

Gellman Names Town Elections Rollicking Humor-- Social Events For WD Area

The West Dorm social calendar for November and December was announced last night by Robert Gellman, social committee head.

An exchange dinner will be held Thursday night for 400 women from Thompson and 1200 men from the West Dorms. A record dance for those attending the dinner will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. in the main lounge of Hamilton Hall.

Gellman announced that all men must wear coats and ties to the Thanksgiving dinner. The women will be divided into three groups of 135. One group will remain in Thompson. The two remaining groups will eat in the North and South dining halls.

Men may check the bulletin board in Hamilton Hall Sunday to find out whether they will be switched from their present dining halls to make room for the incoming women.

Plans have been made for six men and two women to eat at each table. Gellman asked that the men remove the women's trays after the meal.

An open record dance will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday in the main lounge.

Jack Huber and his orchestra will play at the West Dorm dance from 9 p.m. to midnight, Nov. 13, in the main lounge. Only members of the West Dorm social club may attend.

The annual West Dorm Christmas dance will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight, Dec. 5, in the main lounge. The Melody Men will play at the semi-formal dance. This dance will also be closed.

An open record dance will be held from 9 a.m. to midnight, Dec. 12.

by Perkins that the Town Council officers meet with Fielding as soon as possible to work out some plan of correcting the Town Council elections of Oct. 21-23.

These elections were declared illegal Monday in a statement by Fielding, acting through his position of AIM elections chairman. He claimed the elections were void because nominations for ward representatives were not accompanied by the required petitions. Men turning out to vote from the various wards made nominations of their own choosing by casting lots.

Eighty out of an eligible 2300 men turned out to seek office. Cherwinski declared it "the best turnout in recent years."

Noel Coward, the superb British humorist, gives us this drawing-room comedy neither to be didactic and try to teach us something nor to present some great abstract truth by using symbolic metaphors. Rather he is only interested in entertaining us by pointing out some of life's eccentricities and having us laugh at them. He has taken one incident in the life of the Bliss family and developed it to its completion. He isn't interested in what happens to the family or their weekend guests after the final curtain comes down, and neither are we. He has satisfied our expectations and answered all our questions which is really all we can look for in any playwright.

Coward's figures are not supernatural beings nor are they "typical" Englishmen. Each is a charming blend of humorous exaggerated character traits.

Tickets for the Friday and Saturday night performances of the show cost $1 and are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main.
