

Dorm Residents Given Warning On Fireworks

Anyone caught with firecrackers or other types of fireworks in University dormitories is violating housing regulations, James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, said yesterday.

A "great many" violations of this type have been reported to the Dean of Men's office recently.

Several violations are under investigation by the Dean of Men's office, he said, and students involved will be sent before student government judicial bodies.

One of the cases under investigation is that of the detonation of a cherry bomb in a lavatory commode on the second floor of Hamilton Hall Sunday night, which destroyed the commode.

Another case involves the use of Roman candles by students in the Pollock dormitory area at noon yesterday, he said.

Faculty Talent Prof to Give Vocal Recital

Following the group of Elizabethan folk songs opening the program, Brown will sing the aria "Slumber On" from bass solo cantata No. 82 (Bach), and Opus 105 (Brahms-Lieder).

Included in the program will be a group of French art songs by composers Duparc, Debussy, and Chausson, followed by a group of Christmas carols and songs from English and American contemporary composers.

Socrates, before taking the Hemlock, said: "The unexamined life is not worthy to be lived by man."

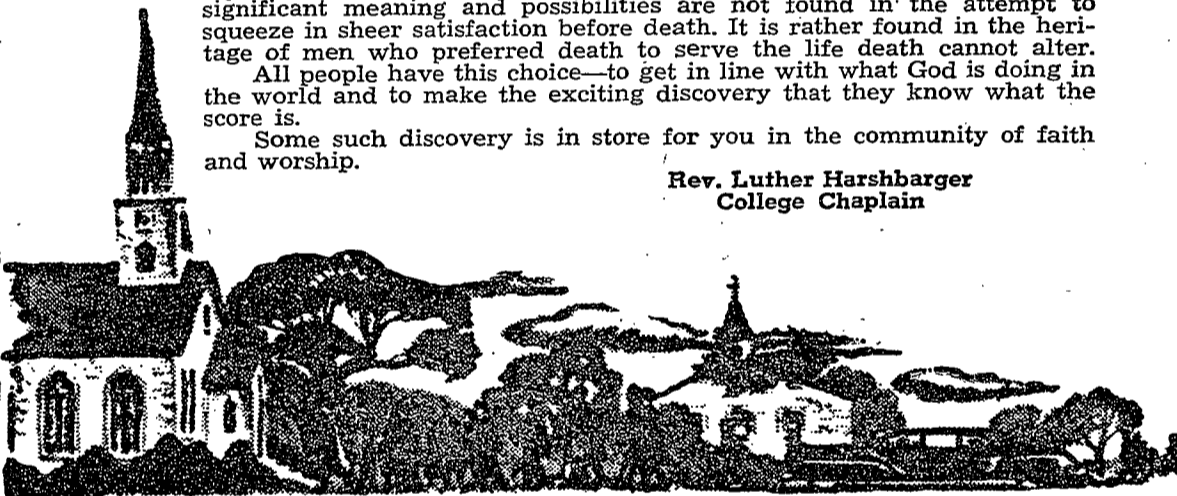

The New Year is a good time to dig below the surface into the depths of our being to ask some real questions. We live in an age when new patterns and structures are in the making in struggle with those who are in process of discard. In this state of flux, it is difficult to find true meaning and purpose for our lives.

I suggest that we can find a clue to the true meaning of life in those things we would believe and do if we knew we had only another day to live. The wise face the meaning of change, life and death, and devote their lives and energies to those things death cannot end. Life's most significant meaning and possibilities are not found in the attempt to squeeze in sheer satisfaction before death. It is rather found in the heritage of men who preferred death to serve the life death cannot alter.

All people have this choice—to get in line with what God is doing in the world and to make the exciting discovery that they know what the score is.

Some such discovery is in store for you in the community of faith and worship.
