STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 5, 1954

FIVE CENTS

Jennie Tourel to Sing Works Of European Composers Tonight

By BEV DICKINSON

Jennie Tourel, mezzo-soprano, will sing a program representing a wide range of European composers when she appears in the third Community Concert at 8:30 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 8 p.m. The concert is open only to members of the Community Concert Association.

To open the program, Miss Tourel will sing "Well Thou Knowest" (Giuseppe Torelli), "Oh Had I Jubal's Lyre" (George Frederick Handel), "Joy of Love" (Johann Paul Martini), and "Cantzonetta" (Franz Josef Haydn).

Following will be Franz Schubert's "Serenade," Felix Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," and "A Dream" by Edward Grieg.

Immediately before intermission Miss Tourel will sing "A Little Voice I Hear" from Rossini's comic opera "The Barber of Seville."

The program will continue with "Serenade" (Charles Gounod), "Puppets" (Debussy), "Oh, When I Sleep" (Franz Liszt), and "Letter Scene" and "Drinking Song" both from "La Perichole" by Jacques Offenbach.

Included in the closing numbers

Jennie Tourel
Mezzo-Soprano

will be Jan Sibelius' "Tryst," Theodore Chanler's "The Doves," "Do Not Go My Love" by Richard Hageman, and "Don't Come In, Sir, Please" by Cyril Scott.

Miss Tourel will be accompanied by George Reeves at the piano.

Born of Russian parentage, Miss Tourel was reared and educated in France and Switzerland, where, in 1933, she made her debut in the role of "Carmen" which she has since sung more than 300 times. She continued as a star of the Opera Comique in Paris until 1940.

Two years later Miss Tourel made her debut in this country when she sang the role of "Juliet" in Carnegie Hall with Arturo Toscanini conducting. Within the next four months she appeared as a soloist with Koussevitzky of the Boston Symphony and Stokowski of the NBC Symphony.

Miss Tourel has sung in numerous festivals throughout the world, including the Holland and Edinburgh Festivals, the Festival of Britain, the second Casals Festival, and the Venice Festival.

A master of nine languages, Miss Tourel is now currently on her ninth tour of the United States. She has made two tours of South America, seven post-war tours of Europe, and three of Israel.

Tickets Ready For Cage Tilt In New Plan

Students will be able to obtain tickets for tomorrow's basketball game in Recreation Hall until 8 p.m. at the Athletic Association Office in Old Main under the ticket exchange plan, Edward M. Czekaj, assistant business manager of the athletic association, said yesterday.

The new seating plan, which was approved by All-College Cabinet last April, will be in effect for the 17 remaining home indoor sports dates.

Students must bring AA books to the Athletic Association office to obtain tickets. Exchanges will be made starting three days before the scheduled athletic event.

Public May Attend

For the first time since 1947 the general public will be admitted to Recreation Hall for an intercollegiate athletic event. Ticket sale was discontinued then because of the increased number of students at the University.

Under the new plan tickets will be sold to faculty members, alumni, and townspeople on the day of the event. The number of tickets sold will depend on the number of students who have received tickets during the first two days of exchange before the event.

Tickets sold to the public will be 90 cents for a single event program and $1.80 for double event programs. The tickets sold to the public will be of a different color from those obtained by students.

Larger Attendance Sought

The plan was established to admit all students who wish to see the event, and also to permit a maximum number of faculty members, alumni, and townspeople to attend.

Harold R. Gilbert, assistant director of athletics, said earlier that the number of tickets exchanged by students and those sold to the public will not exceed the 6000 seating capacity of Recreation Hall.

Students will be able to obtain tickets for Saturday's "double-header" starting tomorrow. On Saturday Charlie Speidel's national champion wrestlers will open their 1954 season against Cornell. The Lion cagers will play Colgate on the same night.

Champs Meet Champs

Swedes, Lions Are National Gym Titlists

Sweden's national gymnastic championship team will battle Penn State's national collegiate titlists Jan. 16 in Recreation Hall in the first of four competitive meets for the Swedes in this country.

There will be 13 gymnasts in the party, including eight 1952 Olympians and five national champions.

According to the itinerary, released yesterday by Gene Wettstone, Penn State gymnastic coach, the Swedish stars will travel to 18 states and will perform in 34 towns and cities in this country. The Swedes will perform at 19 college and university campuses.

Swedish Coach Erik Linden will act as an interpreter. Linden has been Olympic coach for Swedish teams several times and Wettstone coached the 1948 United States gymnastic squad.

Wettstone, who saw the Swedes in action in the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki says that the team is one of the finest in Europe.

William Thoreson, Sweden's national champion in four events, and also the 1952 Olympic calisthenics champion, is the team's outstanding performer.

The Swedes will fly to this country from Stockholm and will arrive Friday at Idlewild Airport in New York. Money for the trip was raised by the Swedes in their home country. Proceeds of the meet at the University will be

Early Fee Payment Requested

Payment of fees for the spring semester should be made as early as possible, according to Samuel K. Hostetter, University comptroller.

In a letter sent to students during the Christmas holidays, Hostetter urged early payment in order that students may avoid inconvenience and delay at registration in Recreation Hall.

Regular fees and charges must be paid to the Bursar's office, basement of Willard Hall, before registration, he said.

A receipt showing payment of fees from the Bursar's office must be presented at registration. Students may pay fees by mail or in person during January at the Bursar's office. Receipts for payments made by mail will be sent to students at their homes, and they may be picked up during mid-semester recess.

A slight change in the preparation of estimated bills has been announced for veterans returning to campus who are eligible under Public Law 16 or 346 (not Korean veterans). They will enter their total fixed charges on line 1 of the student's estimated bill as though they were non-veterans and then deduct this amount as a veteran's exemption on line 4.

Students claiming credits allowable under line 4 of the enclosed guide should specify the type of credits which are claimed on that line.

Eisenhower Assures America Nation's Prosperity to Continue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower solemnly assured the American people tonight that "every legitimate means" is being used to maintain the nation's prosperity "and will continue to be used as necessary."

But, the President said, he does not intend to deal in "pie-in-the-sky promises to all, nor in bribes

Senate Drops Penn Weekend Punishments

Disciplinary action against six students whose hotel suite was damaged the weekend of the Penn-Penn State football game in Philadelphia Oct. 3, has been dropped by the Senate committee on student affairs.

The committee also warned that holding parties in hotel rooms in connection with away football games must be controlled.

The committee said the students, charged with conduct prejudicial to the good name of the University, have admitted that most of the damage to their suite at the Bellevue-Stratford had occurred, but that it was accidental and had resulted from crowded conditions in the room.

The committee said the nature of the damage was such that this could have occurred, and that evidence did not support a charge of malicious intent.

The hotel parties must be controlled, the committee said, "to the extent that the results do not reflect discredit on either the students, as self-respecting men and women, or on the University."

Five of the students involved had voluntarily admitted they stayed at the room after the hotel had notified the University of the sixth student, in whose name the room was registered.

This was the only disciplinary action to result from student conduct over the weekend, although the University received several letters protesting student actions.

Graduation Invitations Are Available at SU

Commencement announcements and invitations are now available to January graduates at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Seniors must present receipts from payment to receive the cards.

to a few, nor in threats to any." In a nationwide television-radio talk, Eisenhower hit out at "self-appointed peddlers of gloom and doom" and said his administration will not tolerate "a boom-and-bust America," dependent on war or threats of war for prosperity.

The President's speech was prepared for a 15-minute all-network program, starting at 9:30 p.m., EST.

In a report on what he described as past accomplishments of his administration and a general look ahead at the 1954 legislative program, Eisenhower said the realities of living-peace in the world, cost of food, clothing and shelter, taxes and income and savings and jobs, schooling and health—are of "deep concern" to his administration.

'Help' Is Key Word

Eisenhower said that "help" is the administration's key word and the key word of the program it will lay before Congress Thursday when he delivers his annual State of the Union message.

"We do not mean monuments to costly and intolerant bureaucracy," the President said in an address prepared for a nationwide radio-television audience.

"We do not mean a timid unwillingness to act. We mean service—service that is effective, service that is prompt, service that is single-mindedly devoted to solving the problem."

Lists Accomplishments

After ticking off a dozen accomplishments with which he credited the administration in the past year—the end of fighting in Korea came first—Eisenhower added one more. He said this was the groundwork that has been laid for sustaining "the basic prosperity of our people."

"I therefore," he said, "give you this assurance:

"Every legitimate means available to the federal government that can be used to sustain that prosperity for this purpose is being used and will continue to be used as necessary."

"This administration believes that we must not and need not tolerate a boom-and-bust America. We believe that America's prosperity does not and need not depend upon war or the preparation for war."

Blood Donation Asked for 34 As Dorm Fine

A recommendation that 34 members of Nittany Dormitory 43, who violated a University regulation by holding a beer party in the dormitory Dec. 13 after winning first place in the Association of Independent Men's Christmas display contest, donate blood in the next University blood drive was made by the AIM Judicial Board of Review to the Dean of Men's office last night.

For students who cannot donate blood, a comparable punishment, to be determined later, would be given, John Ball, chairman of the board told the dormitory's four officers who appeared before the board for the group. Final decision in the case must be made by the dean of men.

Ball told the officers that since the dormitory had worked together to erect the display, which had won $17.50 for the dormitory, and they had held the beer party together, they could work together in their punishment.

A report from James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, said two counselors in the Nittany area investigated the dormitory at 1 a.m. and upon discovering the party in progress, ordered the removal of a keg of beer from the dormitory's lobby. At 3 a.m., the report said, the counselors returned and found the acting dormitory president "playing cards with money in evidence."

The president told the board last night that he was playing cards because he thought it better to play cards than to have dormitory members destroy University property. He said the counselor returned the second time to investigate a report that members of the dormitory were responsible for dumping a fire-extinguisher in another area dormitory.
