Sigma Nu Charged For Second Time; Investigation Begun

Sigma Nu is being investigated by the Dean of Men's office on a charge that two girls were observed to be intoxicated when they returned to the dormitory from the fraternity last weekend.

The case is the second against Sigma Nu during the current academic year. A $50 fine and three weeks social probation were assessed the house as the result of an accident involving several members charged with driving under the influence of alcohol during Orientation Week.

Glenn Hits Infirmary Visit Plan

Herbert R. Glenn, director of the University Health Service, issued a statement yesterday that he was opposed to the changes suggested for infirmary visits by the House of Representatives of the Women's Student Government Association.

The House recently adopted the project of seeking a change in visiting hours to allow evening visits and also to allow men to visit women and vice versa in the infirmary.

Glenn said these changes had been suggested before, but nothing was ever done about them. If action were to be taken, it would probably be through Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, he said.

Disciplinary problems would be too tremendous, Glenn said. Besides this, there are too many things to be done in the evening and not enough nurses to take care of evening visits along with other duties. There are problems now even with the restricted visiting hours, he said.

Glenn also disapproved of visiting hours in general because of the nature of the cases and the possibilities of spreading infection.

"Many of our cases are of an upper respiratory nature," Glenn said, "and visiting creates exposure to these infections."

Student Ousted For Semester On 3 Charges

A first semester business administration major has been suspended from the University on charges of conduct detrimental to the good name of the University. The student was arrested for drunken driving and two counts of hit and run driving in Bellefonte, Dec. 29.

He was suspended Wednesday after he appeared before the Senate committee on student affairs' sub-committee on discipline. The suspension, effective for one semester, will begin at the start of the spring semester, Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said.

The student, a veteran, hit two other cars and ran his car up a steep bank about 1 a.m. Dec. 29. When Bellefonte police picked him up, he said he was looking for water to get his car started.

A case of a Hamilton Hall resident who illegally obtained an elevator key and rode the dormitory elevator, has been referred to the Association of Independent Men's Judicial Board of Review by James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs.

The case will not be heard by the board until the spring semester, Dean said.

Miller Will Address Faculty Luncheon Club

E. Willard Miller, professor of geography, will discuss "Diminishing Resources of the United States" at the Faculty Luncheon Club meeting Feb. 8 in the Hotel State College.

Assistant Dean of Men Harold W. Perkins, who is conducting the investigation, said no definite conclusion has been reached on what action will be taken. He said he did not know if the girls were freshmen and as yet had no other details of the situation.

If it is found that the girls who were observed to be intoxicated had been given alcoholic beverages at the fraternity, the group will probably be penalized for violating rule W-4, Senate Regulations for Undergraduate Students, an official source said. This provides that alcoholic beverages will not be served at any social function in which students are participating.

O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, said the charge is "very serious" in that it would be the group's second violation of University rules this semester. The punishment would probably be "more severe" as it would be "the case of a thief who had committed another theft immediately after his release from jail on the first count," he said.

Thomas Schott, Interfraternity Council president, said he had not been asked to look into the matter yet, but that University officials may come to the IFC Board of Control for a recommendation after they have completed their investigation. The violation came on the first weekend after Sigma Nu had completed its last social probationary period which ran from Nov. 30 to Dec. 19.

The last penalty came as the result of an investigation of an automobile accident in which several members of the house struck a Baton Co. construction shed when their car went out of control. In probing the affair, University officials found that alcoholic beverages had been served at the fraternity the evening of the accident.

'Who's Who in East' Lists Faculty Members

George L. Leffler, professor of finance; Sheldon C. Tanner, professor of business law; and Ralph G. Wherry, associate professor of insurance, are faculty members listed in the new issue of Who's Who in the East.

Cabinet Approves Discipline Proposal

By GEORGE BAIREY

All-College Cabinet last night unanimously approved a recommendation to establish a new disciplinary subcommittee of the Senate committee on student affairs that would handle offenses on a group level.

Group cases, as well as individual cases, are now handled by the Senate committee on student affairs.

The new disciplinary committee will consist of the chairman of the Senate committee

AIM OKs Dining Hall Dress Rule

Requirements for the men's dining hall dress rule are to be incorporated into future housing contracts, Joe Somers, president, told the Association of Independent Men's Board of Governors Wednesday night.

Such a requirement would be only one way to obtain cooperation in enforcing the regulation passed by All-College Cabinet Sept. 24, Dean of Men Frank J. Simes, said yesterday.

Somers told the board he didn't think AIM could "fight" the rule. Simes said yesterday he understood much resentment toward the rule was caused because Nittany-Pollock residents believe the rule should have been adopted by AIM instead of cabinet.

The rule requires men to wear ties to the noon meal on Sunday and collared shirts and slacks to evening meals in the Nittany-Pollock and West Dorm area dining halls.

Other methods proposed by Simes for adoption of the rule were through the establishment of the rule as custom or through "whole-hearted support" of the program. Most men are in favor of the Sunday dress rule, Somers said.

In other action by AIM, an invitation for AIM members to be workshop leaders at the National Independent Student Association convention at Cornell University was accepted.

A screening board, to sift applicants for the leader posts, was passed. The convention's theme is responsibility of the individual and of the organization. Richard Rigling, NISA committee chairman, presented the report to the board.

The board rejected a proposal that the board of governors sponsor a booth for Spring Week. The board informally decided to permit each of the four councils—West Dorms, Nittany, Pollock, and Town—to sponsor booths of their own.

A plan for AIM to sponsor speakers for dormitory unit meetings was discussed by Thomas Kidd, projects committee chairman.

on student affairs, the director of student affairs, the dean of men, the dean of women, the president of either Women's Student Government Association or Men's Student Government Association, depending on the group being tried, and the chairman of either Judicial or Tribunal, also depending on the group being tried.

AIM, IFC President Included
The committee will consist of the presidents of the Association of Independent Men, the Interfraternity Council, Leonides, and Panhellenic Council, depending on the group being tried.

The committee also will consist of a non-voting member, as requested by the group. This member will be able to sit in on the meeting as advisor without voting powers.

The non-voting member clause was not in the original special committee report presented and tabled at the previous cabinet meeting. Thomas Farrell, chairman of the disciplinary revision committee, suggested the report be taken off the table and acted upon with the non-voting member amendment included. Farrell had presented the original report.

Special Cases
1. If, in the case, that a mixed group be brought before the disciplinary committee, both the president of Women's Student Government Association and Men's Student Government Association, and the chairmen of both Judicial and Tribunal, would all sit in on the meeting with one-half vote each.

2. If both sorority and fraternity are involved in the same offense, then a joint committee with representation of both sexes will

Accident Victim Is Reported 'Fair'

The condition of Mrs. B. R. Tingué of State College was reported as "fair" yesterday by Centre County Hospital. Mrs. Tingué received head, neck, and back injuries and a slight concussion in an automobile accident on campus Tuesday afternoon.

George Salak, construction worker injured in a 40 foot fall Dec. 7 while working on the Student Union building, is "improved," the hospital reported. Salak received fractured ribs, a fractured pelvis, a cracked shoulder blade, and internal injuries.

Customs Revisions Postponed

By JACK REID

All-College Cabinet postponed action last night on the proposed revisions of freshman customs regulations until the first cabinet meeting of the spring semester. This was done in order to allow cabinet members more time to become acquainted with the proposed revisions.

The revisions were approved Wednesday night by the Senate of Women's Student Government Association and were approved earlier by the Freshman Customs Board and Freshman Council. Approval by All-College Cabinet is needed for the revisions to become effective.

In other action taken by Cabinet last night, a resolution substituting the word "university" for "college" and the word "college" for "school" everywhere these words appear in the All-College Constitution was read for the first time.

Cabinet also authorized the purchase of 16 Nittany Lion statuettes to be used as gifts for the members of the Swedish gym team which will meet the University gym team Saturday night in Recreation Hall. The total cost of the statuettes will be $128.

Richard Lemyre, All-College president, reported the Swedish team is expected to arrive at the Beta Theta Pi fraternity at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Lemyre also reported that Thomas Schott, president of the Interfraternity Council, will welcome the team on behalf of All-College Cabinet.

Lemyre also agreed to appoint a committee to help organize a program for the members of an Indian debate team which will stage a debate with members of the Men's debate team Feb. 17 in Schwab Auditorium.

Cabinet also voted to place $200 in the treasury of the Cabinet Religion-In-Life Week Committee to help the committee with its operating expenses. Religion-In-Life Week is February 19-22.

Lemyre appointed William Shifflet as Tribunal chairman to replace Thomas Farrell who will be graduated this month. Lemyre also appointed James Dunlap as traffic court chairman.

India to Return Prisoners Jan. 20

PANMUNJOM, Friday, Jan. 15 (AP)—India decided yesterday on its own to start turning back nearly 23,000 disputed prisoners to their captors Jan. 20—three days ahead of the deadline—and said if either side freed them it would violate the armistice.

In Washington, the U.S. Army chief of staff, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, told a Senate committee "I would think that serious consequences could flow from such an action on the part of custodial forces of India—a premature release." Ridgway said "I'd be concerned by the Communist reaction to such a release."

In Korea, the UN Command prepared to take back 22,500 Chinese and North Koreans from the anti-Red camp but went ahead ahead with plans to set them free as civilians at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 23.

India's decision, announced in letters to the Communist and UN Commands by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, India's chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said:

"Any unilateral action by any party concerned on the prisoners' status will not be in conformity with the armistice terms of reference."

Thimayya's announcement drew quick fire from the Swedish and Swiss members of the commission although both were agreeable to turning over the prisoners on Jan. 20.

The Swiss said in a statement the commission "has no right to declare the restitution of the POWs dependent on the condition that no alteration in their status be made... the commission has never taken such a decision."

The Swedish statement objected that Thimayya's letters "gave the impression of being the unanimous view of the NNRC whereas in almost all cases they represented, in fact, the opinion of the chairman only, or of a majority of the commission."

The other members, Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia, did not make any public comment.

India acted after the Red and UN Commands held firmly to conflicting position which left open the possibility the prisoners in the anti-Red camp might break out on Jan. 23 if not released.

In Washington, U.S. officials indicated they would have preferred that India retain custody until midnight Jan. 22 but that humanitarian principles required the UN Command to receive them Jan. 20.

'Penn State Yankee' Sales Climb to 225

Approximately 225 copies of "Penn State Yankee," the autobiography of former professor Fred Lewis Pattee, have been sold, the office of Public Information reported yesterday.

The book, published by the University, has been on sale since Nov. 21.

'Move-Up' Begins For Frosh Coeds

Move-up day for second semester women begins today, Women's Student Government Association announced last night.

Second semester freshman women will receive 10 o'clock permissions Sunday through Thursday and one o'clock permissions Friday and Saturdays.
