norman Paul, James Garrity and Donald Balthaser. Queen finalists will also be introduced.

Van Tries—will be crowned queen at the Junior Prom at 10:15 tomorrow night in Recreation Hall. The finalists were chosen from 50 nominations after personal interviews with a committee of 15 outstanding juniors.

Joseph Barnett, junior class president, will crown the queen and present her with an engraved trophy and bracelet on behalf of the class. She will also receive a stole, an evening purse, candy and pearls donated by town merchants.

Miss Gallagher, a sociology major from Athens, is sponsored by Delta Gamma; Miss Reynolds, a fine arts major from Media, is sponsored by Kappa Kappa Gamma; Miss Smith, a journalism major from Pittsburgh, is sponsored by Chi Omega; Miss Strome, a home economics major from Wilmington, Del., is sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta; and Miss Van Tries, a journalism major from State College, is sponsored by Delta Tau Delta.

Women's hours for the weekend include two o'clock permissions tomorrow night and one o'clock permissions Saturday night for upperclass women, one o'clock tomorrow and 12 o'clocks Saturday for freshmen.

Eng LaVie Picture Deadline Is Today

Today is the last day seniors in the School of Engineering may have pictures taken for LaVie. Home Economics seniors may report to the Penn State Photo Shop tomorrow through Wednesday.

State, Lion Parties To Begin Campaigns

Lion and State Party candidates for sophomore and freshman class offices begin campaigning today for elections next Thursday.

Lion Party freshman candidates will visit Nittany-Pollock dining halls at noon today, and MacAllister dining hall at dinner tonight.

James Musser, Lion Party freshman president candidate, and Robert Bennett, vice presidential candidate, will tour the Nittany-Pollock dormitory areas tonight. Virginia Hance, freshman secretary-treasurer candidate, will tour Woman's Building tonight.

Sophomore class candidates will visit Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Phi Delta, Alpha Zeta, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi and Phi Gamma Delta at noon today. In the evening they will visit Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Triangle, Phi Kappa Sigma and Beaver House.

Shirley Mix, sophomore secretary-treasurer candidate of the Lion Party, will tour Atherton Hall. Robert McMillan is the Lion Party candidate for sophomore class president and Robert Harding is the vice presidential nominee.

State Party campaign plans were not released yesterday by Kenneth White, clique chairman. Hugh Cline is the State Party's candidate for sophomore class president. Richard Allison is the

(Continued on page eight)

600 View Movies Of Football Game

Over 600 people, almost twice the capacity, filled Osmond Laboratory lecture room Tuesday night to see films of the Penn State-West Virginia football game.

The movie, sponsored by Androcles, junior men's hat society, and the Department of Physical Education and Athletics, showed the controversial plays preceding two of WVU's touchdowns. Sever Toretti, assistant football coach, narrated the movie. The film was shown by Ronald Safier, vice president of Androcles.

Student Directories

Student directories are still on sale in the Recorder's office, 4 Willard for 50 cents. Sales yesterday increased the total number of directories sold to almost 2000.

GOP Admits Political Distress

NEWARK, N.J., Nov. 4 (AP)—Set back on their heels by New Jersey's sweeping Democratic election victories, high Republican strategists today frankly admitted their party is in political hot water.

The election yesterday of Robert B. Meyner as New Jersey's first Democratic governor in ten years, and especially the upset win of a Democrat in the 6th Congressional District, were widely interpreted as severe blows to the prestige of the Eisenhower administration.

Coming on top of the recent Democratic upset in Wisconsin, it was an especially gloomy Tuesday for the GOP.

Said Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall: "There is no question about it. As of today, we are in trouble politically."

And there was corresponding glee in the Democratic camp, along with predictions of a loss of control of Congress by the Republicans in 1954.

Republicans themselves staked the reputation of the Eisenhower administration on the 6th district result, where Republicans have been elected ever since the district was formed in 1932.

But Harrison A. Williams Jr., a 32-year-old lawyer and a political greenhorn, turned the tables on them by narrowly defeating George F. Hetfield, 44, who had gathered the unified support of the conservatively-inclined Union County GOP organization.

Hall came into the district during the campaign and called for the election of Hetfield and Paul L. Troast, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, as a vote of confidence in the Eisenhower record.

The President himself gave a blanket endorsement to all Republican candidates.

Meyer, 45-year-old smalltown lawyer whose father worked in a silk mill, trounced Troast by 154,000 votes, showing great strength in Democratic strongholds and nearly carrying the strongest Republican bastion in the state, Bergen County.

On the state level, politicians and political observers were inclined to discount the national significance of the Democratic victories.

They said Troast was defeated almost entirely on state issues, such as crime and corruption, and pointed to the damaging revelation that Troast had written a letter in behalf of extortionist Joe Fay as the turning point in the campaign.

The congressional contest, too had many local undertones, observers in Union County said.

The candidates were seeking the seat of popular, vote-getting Republican Rep. Clifford P. Case, who was regarded by GOP conservatives as practically a New Dealer.

Williams publicly embraced Case's record in Congress and said he would continue it. He also said he would help carry out the President's foreign policy program

Campus Chest Receives $5439 From Students

Contributions of $5439.84 have been received from the Campus Chest student solicitation drive conducted last week, Myron Enelow, solicitations chairman, announced yesterday.

He said this was not the final figure as about thirty solicitors have not turned in the money they collected. Proceeds from the Powder Bowl touch football game also have not been received.

An estimated $450 was collected Saturday from the game between Kappa Kappa Gamma and Aye See Colony of Pi Beta Phi.

Enelow said International Business Machine cards for 10,000 students were distributed to solicitors. He estimated that about 2000 students were not contacted. Of the 8000 remaining, 4945 students contributed.

Members of the student councils and the Penn State Christian Association are soliciting the faculty and administration.

A total of $165.65 was received yesterday in the second day of the faculty solicitation drive, Enelow said. The drive ends today.

The percentage of students who participated, the amount donated by their representative groups, and the average contribution per person are as follows:

Leonides: Atherton Hall, 56 per cent, $216.40, and 63 cents average contribution; Grange Dormitory and the cottages, 80 per cent, $9.37, and 93 cents average; MacAllister Hall, 66 per cent, $112.79, and 92 cents average.

McElwain Hall, 44 per cent, $165.85, and 55 cents average; Simmons Hall, 31 per cent, $165.35, and 41 cents average; Thompson Hall, 75 per cent, $240.88, and 63 cents average; Woman's Building, 90 per cent, $33.75, and 65 cents average; and town women, 46 per cent, $185.63, and 62 cents average.

The Association of Independent Men: Hamilton Hall, 58 per cent, $337, and $1.41 average; McKee Hall, 76 per cent, $305, and $1.33 average; Nittany area, 59 per cent, $401.84, and 41 cents average; Pollock area, 47 per cent, $148.95, and 36 cents average; Tri-Dorms, 40 per cent, $139.79, and 47 cents average; and town men, 22 per cent, $64.62, and 25 cents average.

Panhellenic Council: Alpha Chi Omega, 100 per cent, $6.24, and 91 cents average; Alpha Epsilon Phi, 89 per cent, $87, and $2.32 average; Alpha Gamma Delta, 43 per cent, $13, and 35 cents average.

Alpha Omicron Pi, 100 per cent, $37.60, and 90 cents average; Alpha Xi Delta, 100 per cent, $35.75, and $1.18 average; Beta Sigma Omicron, 59 per cent, $15.50, and 91 cents average.

Chi Omega, 100 per cent, $49.75, and $1.04; Delta Delta Delta, 47 per cent, $29, and 62 cents average; Delta Gamma, 100 per cent, $58, and $1.49 average; Delta Zeta, 54 per cent, $10, and 36 cents average.

Gamma Phi Beta, 27 per cent, $11.50, and 32 cents average; Kappa Alpha Theta, 100 per cent, $37, and $1.85 average; Kappa Delta, 52 per cent, $18, and 58 cents average; Phi Mu, 84 per cent, $60, and $1.36.

Phi Sigma Sigma, 100 per cent, $25, and $1.00 average; Sigma Delta Tau, 61 per cent, $21, and 81 cents average; Tri-Vi, 100 per cent, $22, and 92 cents average; Zeta Tau Alpha, 51 per cent, $25, and 64 cents average.

Interfraternity Council: Acaia, 76 per cent, $62, and $1.48 average; Alpha Chi

(Continued on page eight)

Permission Is Granted To Imports

Permission to house women in approved fraternity houses conforming with College rules has been granted for Junior Prom weekend by the Senate committee on student affairs, chairman Henry S. Brunner announced yesterday.

The action came upon the request of Thomas Schott, Interfraternity Council president. He said this is the final step in making Junior weekend a "big weekend." In addition, permission has been given for dancing to continue until 1 a.m. Saturday, and upperclass women have been granted two o'clocks for the dance along with one o'clocks for Saturday night houseparties. Freshman women will get one o'clocks on Friday and 12 o'clocks on Saturday.

Schott said the rules set by the College cover fraternities that wish to vacate their houses or annexes either partially or completely for the use of female guests. He listed six requirements that the houses must meet.

1. Members of the fraternity must have vacated quarters to be occupied by guests by noon of the day of their arrival.

2. Guests must be informed of all exits from the house in case of emergencies.

3. Space for guests must be large enough for their needs and comfort.

4. Each house must have two married couples approved by the deans of men and women for chaperones and one couple must remain in the house all night if it is shared by men and women.

5. Guests must be returned to their quarters by the same hour as dormitory women.

6. Chaperones must be provided with names, addresses and hosts' names of all house guests.

500 See Lippy Win Talent Show

More than 500 persons were present when Jeanne Lippy, soprano, received an engraved trophy as first prize in the Junior Week talent review last night in the Temporary Union Building.

Ronald Spangenberg, baritone, placed second, and Robert H. Little, magician, third. Prom tickets were awarded to the top three contestants. Robert Smoot, Junior Week chairman, made the presentation.

Nine all-junior acts participated in the review. Performers included Celeste McDermott, dancer; Ross Lytle, hill-billy comedian; Suzanne Kiel, vocalist; Harriet Barlow, novelty act; Margaret Troxell, Nancy Phillips and Joan Shadlinger, the Tonettes' vocal trio; and Bruce Cobel, Donald Vaughn, Richard Mercer and Robert Yoder, ATO quartet.

Judges were Patricia J. Thompson, assistant dean of women; Ray Fortunato, director of Thespians; Pearl O. Weston, dean of women; and Frank J. Simes, dean of men.