

Wrestlers Battle Lehigh Away; Cagers Meet Crack Navy Five

By SAM PROCOPIO

The hopes of Penn State's wrestling team walking off the mats at Lehigh today with its 31st consecutive victory were lifted yesterday when Coach Charlie Speidel said that Dick Lemyre will wrestle in the 137-pound class.

Penn State's National and Eastern champions, who arrived in Bethlehem yesterday afternoon, will face the unbeaten Lehigh grapplers after the freshman dual meet between Lehigh and West Chester. The latter match is set for 7 p.m.

With Lemyre wrestling, Penn State's problem has been solved. However, Coach Gerald Leeman has had his share of troubles in the same 137-pound class.

He has two of the finest wrestlers in the business in Co-captain Jim Mahoney and Ken Faust, but both have outgrown their weight divisions. Last year, he alternated the two matmen in the 130 and 137-pound classes.

"It is a terrific blow to the team," said Leeman, "to have either Mahoney or Faust on the bench, but is unavoidable. Mahoney struggled to make the 130 pounds last season and Faust was at that weight for the National Championships, but neither boy can get down there this early in the season."

Leeman intends to go with the same lineup that pinned Cornell, Franklin and Marshall, and Penn. Speidel's only change will find Fornicola at 130 and Lemyre at 137.

WRESTLING LINEUP

Penn State	Wt.	Lehigh
Homan	123	McCord
Fornicola	130	Filipos
Lemyre	137	Faust
Maurey	147	Eichelberger
Frey	157	Whited
Krebs	167	Taylor
Dvorozniak	177	Gallagher
Oberly	Hwt.	Comley

Unbeaten Alex McCord, a flashy leg wrestler who rose from obscurity to win the EIWA 123-pound championship last season, will battle State's Bob Homan in the opening encounter. Homan, who usually starts the Lions off on the right foot, will be after his second win, while his opponent will be in search of his third.

Larry Fornicola, who has gone through six dual meets without a defeat, will battle Gus Filipos in the 130-pound class. Filipos, a sophomore who had an outstanding prep school record, is unbeaten in three collegiate matches this season.

What will probably be the most colorful match of the evening, will find Lemyre and Faust wrestling for the 137-pound win. Lemyre takes his opponents, big or small, as they come and he defeats them with the widest assortment of unorthodox holds ever seen in college wrestling. Faust, a brilliant wrestler, was a threat in every respect last year and now looms as the biggest threat to Lemyre's 16 dual meet victory skein.

At 147 pounds, Lehigh fans will see two wrestling machines operate: namely, the Engineers' Ed Eichelberger and the Nittany Lions' co-captain, Jerry Maurey. Eichelberger was winner of all his freshman bouts by pins and runnerup in the National AAU meet last Spring. Maurey, on the other hand, was third runner-up in the Nationals and EIWA champion in the 137-pound class.

Doug Frey, 157-pounder, and Bill Krebs, 167-pounder, will also have their hands full when they meet Dick Whited and Roger Taylor, respectively. Whited, undefeated as a frosh, was a New Jersey state champion as a high school senior. Although Taylor has dropped two decisions this season, he is considered a threat.

George Dvorozniak is considered to have a good chance to win his first match of the campaign against 177-pounder, Dave Gallagher, despite the fact that he will be giving his Lehigh foe a ten pound advantage.

One of the brightest prospects on Speidel's squad is Bill Oberly. Against undefeated Joe Comley, the Nittany Lion's New Jersey State champion will witness his first real test.

Playing on a foreign court for the second time this week, the Penn State basketball team meets Navy this afternoon in what promises to be one of the Lions' biggest tests this year. Game time is set for 2:30 p.m.

Sporting a 6-1 record, the Nittanies take on the crack Middies in dangerous territory. Coach Ben Carnevale's quintet hasn't been beaten for two seasons on their home hardwood and should be just as tough as ever in today's contest.

Have 10-3 Record

The Middies have rolled over ten opponents this year, losing only three games, and have a one-two punch that is as good as any in the nation in the persons of 6-5 forward John Clune and 6-3 center Don Lange. Clune is ranked 21st among the nation's scorers, averaging 23.5 points per game and Lange holds down the 24th spot with a 22.3 average.

In the rest of the Navy lineup, John MacDonnel (6-2) will be at the other forward position and Ken McCally (6-1) and Doran

The game will be televised at 2:30 p.m. over WFBG-TV, channel ten, in Altoona.

Michigan State Names Munn Athletic Head

EAST LANSING, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Two old football buddies took over the two top athletic jobs at Michigan State College today.

Head Football Coach Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn moved up to athletic director to succeed Ralph H. Young.

Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, his line coach who once played under Munn, became head coach.

Munn will officially succeed Young, the retiring director, effective July 1. Daugherty's appointment also had the July 1 date but Munn said: "As far as I'm concerned, he's head coach right now."

The State Board of Agriculture, governing body of MSC, gave the appointment unanimous approval after they were recommended by President Dr. John A. Hannah.

Munn will draw a salary of $16,750 a year, the same pay he made as head coach. He still will be forfeiting an estimated $3500 he collected yearly for radio and television appearances and speaking engagements.

Daugherty will make $13,000 a year.

Pros Juggle Bowl Lineups

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP)—One guess was as good as another regarding the starting lineups, and the coaches were still judging their all-star talent today as they wound up heavy work for the post-season Pro Bowl football tilt Sunday in Memorial Coliseum.

Word from the rival camps—the Eastern division squad, coached by Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns, and the Western Conference outfit, handled by Buddy Parker of the champion Detroit Lions—was most indefinite about starting honors.

2-Hour Ring Session Will End 'Heavy' Workouts for Mittmen

Sparting sessions which have been dominating Nittany boxing practices for two weeks will probably end today. Coach Eddie Sulkowski has scheduled a two-hour afternoon session for more than 23 boxing candidates.

Sulkowski said most of the men will be conditioning themselves in their off-hours during the duration of final examinations.

"During the mid-semester break," Sulkowski explained, "the boys will stay here."

Although Sulkowski has been keeping a eye on the men sparring each afternoon, he hasn't made any choices for his eight-man squad.

"I've got some good looking boys," Sulkowski commented, "but it is entirely too early to say definitely who will box, and at what weight."

Asked if the quality among the present candidates meant the Lions would improve their hapless 1-6 record of last year, Sulkowski said he didn't know.

"Our squad may show improvement, but the big question is what our opponents have in the way of veterans and new talent,"

Sandlin (6-0) will be at the guard posts.

The Middies are traditionally a running team and this year has been no exception. Carnevale is one of the biggest exponents in the country of the fast-break game and his teams clearly show it. Led by Clune and Lange, the Midshipmen score heavily with their running attack. They are ranked 28th in the nation this week with a 76.5 scoring average.

However, the big question in this contest is whether Carnevale's sprinters will be as effective against the Lions' combination pressing-zone defense. Coach Elmer Gross' system has been very effective against other fast-breaking teams this season including a charging West Virginia quintet that the Lions whipped 74-66 on Wednesday.

Zone Most Effective

The Lions had trouble with the Mountaineers early in the contest, playing a man-for-man defensive game, but soon stopped them when they switched back into their air-tight zone.

Once again the key man offensively for the Lions will be Jesse Arnelle, who ranks 50th among the nation's scorers with an 18.8 average in seven games. The giant junior also is out in front in the Lion rebounding department and has constantly been the main cog in the Nittany attack.

The rest of the Nittany lineup will include Captain Jack Sherry and Jim Blocker at the forwards and Ron Weidenhammer and Ed Haag at the guards.

Gym Champs Meet Tonight

Assisting Cronstedt in the United States' first bid for an international gymnastic victory will be Co-captain Al and Frank Wick, Karl Schwenzfeier, Manuel Procopio, Bob Lawrence, Hugh Cline, Dick Spiese, and Paul Heim.

Schwenzfeier, Spiese, and Procopio are all-around performers, Lawrence, Frank Wick, and Heim will perform on the side horse, and Al Wick and Spiese will compete on the parallel bars.

Thoreson, Anders Lindh, and Borje Stattin will spearhead the European entry.

There will be four judges for the meet. The highest point scorer in each event will take first place in that event and will provide his team with six points. The second highest scorer will furnish his team four points, and the third highest scorer in any one event will secure three team points and so on through the fifth place winner.

The most points that can be scored by either team will be 13 and the lowest three. The most points possible for one team to score for the entire match is 78.

Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's physical education honorary, will sell programs at the meet as part of a service project.

Station WDFM will carry the opening ceremonies beginning at 7:30. The program will include a welcoming address by Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education and Athletics, and the acceptance by the Swedish ambassador.

The Associated Press reported Governor John S. Fine, who expected to attend the meet, is at the present attending a secret GOP political meeting in Philadelphia and probably will be unable to attend.

The Swedes have thus far appeared at the United States Military Academy, Panzer College, East Orange, N.J., and the New York Athletic Club. They received a tremendous ovation at each performance. Sunday afternoon they will travel to Lock Haven State Teachers College, continuing their nationwide tour of 34 American universities, colleges, and gymnastic centers.

Their stop at the University is considered one of the highlights of their tour, and is one of only five competitive meets. All other appearances will be exhibitions.
