

University Releases Schedule Of Fall Semester Examinations

The fall semester final examination schedule has been released by Ray V. Watkins, scheduling officer.

Examinations will begin at 1:20 p.m. Jan. 16, and will end 5:30 p.m. Jan. 27. Regulations pertaining to finals are listed in the Undergraduate Regulations.

Students having two or more examinations scheduled at the same hour should file a conflict card in 2 Willard before 5 p.m. Dec. 16. Three examinations in one day are considered a conflict.

University Adds Five To Staff

The appointments of five men to the University staff have been announced by President Milton S. Eisenhower. The appointments were approved at the weekend meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Lawrence E. Dennis, former special assistant to the United States Commissioner of Education, will serve as administrative assistant to the president of the University beginning Jan. 18. He will fill the vacancy created when Richard C. Maloney became assistant dean of the College of the Liberal Arts.

Kenneth R. Erfft, business manager of Furman University, Greenville, S.C., has been appointed associate comptroller at the University, effective Feb. 1. He will assist Samuel K. Hostetter, comptroller, in business administration matters.

Alex Black, professor of animal nutrition, has been named assistant director of the University's Agricultural Experiment Station.

Veterinarian

Robert F. Gentry, veterinarian with the United States Department of Agriculture Regional Poultry Research Laboratory, East Lansing, Mich., has been named associate professor of veterinary science. Beginning Jan. 1, Gentry will be responsible for the research program in poultry diseases and will aid in the poultry diagnostic service, an important part of the expanded program of the Animal Research Center.

Alfred K. Blackader, associate professor of meteorology at New York University, has been appointed visiting professor of meteorology, effective Feb. 1.

Dennis received a B.A. degree in English from Iowa State Teachers College and an M.A. in journalism from the University of Minnesota.

Past Activities

His past activities include his work as a member of the editorial staff of the Des Moines, Ia., Register and Tribune, speaker at civic and professional organizations in Iowa, and lecturer on the social science faculty of Drake University Community College.

Erfft received his B.A. degree from Northern Michigan College, his M.A. from the University of Richmond, and his doctor of literature from MacLean College. He has also done graduate work toward a Ph.D. at Northwestern University.

He is a member of the national committee on preparation of Volume II of the "Manual on College and University Business Administration." He is the author of "Thomas Edward Brown—A Biographical Study," and numerous articles in trade and professional journals.

Television Leader

A leader in the movement for educational television, Erfft is chairman of the Board of Directors of Piedmont Educational TV, Inc., which will operate channel 29 in State College.

Black received his B.A. degree at the University of Kentucky, his M.S. at Penn State, and his Ph.D. from the University of Rochester.

Gentry served three years as an instructor in veterinary science at the University of Missouri and three years as a research fellow at Michigan State before his appointment to the Department of Agriculture.

Blackader was graduated from Princeton University and received a Ph.D. in meteorology at New York University in 1950. At present he is in charge of a government-sponsored research project on experimental studies of small scale turbulence.

Seniors with finals scheduled after 7 p.m. Jan. 22 should file a conflict card, according to the announcement of the schedule.

Grades of graduating seniors are due in the Recorder's office by 8 a.m. Jan. 23. Grades are due within 48 hours after the examination. Final deadline for grades is 5 p.m. Jan. 29.

Hours for the exams are 8 to 10 a.m., 10:20 a.m. to 12:20 p.m., 1:20 to 3:20 p.m., 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m.

On the schedule, see list indicates that the room in which the final will be held will be announced in class.
