

Booters Host Quakers Today; Wernermen Seek NCAA Title

Six Seniors Play Final Soccer Game

By ROY WILLIAMS
Six senior soccermen will play the final match of their college soccer career today, when the Lions host Pennsylvania on the baseball practice field.

The three men of Penn State's defensive basis—Red Harris, goalie, Hap Irvin, full-back, and captain, and fullback Emil Borra—will be lost after today's contest.

Both wings, Hubie Kline, outside left, and Bill Norcik, outside right, will leave a noticeable hole in the Nittany forward wall for Coach Ken Hosterman to fill next season. Ralph Hoffman, halfback, will also be playing his final game for the Lions.

Hosterman, however, will not only be looking for his team's fifth win in seven starts, but will also be gunning for his first victory over Penn as a coach. Penn's mentor, Charles Scott, who is presently in his tenth season as soccer coach at Penn, will also be planning to take his first victory from the Lions.

The Nittany defense may be the downfall for the Red and Blue today. In six contests, the Lions have posted three shutouts, while Penn has only been able to hold one of its eight opponents scoreless.

Game for game, Penn State's offense has also proven to be more penetrating than the Quakers. The Lions have 20 goals in six games, while Penn has netted 25 in eight tilts.

Hosterman said that he expected to start his usual eleven.

"Penn is capable of giving us some trouble," Hosterman commented, "but it has never beaten State in soccer, and I hope the first time won't be today."

Mack Celebrates 91st

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20 (AP)—For the 91st time a birthday cake was admired and then eaten in honor of Connie Mack, the fabulous figure of baseball. But Mr. Mack, who sampled a piece of the cake himself, made the biggest fuss over a birthday congratulatory note from another rather famous sportsman—President Eisenhower.

Harriers Race Set For Monday

By HERM WEISKOPF
Last night Chick Werner, Nittany cross-country coach, put his harriers through their final workout before Monday's NCAA championship race at East Lansing, Mich. Werner selected Jim McKelvey and John Chillrud to round out the squad.

Penn State's five top hill-and-dalers, Captain Red Hollen, Lamont Smith, Doug Moorhead, Jim Hamill, and Ted Garrett, ran about two miles in last night's three-mile workout in order to conserve their energy.

The harriers left this morning by car for Pittsburgh. They will see the Pitt-Penn State football game today and then fly to East Lansing—their final meet of the season.

Lions Among Top Contenders
Werner's squad has been listed as one of the top contenders for the National Collegiate Athletic Association title. The Lions went through a four-meet slate undefeated and placed third in Monday's running of the IC4A championship race. Last year the Lions finished fourth in the NCAA run.

Other outstanding challengers are Kansas, Indiana, Oklahoma A&M, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, and the host team, Michigan State. The Spartans, the defending titlists, won the Big 10 and IC4A crowns within three days and are highly regarded even though they posted a poor seasonal mark. Pittsburgh pulled one of the surprises of the season by placing second in the IC4A run.

241 Runners Entered
Two hundred forty-one runners are entered in the 15th running of the NCAA championship. The race will get underway at 11:30 a.m. (EST).

Leading contenders for the individual title include Wes Santee, Kansas' top distance star, Big Seven harrier champ, and 1952 Olympian; Richie Ferguson, 10-

Wolfkeil Is Veteran Nittany Grid Hustler

By BOB DUNN
Ask any football player and he'll tell you that sitting on the bench is not exactly his idea of fun. Wayne Wolfkeil, Penn State senior halfback, will go along with his grid colleagues on that count.

Wayne has played wingback, or "x-back" as Coach Rip Engle calls it in his Winged-T setup. Competition for the starting berth at this spot was uncommonly keen during the past two years, as Bob Pollard, Keith Vesling, and Wolfkeil battled for the position. Consequently, Wolfkeil spent much time viewing proceedings from the bench.

This year, however, the "fun" really started. Sophomore Ron Younker, in addition to Wolfkeil, Vesling and Don Eyer have competed for the job. With Younker, one of the pleasant surprises in the Lion camp, playing most of the time, the other three have taken a back seat.

Suffers Injury
If an injury had not sprung up, there is no telling how high up Wayne would have been in Engle's plans this year. Slated to start the Boston U. game, Wolfkeil suffered a recurrence of a fractured nose cartilage, which originally occurred before the season.

Nevertheless, he is the kind of player indispensable to any team, the type who when called upon can do a good job and who keeps the regulars on their toes with his spirit and drive. This is important to any team. Especially with the return of the one-plateau system.

Wolfkeil started his athletic career at Hanover Township High School just outside Wilkes-Barre, where he played basketball, baseball, and the grid sport. His high school grid team used both the single wing and the T. Wolfkeil was a versatile performer and played both quarterback and half-back.

At the University, Wolfkeil is a

Yankee-Cards Dispute Taken Before Frick

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—The New York Yankees today turned over the case of the disputed signing of an 18-year-old Chelsea, Okla., pitcher to Commissioner Ford Frick.

Both the Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals reported they had signed Ralph Terry, a former high school star yesterday.

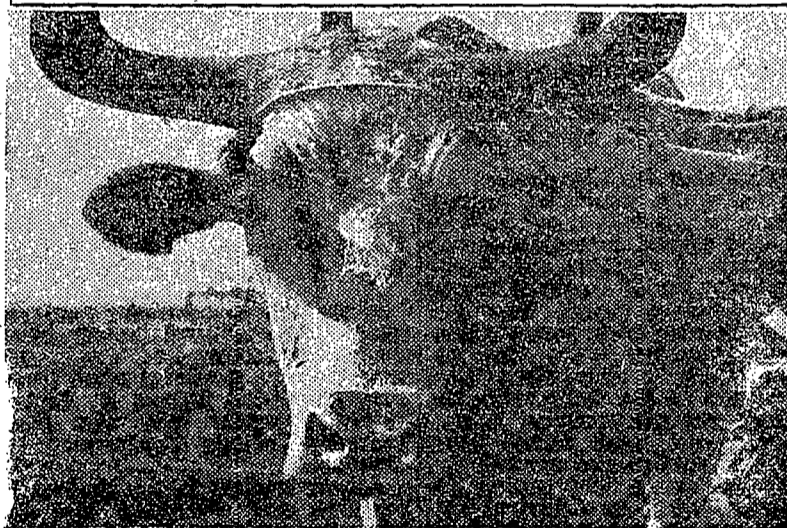

Lee MacPhail, Yank farm director, reported receipt of a wire yesterday from the boy and his mother. The Yanks sent a confirming wire. The young righthander was to report to the Yank camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Ferrell Andy Anderson, manager of the Cards' Omaha club of the Western League, said last night that Terry signed a Card contract and received $4,000 for signing.

Fain May Switch

Ferris Fain, two-time batting title winner, 1951 and 1952, may be switched to the outfield by the Chicago White Sox next spring.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Your hair's no yoke" bellowed Sheedy's gal. "Those cowlicks look awful. Why not take the bull by the horns and get yourself some Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic? Keeps hair combed without greasiness. Makes you look cud-dly. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Contains Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. I won't cow-tow 'til you start using it heifery day." Paul was utterly stunned, so he bought some Wildroot Cream-Oil for just 29¢. He told his girl the good moos and now they're hitched for life. So just steer yourself down to any toilet goods counter for a bottle or handy tube. And remember to ox your barber for Wildroot Cream-Oil too. You'll be the cream of the campus—and that's no bull.
