ually to pick up their tickets the plan would be one step nearer success, Czekaj said.

The other flaw in the plan which might be destructive stems from the fact that students cannot be denied admittance to any intercollegiate athletic event in Recreation Hall. According to the minutes of the meeting of the All-College Cabinet meeting in April when the plan was approved, students can pick up tickets in Recreation Hall on the night of the event and even after the program has started.

Czekaj pointed out that this might tempt students to get their tickets the night of the event.

"This would really upset the plan," Czekaj said, "because we would have no way of knowing how many students intend to see the event and we would therefore have no accurate way of determining how many tickets to sell."

By getting their tickets at the Athletic Association office, students can help make the program a success, Czekaj pointed out. He said he felt students might not be aware of the harm that could be done to the plan unless cooperation is received.

Student Cooperation Needed
"Unless students cooperate on these two points the plan could very well be destroyed," he emphasized.

According to the seating plan, tickets may be picked up at the Athletic Association office three days before the scheduled program and at Recreation Hall on the night of the event. The Athletic Association office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

The ticket booth in Recreation Hall will be opened approximately one hour before the program is to start, Czekaj said. If the event is on Saturday the ticket booth will open at about 6 p.m., he said.

Public Tickets Limited
Sale of tickets to the public will be held only on the day of the event and the number of tickets that will be placed on sale will be determined by the number of students who get tickets the preceding two days.

Czekaj explained that some students were able to get tickets to Saturday's "doubleheader" yesterday because it permitted him to "kill two birds with one stone" by giving out tickets for tonight's program and for Saturday's program at the same time.

According to the minutes of the All-College meeting at which the plan was adopted, a minimum of 300 tickets must be placed on sale, Czekaj said. This step was taken due to the fact that Recreation Hall was seldom filled to capacity last year.

Greek Holiday Excuses
Students attending Greek Orthodox Christmas holiday services Jan. 6 through 8 should obtain written statements that they have attended from priests. These excuses must be presented to instructors for legal excuses, Dean of Men Frank J. Simes has announced.

Reports from most fraternities at the University indicate that present rushing is being concentrated on freshmen who will be eligible to pledge next semester and some upperclassmen who can move into the houses in February.

A spokesman for the Interfraternity Council said the IFC executive committee will meet this week to set a date early next semester when second semester men may be pledged.

Freshmen Eligible
Freshmen are now eligible to be rushed so they may get a look at the fraternity system at the University while the fraternities are checking on them. No freshman, however, may be pledged by any fraternity until he has completed one semester on campus.

Rushing and pledging are governed by the Interfraternity Rushing and Pledging code which has been drawn up by the IFC and is enforced by the Board of Control. The IFC has said fraternity men are obligated and non-fraternity men are encouraged to report any violations of the code.

Rushing is defined by the code as any contact or communication between fraternity men and a male student who has been contacted for purposes of becoming a member of any fraternity. The fraternity men include actives, pledges, and alumni.

Allowed under the rushing code are invitations to dinner and house social events and on occasions where rushees are guests of the fraternity for overnight or longer.

Neither rushee house guests nor the fraternity are obligated to the other in any way, and all fraternities have free access to any rushee in accordance with the desires of that rushee. There are often verbal agreements between rushees and fraternities but these are not approved by the code.

Must Have 1. Average
To be eligible for pledging, a freshman must have completed one semester on campus and must have an All-College average* of 1.0 or an average of 1.0 for the semester preceeding. The student must be receiving resident instruction at the University at the time.

Upperclassmen under contract to reside in a University dormitory and members of the freshman class are not permitted to reside in fraternities until their dormitory contracts are fulfilled. For freshmen who matriculated at the University last Fall, this contract will not expire until the end of the Spring semester.

Non-resident pledging of freshmen in their second semester will begin on the date determined by the IFC and the Association of Fraternity Councilors, depending on the availability of first semester grades. The rushee may then be formally pledged, but this is not recognized until receipt by IFC of an official acceptance card signed by the pledge and the $2 pledge fee.

Men are allowed by the code to break their pledges. They may not be pledged or remain overnight in any fraternity house for a period of at least 30 days if they do. This section of the code is in force throughout the academic year, but does not apply to pledges dissolved by sole action of the fraternity.

Reifsnieder Named Head Of Committee

Robert D. Reifsnieder, associate professor of dramatics, was appointed chairman of the American Educational Theatre Association's age movement project committee at a recent convention in New York.

Six members of the Division of Dramatics faculty attended the convention. They are Arthur C. Cloetingh, head of the dramatics department; Warren S. Smith, associate professor of dramatics; Kelly Yeaton, associate professor of dramatics; Walter H. Walters, assistant professor of dramatics; and Dennis Sherk, graduate assistant in dramatics.

Reifsnieder was a speaker at the convention's college curriculum project meeting. He spoke on "The Philosophy of the Theatre Arts Department in the Liberal Arts College."

Cloetingh, director of the American Nation Theatre and Academy, attended the semi-annual meeting of the executive board while in New York. He also attended sessions of the National Theatre Conference.

Seniors Asked to List Changes of Address

Seniors whose home address is other than that listed in the Student Directory and who expect to graduate this month should leave their new addresses at the Student Union desk before graduation. George L. Donovan, director of Student Affairs, has announced. The new addresses are necessary if LaVies are to be mailed to the January graduates.

RIL Week Set For Feb. 19-22

Religion In Life Week will be observed at the University Feb. 19 to 22, the Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, University chaplain, said yesterday.

Three men representing Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths will be the main speakers in the weekend program. Fireside discussions will be held both before and after the weekend, Harshbarger said.

The RIL Week program has been completely reorganized this year, Harshbarger reported. A committee of 13, headed by the Rev. Jones Shannon, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, has been set up to plan for the week. The committee is composed of four representatives from each of the three faiths. Student chairman is Edward Fehnel, seventh semester animal husbandry major.

Engineering Honorary Initiates Will Meet

Pi Epsilon Tau, petroleum and natural gas engineering honorary, will hold a meeting for new initiates at 7:30 tonight in 101 Willard.

Initiates are Roger Henderson, Albert Deibert, James Murray, Thomas Richards, James Hartsock, and Charles Schuh. time, however, all upperclassmen would take an active part in enforcement.

Frosh Journ Scholarship's Established

A scholarship for freshman students majoring in journalism at the University has been established by William K. Uerich, graduate and trustee of the University, in memory of the late Joseph F. Biddle, publisher of the Huntingdon Daily News.

The award, which will be known as the Joseph F. Biddle Journalism Scholarship, will provide $150 for the recipient. Half will be paid to the student at the beginning of the fall semester and the remainder at the beginning of the spring semester.

The selection of the student will be based on academic standards, character, examples of written or published works, and service on a high school publication in either news or advertising. Preference will be given to students who are graduates of high schools in Huntingdon and Bedford counties.

Outing Club to Elect Officers, See Film

The Penn State Outing Club will meet at 8 tonight in 109 Agriculture.

Election of officers will be followed by the showing of "Ski-folly Yours," a color film on skiing featuring Olympic champions.

for weekends during customs. Under general regulations, council agreed the first page of the Freshman Handbook be memorized as well as filled-out so freshmen get to know their adviser, dean of their school, and other information given there.

It was recommended that a definite limit be set on customs and two weeks was suggested as the time. Other proposals asked that all customs be removed at once on an announced day to avoid confusion of partial removal of some customs at different times.

Council recommended an all-University joint customs enforcement day be established when enforcement could be carried on by the opposite sex. At the same
