Lounge Changes In Old Main Near Completion

Alterations of the second floor lounge in Old Main will probably be completed in two weeks, Charles A. Lamm, supervisor of building maintenance and operation, yesterday announced.

A new conference room was constructed in the northern part of the lounge to make a meeting room available for student groups and University officials.

Original plans released by Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, called for 201 Old Main to be converted into an entrance room to the office of President Milton S. Eisenhower. The room is presently used at a meeting room.

The remainder of the lounge will continue to be open to students and visitors.

Six Fraternities Delay Reports

Membership reports requested by the Dean of Men's office have not been received from six fraternities, O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, said yesterday.

Continued failure to report as requested could be basis for a penalty being imposed upon the houses, Pollock said. Deadline for the reports was Dec. 12.

No reply has been received from 17 fraternities on a request for the houses to state where they had obtained their Christmas trees and greens, he said.

Pollock said he wanted the replies to this questionnaire to use as a rebuttal to charges that fraternities were responsible for decimating Forestry department plots before Christmas.

He said failure to reply would be a "detering factor" in the fraternities' relations with the University.

Inklings Editorial Staff, Candidates Will Meet

Inklings editorial staff and candidates will meet at 8 tonight in 201 Willard to begin work on the spring issue, Charles Mathias, co-editor, has announced. Interested students may attend the meeting.

'Life' to Cover Gymnastic Meet

By BETTY KOSTER

Gymnastics coach Gene Wettstone revealed yesterday that the Jan. 16 competition between the Swedish Olympic gymnastic team and Penn State's intercollegiate champions will receive national coverage from Life Magazine and movie newsreels.

Wettstone told members of the Faculty Luncheon Club that Life will run a picture story on the Swedish team's visit in "a typical American college setting—Penn State."

The 12-man Swedish team will arrive Jan. 15 at Beta Theta Pi, where they will stay during their three days on campus. Following a tour of the University and visits to classrooms Saturday, the team will prepare for their 8 p.m. competition.

Coverage Planned
Life writers and photographers will cover the entire visit which will also include receptions, dates with Penn State coeds arranged by members of Beta Theta Pi, and a Sunday afternoon gathering at President Milton S. Eisenhower's house.

Fraternities Lose $572 To Thieves

Two fraternities were robbed of $572 in cash and personal possessions during the Christmas vacation.

Thieves took an estimated $550 worth of clothing and jewelry from Kappa Sigma over the holiday period, Robert Biggs, president of the fraternity, estimated yesterday.

Theta Chi was robbed of a cash box containing $22, Richard Lewis, treasurer, reported. Twenty dollars belonged to a member and $2 belonged to the fraternity, he said.

Four suits, a wrist watch, a ring, a solid gold pair of Air Force wings, 2 sport coats, two jackets, 16 shirts, a raincoat, and two alarm clocks were taken from Kappa Sigma.

The stolen articles were taken from two rooms. They were the possessions of six students. The theft was discovered Sunday night when members returned from vacation. Biggs said he does not know how the thieves entered the fraternity.

Borough police are investigating both robberies, Chief of Police John R. Juba said last night.

The theft of the cash from Theta Chi was discovered when police found a broken cash box on Locust Lane, Lewis said. The cash box and the room it was in were locked, he said, but the side door to the fraternity was open. The thieves ignored checks and change in the box.

O. Edward Pollack, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, commenting on the robberies, said yesterday they are "just another warning that fraternities are open bait for professionals and amateurs who want to take a crack at them."

Tribunal to Review Counselor Forms

Tribunal will consider applications received for the positions of Tribunal counselors at 7 tonight in 204 Old Main. Probation reports will also be heard.

According to Thomas Farrell, Tribunal chairman, only four people submitted applications. Counselors will act only in an advisory capacity unless a student requests a formal hearing, Farrell said. In that case, the counselor may act in the student's defense, he added.

Eng Education Society Will Meet Today

The American Society for Engineering Education will meet at 4:10 p.m. today in 219 Electrical Engineering. The faculty of the Department of Mechanical Engineering will arrange the program.

Dancing at the TUB

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS make use of the facilities for dancing in the Temporary Union Building on the first class day of 1954. The TUB, set up on campus shortly after World War II, will be replaced by the new Student Union building on Pollock Road when construction of that building is complete. What use will be made of the TUB after this has not yet been determined.

Philippine Leaders Study at University

By NANCY GRAY

Nine Philippine trade union leaders will be on campus until Jan. 30 to further their education in trade union operation. They have been living in Elm Cottage since the beginning of their studies in November.

The nine men were chosen by the Philippine government and the trade unions there. They are all English speaking, although this is their first visit to the United States.

The Foreign Operations Administration, a merger of the Labor Education Service with the Point-4 program, the United States Office of Education, both in Washington, and the University sponsored the trade union team.

Educators Plan Program
Their training program was planned by the University faculty and staff with the aid of the Foreign Operation Administration and the U.S. Office of Education.

In their nine week institute consisting of discussion sessions, workshops and lectures they covered structure of unions, their functions and administration. They planned a program of worker education.

The history of the American and the World Labor movement was included in the study. For the first week of study and orientation, the team heard lectures on the American Revolution and the resulting government, along with the economy and resources of America.

From the rank of organized labor in Pennsylvania, Michael Johnson, Emery Bacon, Harry Block, Harold Bernard, and George Griffith were chosen for the staff to instruct the team. They are Associate Federation of Labor, Congress of Industrial Union, and International Ladies Garment Workers representatives.

Other staff members are from the state and federal government and the University.

Several of the team have LLB degrees from the Manila Law School and Business Administration degrees from eastern institutions.

Executives Attend
The presidents of the Confederation of Sugar Labor Unions, Allied Workers Association, Tallysay Employees and Laborers Association, Employees and Laborers Coordinating Agency of the Philippines are attending. The vice presidents of the Philippines Musicians Guild and the Federation of Free Workers have come.

The other three are the executive secretary of the Mindanao (one of the islands) Federation of Labor, the executive board members of National Labor Unions, and Executive vice president of the Associate Workers Union. These organizations cover all of the Philippine Islands.

Eng Council Will Meet

The Engineering Student Council will meet at 7 tonight in 107 Main Engineering.

Lime Spread Over Lawns

One hundred and ten tons of lime are being spread on campus lawns as the first step in the annual turf rejuvenation program, Walter Trainer, supervisor of landscape construction and maintenance, announced yesterday.

Chemical fertilizer will be spread later, Trainer said. This will be followed by seeding.

Training recently revealed that $3500 will be required to replace lawns ruined by students trampling on them. At the present rate of lawn destruction he estimated the total replacement expense will be $5000.

Hat Society Council

Hat Society Council will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the Student Government room, 204 Old Main.
