UN Backs U.S. Crime Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 3 (P)—The UN Assembly today approved an American-backed resolution condemning atrocities by any government and expressing "grave concern" at reports of Red atrocities in Korea. The Russians protested with cries of "fake" and "libel."

The final vote was 42-5 with only the Russian bloc opposing the resolution. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief American delegate, said the verdict proved true the American charges that Communist Chinese and North Koreans, acting on a conscious policy laid down by the Communists, tortured or killed 38,000 UN soldiers and Korean civilians.

Vishinsky Denounces Charge
Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russian deputy foreign minister, made a further assault on the American case after the vote. He denounced it as "a falsification, a fake and utterly spurious." He assailed the resolution as libelous and hypocritical.

Lodge rushed the charges to the UN Assembly in late October following the demands of members of Congress for the delegation to do something about the tale of horror and death released in Washington by the Pentagon. The Americans have been canvassing thoroughly for support and they watched the vote closely at the end of three days of tense debate.

Indians Refuse to Vote
India's delegate, V. K. Krishna Menon, said "not participating" when the roll was called. He had announced at the beginning of the debate that India would not take part because India is chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission now trying to dispose of prisoners of war in Korea.

West Virginia To Send Back Stolen Trophies

Trophies stolen from Penn State fraternity houses by West Virginia students during the weekend of the West Virginia-Penn State football game will be returned to the campus, according to a letter recently received by the Dean of Men's office.

The letter, from the director of student affairs at West Virginia University, revealed a number of the trophies were discovered during a search of fraternities on the West Virginia campus. The search was initiated by West Virginia authorities after they had received numerous complaints from the University.

The letter stated that the trophies found in the search are being returned to the University immediately with the exception of the trophies taken from Acaia and Kappa Sigma. These trophies, according to the letter, have been damaged and will be repaired before being returned to their owners.

Glenn Explains Illness Increase

Twenty-five students were confined in the Infirmary yesterday, but Herbert R. Glenn, director of the University Health Service, said the increase is "merely seasonal, coupled with a few strained muscles and broken toes."

Eighteen students received treatment Tuesday.

"Twenty-five students out of more than 11,000 is still a small percentage," Glenn said, "considering the grippe season is upon us." He reported the grippe season usually starts in December and lasts until March.

It's Official Now

THE NEW SEAL designed for use by the University marks another step in the adjustments made necessary by Penn State's change from college to university. The official seal will be used in the future to identify the University, replacing the old College seal.

McCarthy Requests 'Write Ike' Campaign

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (P)—Gen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), disowning any idea of challenging President Dwight D. Eisenhower's leadership, called today for a nationwide "Write the President" campaign designed to reverse one phase of Eisenhower foreign policy.

Speaking out within 24 hours after Eisenhower warned against "coercion" of America's allies, McCarthy requested all who agree with his views to write or wire the President asking him to halt what McCarthy termed the "blood trade" with Red China.

Disagrees with Dulles
McCarthy said he is in "complete disagreement" with Secretary of State John F. Dulles on the question of continued aid to countries trading with the Chinese Communists.

Dulles' stand, as set forth at his news conference on Tuesday, is that U.S. dollar aid to friendly nations "does not give us the right to dictate their trade policies."

The President backed Dulles to the hilt at his own news conference yesterday and cautioned that "the easiest thing to do with great power is to abuse it."

Issues Statement
Reacting to double-barreled rebuffs from the President and Dulles, McCarthy issued a 600-word statement in which he:

1. Scoffed at suggestions that he was challenging Eisenhower's party leadership. "Ridiculous and untrue," he said.
2. Refused to retreat an inch from the previous stands with which the administration disagreed.
3. Called on Dulles to "reappraise our whole policy" toward allies trading with Red China.

Case Dropped Against Rival Shrine Painter

The University will not press charges against the owner of a West Virginia automobile that was seen in the Nittany Shrine area after the shrine was doused with paint Oct. 31, the Dean of Men's office reported yesterday.

The license number of the automobile was reported to the Campus Patrol and the Dean of Men's office checked with West Virginia University authorities.

The director of student activities at West Virginia reported back to the Dean of Men's office in a letter saying that the license number corresponded to that of an automobile belonging to a former student of the school. The letter said the owner of the automobile was still living in Morgantown, but he was no longer affiliated with the University.

O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the Dean of Men, said yesterday it would be pointless to press the case any further since the owner is no longer connected with the school. The cost of cleaning up the shrine, he said, would be much less than to take action as a University against an individual.

WDFM Informs Groups on Radio Use

Radio Station WDFM sent letters to campus organizations this week to inform them concerning the use of the station's facilities to advertise various activities sponsored by the groups.

Letters were sent to each organization by Charles Folkers, station business manager, expressing the desire of the station to give free air time for the promotion of campus activities. As a result, the students will be kept in closer touch with the organization's programs, the letters said.

The bulletin released by the station listed organizations which may use broadcasting facilities.

These include:

1. All recognized student, faculty, and administrative activities.
2. All organs of student government.
3. Student religious organizations.
4. Student service organizations.
5. Faculty and administration committees.
6. Recognized "University-community" service organizations and activities.

In applying for air time, the organization must fill out a WDFM campus and community service form which must be turned in 72 hours prior to the date and time desired for broadcast.

Applications may be addressed

WDFM Hopes To Go On Air Sunday Evening

Station WDFM will go on the air at 7:25 Sunday evening with its first actual broadcast provided that technical materials needed for operation arrive Saturday, according to Prof. David R. Mackey, faculty general manager.

The vital materials needed are couplings for fits on the antenna, Prof. Mackey said. The materials were expected to arrive in time but recent developments have made their arrival doubtful.

"The broadcasts are intended as program tests for the FM portion of the equipment," Professor Mackey said. He also added that the tests will continue until the station receives its license from the Federal Communications Commission and until the transponders, which convert FM waves to AM, are built and placed in the dorms.

Until the transponders arrive and are installed, there will be no AM reception in the dormitories. During the FM program tests the station will have an audience in the fraternities, sorority suites, and with students and homes in the nearby district who have FM receiving radio sets.

When the transponders are installed and the FCC issues the station a license, WDFM will be officially dedicated, Professor Mackey said. In the meantime the station will go on a regular program schedule to orient the staff to the broadcasting procedures, he concluded.

Sunday evening's program schedule will get under way at 7:25. At 7:30 the BBC World Theatre will feature "Happy and Glorious," a story about Queen Victoria and Prince Albert. World and campus news and sports headlines will follow at 8:55. An opera entitled "Tales of Hoffman" will begin at 9:00 and will round out the station's broadcasting activities. The opera will be taken directly from the movie score and will be sung in English.

The creation of the station was made possible by the gifts of the graduating classes of 1951 and 1952. Operating costs are being borne by the University and the students' fees.

The purposes of the station are threefold: to serve the Departments of Speech, Journalism, Dramatics, Music and other interested departments of the University in training for professional radio work; to offer opportunities for other students and student organizations to convey information to the student body, and to broadcast their activities under trained supervision. It will serve as a medium through which appropriate types of research in radio education and training methods may be conducted.

There are now about 90 to 100 students working on the station in some capacity. During the preliminary period positions on the staff are of a temporary nature and it is expected that an announcement of permanent assignments will be made in the near future.

Ski Club, Outing Club Combined

The Penns. Valley Ski Club voted Wednesday night to merge with the Outing Club to form the Penn State Outing Club with the provision that several points in the proposed constitution of the new group be revised.

The major point referred to by the ski club stipulated that only students be entitled to active membership in the new group. Faculty and townspeople would be admitted as associate non-voting members. The ski club has included faculty and townspeople as active members.

Fred M. Coombs, professor of physical education and a sponsor of the Outing Club, urged merging of the two groups. He said there is no organized group that can present a plan for use of existing outing facilities.

Coombs told 85 students, faculty, and townspeople who attended the meeting that the Penn State Outing Club will have support from the School of Physical Education and Athletics through its Recreation department. This will facilitate some continuity in planning programs, he said.

Coombs said the $2 fee proposed for membership in the new group will be pooled and allotted to divisions as demand occurs. Funds will be handled by officers and the board of directors of the club, he said.

The Penn State Outing Club will include three divisions. Under winter sports will be skiing and skating; under cabin and trail will be hosteling, camping and hiking; and under field and stream, hunting, fishing, canoeing, conservation, mountaineering, and archery.

Development of Beaver Dam as an ice skating lake, now a project of the ski club, will be undertaken by the merged group.

Identification Asked For Coats at Mil Ball

Persons attending the Military Ball, Dec. 11 at Recreation Hall, should have identification on all garments and personal effects checked at the dance, Alfonso Rodgers, coat checking attendant representing Pershing Rifles, said yesterday.

Rodgers said Pershing Rifles will not be responsible for lost items.
