

WDFM to Air Chapel Service

Station WDFM will broadcast the Christmas candlelight service from Schwab Auditorium tonight. The broadcast will begin at 10:45 p.m. with the service scheduled for 10:55 p.m. Tomorrow morning's service, during the regular Chapel hour, will not be broadcast.

Two special worship services have been planned by the University Chapel in keeping with a tradition started six years ago: Doors to the auditorium will be opened 30 minutes before the beginning of each service.

Students Sign Radio Petition For Classics

Forty-two students have signed a petition addressed to David R. Mackey, faculty manager of Station WDFM, requesting that music broadcast over the University station be "heavily weighed" in favor of classical and semi-classical selections.

The petition has been posted on the bulletin board in Old Main. It states: "We, the undersigned, believe that the programming of music over the new University radio station should be heavily weighed in favor of classical and semi-classical selections instead of disc jockey and popular music."

In commenting on the petition Thursday, Mackey said since one of the purposes of the radio station is training staff personnel, a balanced program has to be maintained. However, since part of this training includes determining what listeners desire, he added, such proposals must be considered.

WD Council Plans Election

Procedures for the election of two representatives-at-large from the West Dorm area to the Association of Independent Men Board of Governors were discussed Thursday night by the West Dorm Council.

Stephen Jordan, West Dorm elections committee chairman, announced that students must show matriculation cards and meal tickets to vote. The elections will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday in the lobby of Hamilton Hall. Men will vote only for two names on the ballot.

The council also approved the following measures: (1) to purchase printed social invitations for future use; (2) to study possibilities of getting full length hall mirrors for the West Dorms; and (3) to mail greeting cards to important independent men organizations.

The council made plans for a masquerade ball in February. Invitations for the ball will be extended to West Dorm residents and two members from each social fraternity and sorority.

Spring Timetables Go on Sale Monday

Scheduling timetables for the spring semester will go on sale Monday in 2 Willard, Ray V. Watkins, scheduling officer, has announced. Timetables will cost 20 cents.

The schedules will list time and rooms for courses and will permit students to begin making out schedules during the Christmas vacation.

Willa C. Taylor, professor of music education, will direct the Chapel Choir in nine choral numbers: "A Child Is Born in Bethlehem" (Bach), "Surge Illuminare" (Byrd), "From Heaven on High" and "God's Infant Son" (Praetorius), "O Jesu So Sweet" (Scheidt), "Of One That Is So Fair and Bright" (Holst), "A Spotless Rose" (Howells), "On This Day Earth Shall Ring" (Stewart), Cantata 142 "To Us A Child Is Given" (Bach).

Student soloists assisting the Choir will be Janet Saunders, contralto; James Madenfort, tenor; and Kenneth Lawley, baritone. A brass choir from the Blue Band, directed by James W. Dunlop, associate professor of music education, will present a choral concert preceding the worship services. Other instrumental music will include the "Christmas Concerto" (Corelli) by George E. Ceiga, Chapel organist; and "Providentiam Dominum" (de Lassus), an antiphonal brass ensemble directed by Rex Rockwell, music instructor.

Admiral C. M. Bolster of the Naval Research office, Washington, D.C., will address Engineering 2 students at 4:10 p.m. Monday, in 110 Electrical Engineering.

Admiral to Speak

Admiral C. M. Bolster of the Naval Research office, Washington, D.C., will address Engineering 2 students at 4:10 p.m. Monday, in 110 Electrical Engineering.

Yule Spirit Threatens Tree Study

A forestry research project 15 years in the making was almost destroyed in a few minutes Thursday night when 17 trees were destroyed at the Stone Valley Experimental Valley.

The persons who cut down the trees to get limbs for Christmas decorations would have destroyed a Forestry department research project, Maurice K. Goddard, head of the department, yesterday reported.

The project was a short distance from the trees that were destroyed. Goddard said he was relieved to find it had not been damaged.

The monetary value of the destroyed trees was slight, Goddard said. Last year a series of research projects was ruined because of cuttings, he said.

Goddard appealed to students not to cut the trees because of the time and work put into the experiments. The purpose of the project is to determine ideal spacing for tree growth.

The trees—too large to use as Christmas trees—were cut down and stripped of their limbs.

On campus, limbs were cut from 12 trees recently, Goddard said. Several trees in forestry plots behind Patterson Hall have been destroyed.

Capt. Philip A. Mark of the Campus Patrol yesterday said a borough resident has had 12 trees in her yard destroyed in the past few years by persons seeking Christmas decorations.

"If people think enough about Christmas to have a tree," Mark said, "they should have the good grace to buy and not steal one."

Future Opponents

MEMBERS OF SWEDEN'S National championship gym team, which will oppose Penn State's National Collegiate champions Jan. 16 in an international duel at State College, perform during an indoor exhibition in Stockholm. The Swedes will present exhibitions in 30 cities on their American tour.

$2000 Engineering Fund Established

A $2000 bequest has established a fund to help juniors and seniors in the College of Engineering and Architecture. The fund, to be called the Roy Irvin Webber fund, was made from the will of the late Margareta W. Luther, Hingham, Mass.

Webber joined the faculty in 1906 as an instructor in civil engineering. Later he served in structural engineering, drawing and descriptive geometry, and architectural engineering. He was superintendent of grounds and buildings from 1916 until his death in 1929.

Jaros Resigns AIM Position

Andrew Jaros has submitted his resignation as secretary of the Association of Independent Men, Joe Somers, AIM president, announced yesterday.

Election for Jaros' successor and for a treasurer will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in 102 Willard.

Jaros resigned because of ill health which prevented his return to the campus after he had completed student teaching the first eight weeks of the semester.

Somers received word of Jaros' resignation from James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, who received Jaros' letter of resignation.

Cabinet Hears Chest Summary

Approximately $8900 was raised in the annual Campus Chest drive, it was revealed in a report to All-College Cabinet Thursday night. The drive ended Nov. 5.

Student contributions totaled approximately $5900 and faculty contributions $2100 according to the report submitted to cabinet by Richard Gibbs, drive chairman.

Fifty-five percent of the student body as compared to 51 percent of the faculty contributed to the drive according to the report. The goal of the drive was 100 per cent participation by students and faculty.

Much progress has been made in recent months in advertising and publicizing the benefits of the Penn State Book Exchange, according to a report made to cabinet by Ronald Lench, BX treasurer.

Advertising began with a program designed to orient freshmen to the profit-sharing system now in operation at the BX, Lench said. This system allows each customer who turns in $5 worth of sales slips to get $1 worth of merchandise free.

Lench said approximately 100 students have taken advantage of this plan so far this semester and total sales are slightly more than this time last year.

The Used Book Agency, a component of the Penn State Book Exchange, has made great progress in filling the text book needs of the student body, Lench stated in his report. He explained that 5000 books were handled this semester as compared to 3500 last spring and 1700 the previous fall. Approximately $9100 was returned to students whose books were sold, Lench reported.

The major problem of the UBA, Lench said, is to get more students to bring their books to the agency. Looking towards the future, Lench stated the Penn State Book Exchange is looking forward to moving into the new Student Union Building where it will be better able to serve the student body because of the central location and the additional store space.

Several recommendations for next year's student encampment were made by Edgar Fehnel, encampment chairman, in a report to cabinet. These were to restrict the number of persons attending the encampment to 120, limit workshops to eight persons to facilitate proceedings, schedule the 1954 encampment so as to provide more suitable arrival and departure times, appoint next year's encampment committee before the end of the fall semester, and include a resource leader to work with the chairman of each workshop in gathering facts for the workshops.

All-College President Richard Lemyre appointed Walter Back chairman of the Senior Ball committee. Other committee members appointed by Lemyre are Jane Larpentour, Steven Melmeck, Florentino Feraco, Myron Enelow and Betsy Siegler.

Players to Sing Carols After Show Tonight

Players will conclude the opening weekend of "Juno and the Paycock" with a Christmas carol sing after tonight's performance.

Members will leave from Center Stage. Persons wishing to attend are requested to leave a donation for refreshments in a special envelope on the Green Room bulletin board, second floor Schwab.

EUTAW HOUSE
Potters Mills
SUNDAY DINNERS
Pan Fried
CHICKEN CAPETTES

SECOND BIG NIGHT!

Don't miss this Players' presentation

"Juno and the Paycock"

by Sean O'Casey
"The greatest modern playwright"
—Brooks Atkinson — NY Times

Starts this weekend - Fri. & Sat., Dec. 11, 12

Show Starts at 8 p.m.

Jody WARNER theatres
Carthage
CINEMASCOPE!
"HOW TO MARRY A MILLIONAIRE"

State
RANDOLPH SCOTT
"THUNDER OVER THE PLAINS"

Nittany
COMING MONDAY
Unfamed! Unashamed!
Anna Magnani
"VOLCANO"

Remember Your Friends with CHRISTMAS CARDS

- Gibson
- Manville
- Rustcraft

ALSO winter scenes of Old Main

Great selection of boxed Christmas cards —variety of styles. Also personalized cards

See them at

KEELER'S

CATHAUM THEATRE BLDG. W. COLLEGE AVE.