

Gridders, Soccermen in Action Tomorrow

Lions Rated Tough, Seek Fifth Win

"Experience, size, and depth. A real toughie," is Penn State's rating as far as football Coach Harvey Harman of Rutgers is concerned. Although there is little doubt in most sports-minded spectators that the Nittany Lions are always a "toughie," it can also be said that Rutgers' is a problem for the Nittany Lions.

Which answer will hold true for this year's contest will be found tomorrow at New Brunswick, N.J., where the Lions will meet their next-to-last football opponent.

The Nittany Lion squad left by train this morning for Rutgers, to seek its fifth win of the campaign.

Line Must Hold

As he did against the Rams of Fordham, Coach Rip Engle will have to depend upon his forward wall to halt the Scarlet backfield. It was apparent that the Rams' passing attack hurt the Lions, but their potential running attack had little say because of the fine line performance. The 1953 Rutgers squad is noted for its running.

Harman has 13 veteran backfield men and several promising sophomores to add to 12 returning letterwinners in the line.

Duncan is Versatile

The most outstanding player on the Scarlet squad is Captain Donald Duncan. He is the strongest man in the veteran backfield. A two-way fullback with equal ability on offense and defense, Duncan was New Jersey's "outstanding high school athlete" in 1949. A 200-pound six-footer, he rates as one of the East's most versatile backs.

Duncan has exhibited his versatility as a blocker, linebacker, punter, and ground gainer. He also handles the points after touchdowns, as well as calling defensive signals.

Fordham Tramples Scarlet

Fordham, the only foe which played both the Lions and Rutgers, downed the Scarlet in a one-sided 40-13 decision. Aside from the Fordham defeat Princeton, (9-7), Colgate (33-13), and Brown (27-20) were victorious over Harman's eleven. Rutgers' two triumphs have come against Virginia Tech, 20-13, and Lafayette, 14-13.

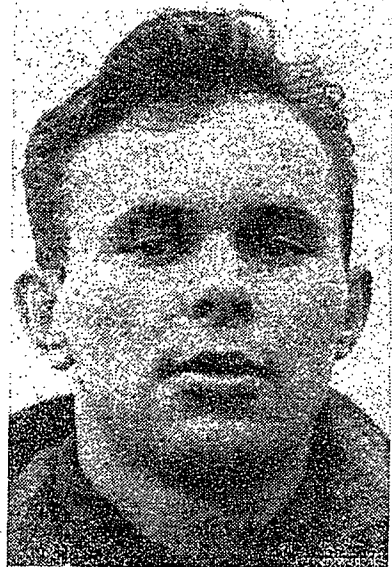

Lion Scout, Frank Patrick, believes that Rutgers is better than its 2-4 record indicates. "It's a simple case," Patrick explained, "of a team having the potential but not being able to sustain it."

Valentini Manages Track

Manager of the 1954 track and field team is Mario S. Valentini, of Bronx, N. Y. His three first assistants will be David R. Young, Bethlehem; Andrew W. Staures, Indiana; and Bruce E. Vogelsinger, Dunmore.

Holds Record

Penn State's gigantic end, Jesse Arnelle of New Rochelle, N. Y., last year cracked the former Lion high of 31 pass receptions in one season by snaring 33 passes good for 291 yards and two touchdowns.

NFL 'Blackout' Ruling Upheld By U.S. Court

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12 (AP)—The National Football League's right to "blackout" telecasting of league games which might compete with home games was upheld today in a ruling by the U.S. District Court.

NFL Commissioner Bert Bell promptly said the league won "its most important point" in the government's anti-trust suit attacking the league's controls over television and radio broadcasts.

But the league lost three other points. Outlawed by Judge Alan K. Grim were the league's:

1. Restrictions on telecasts of games to league cities when the home team is playing out of town.
2. Restrictions on radio broadcasts of league games.
3. Rule that Commissioner Bell could veto radio and television broadcasting contracts to enforce radio and television restrictions.

Bell, after reading the decision in the two-year-old case, said he would need time to study "the restrictions which the order of the court will impose upon the league" but added the court "has understood the vital need of professional football today, namely, the protection of our home gate if we are to continue our existence."

Any appeal, Bell said, "is up to our lawyers."

What all the legal terminology means is this: For example, the league can prohibit the telecasting of the game between Cleveland and San Francisco into Philadelphia Sunday when the Philadelphia Eagles are at home against Baltimore.

Engle Gives His Version of Lions' 'Unsung Heroes'

Football Coach Rip Engle today singled out what he calls his "foreign team" for special mention. "Without these boys," the Lion coach said, "we'd have no football team."

The 14 gridgers named by Engle, the vast majority of them sophomores, each week study the next opponent's scouting report and represent that team in daily workouts.

"I've never had a better bunch for spirit and attitude," Engle said. "They've been doing the job at a great personal sacrifice, and without them I question whether we could get ready for an opponent."

Nominated as "unsung heroes" are Tom Osenbach, Frackville; Bill Rinken, Dallas; Norman Paul, Ambler; John Stewart, Rimersburg; Don Miller, Pittsburgh; Billy Kane, Munhall; Bruce Williams, Pittsburgh.

Ronnie Signorino, Lloydell; Bob Urban, Philadelphia; Stan Prashchunus, Exter; Walt Mazur, Tamaqua; Bob Clements, Shamokin; Lou D'Orsaneo, Conshohocken; and Don Ryan, Derry Boro.

Werner Points to Pitt As IC4-A Darkhorse

By HERM WEISKOPF

Two big questions will be decided Monday by the IC4A cross-country championship run in Van Cortlandt Park, N.Y.:

Who will be the team champion?

Who will be the individual champion?

Although Nittany Coach Chick Werner said that he believed

Syracuse has the best chance of copping the team title, he pointed out yesterday that one squad that has been virtually overlooked is the Pitt Panthers. The Smokey City harriers have compiled an amazing record, but because their competition has not been too stiff they have been almost forgotten.

Panthers Undeclared

The Panthers went through an undefeated season, bowing over nine opponents—eight by a perfect score of 15-40. In only one meet, against Army, did an opponent break into the Pitt hold on the top five positions.

There are some standout contenders for individual honors. Werner once again pointed to the Orange to take the laurels here. Ray Osterhout is the man to beat Werner said.

Names Individual Threats

However, he pointed out that such top-flight hill-and-dalers as Barry of Villanova, Lyle Garbe of Michigan State and Byrne of St. John's will be definite threats: Two outstanding contenders, Red Hollen and Lamont Smith, are Penn Staters.

Last year Hollen finished sixth and Smith 28th. Osterhout placed second to Georgetown's Charley Capazzoli, Garbe was seventh and Byrne was 15th in 1952.

Five harriers, Hollen, Smith, Doug Moorhead, Ted Garrett and Jim Hamill, have been selected by Werner to make the trip. Two more will be picked on the basis of a handicap race this afternoon.

New Job for Cohen

Arthur S. Cohen, of Pittsburgh, will serve as manager of Penn State's 1954 lacrosse team. Chosen as his aides are Donald Q. Eno, Honesdale; James J. Anderson, Waymart; and John F. Albrecht, Arlington, Va.

Grid Aides Were QB's

Two Penn State football aides, Al Michaels (Penn State) and Joe Paterno (Brown), quarterbacked their teams as undergraduates.

Lions Host Owls in 2d Home Tilt

Penn State's soccer eleven will host Temple University tomorrow afternoon in the second home soccer match of the '53 campaign. The home match for the Nittanies will be the sixth match of the scheduled nine games.

Two of the Lions' games were canceled this season. The North Carolina match, which was to have been the Lions' second home match of the season, was canceled after a request from the Tarheels.

Navy Match Canceled

The booters' fifth contest on the road at Annapolis, Md., last week against the Middies was dropped from the season for good because of a sudden eight-inch snowstorm.

Temple's visit tomorrow will be the second of three home games for Penn State. The Quakers of Pennsylvania will visit State College next Saturday for the team's final engagement this season.

'Game of the Season'

Experts have tabbed the Owl-Lion match as "the soccer game of the season." Temple will boast an impressive log of six wins. The Owls haven't lost a match this season.

Coach Pete Leanness of Temple says that he has the strongest team that he has ever put on a soccer field. Both officials and opposing coaches who have seen Temple agree with Leanness.

Owls Seek Revenge

Besides trying to keep a firm grasp on its spotless record, Temple's eleven will also be seeking revenge over the Nittany squad. Last year the Lions won their sixth game, and their third in a row, at the expense of the Owls at Temple Stadium, 1-0.

Jack Pinezich took the honors as he booted State's only and winning goal through the Owl's mosquito net in the third period. Temple displayed its usual powerhouse of defensive skills, but couldn't hold back Penn State's offensive finesse.
