

Dunlap Urges Car Registration

Cars of students, faculty members, graduate students, and University employees should be registered with the Campus Patrol whether or not parking permits had been issued to them, according to a recommendation made to All-College Cabinet Thursday night by James Dunlap, Traffic Court chairman.

Hat Council Discusses New Tapping Basis

Hat Society Council Wednesday night discussed the possibility of eliminating applications as the basis for tapping men and instituting instead an activity file system in the Dean of Men's office.

The file would be similar to that in the Dean of Women's office which is used by women's hat societies.

Men would be responsible for keeping their activity file cards up to date, and men's hat societies would check the cards for spring and fall tapping prospects. The change would be designed to increase the prestige of hat society membership, Richard Gibbs, president of the council, said.

Gibbs named Norman Hickey, Roberta Sankey, Jean Yemm, and John Speer to a committee to investigate and suggest a project for the council.

The council previously discussed sending a State College High School senior to the Pennsylvania Leadership Camp for a week during the summer. Gibbs said the cost would be approximately $30.

Gibbs said the council intends to keep a file of progress reports of the member societies. He asked that hat societies regularly submit reports.

John Speer, president of Blue Key, reported that Blue Key and Chimes will sponsor a Valentine party for underprivileged children from Woodcrest Sunday afternoon at Phi Gamma Delta.

Tryouts Set For Festival

Students who want to try out for the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Reading Festival may sign up between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in 304 Sparks, according to William Hamilton, associate professor of speech.

Preliminary tryouts for the festival will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 23 in 305 Sparks. Hamilton and Mrs. Harriet Nesbitt, associate professor of public speaking, will select ten contestants to enter final tryouts March 2 in Simmons lounge. This program will represent the monthly reading hour.

Judges, who will be members of the Speech department, will select four winners. Three will represent the University in the Pennsylvania Interpretive Reading Festival. The other will compete in the Eastern Intercollegiate Poetry Reading Festival at Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

Paul Brobst Wins Old Gold Citation

Our praises and a carton of Old Golds to Paul for outstanding work as president of Engineering Student Council and as Co-Editor of Penn State Engineer.

Old Golds offer busy campus leaders the pleasant relaxation of a really good smoke. No charts and graphs, just a simple Treat instead of a Treatment in Regular or King Size.

Dunlap's recommendation, one of a series of three designed to increase the efficiency of the court and end the accumulation of unheard violations cases, was aimed at those students who do not register their cars in the hope of "beating the system." Dunlap cited the possibility of a student committing numerous violations and escaping punishment because his car is not registered.

'Unfair Enforcement'
Dunlap's second recommendation, a study of the alleged inequality of traffic violation punishments between students and faculty stemmed from charges made earlier this week by Captain Philip Mark of the Campus Patrol that the present system of enforcement is unfair because students are fined and others are not.

Mark pointed out that graduate students who violate the parking regulations are warned by the Dean of the College in which they are doing graduate work. Deans are also told when faculty members of their Colleges violate traffic regulations. Enforcement measures are entirely in their hands, Mark said.

Fine Plan Review
Dunlap's third recommendation called for a review of the fine system. Under the present plan, students are fined $1 for the first offense and $4 for the second offense. A third offense is referred to the Dean's office with a recommendation that the car be sent home.

The new traffic system is "working very well" as far as the Dean of Men's office is concerned, Frank J. Simes, dean of men, said yesterday.

Approximately six to 12 students who failed to appear in the Campus Patrol office within the 24 hour period have appeared each day in his office, Simes said. Many of these paid their fines there, he added.

No Protests As Yet
There have been no protests to the new system, Simes said.

Cabinet also heard a report Thursday night from Thomas Kidd, a member of the cabinet student leadership training committee. Kidd reported the leadership training course will begin March 6 and continue for six weeks with one class being held each week. These classes will be open to anyone interested in attending, Kidd reported.

An amendment to the All-College constitution which would change the word college to university and school to college everytime they appear in the constitution was read and approved for the second time.

Grad Study Carrells

Graduate students and faculty members who have signed up for study carrells in the new wing of the library may receive definite assignments from Elsa Lisle in the Circulation department.

Lawrence E. Dennis
Prexy's New Assistant

Dennis Named Administrative Aid to Prexy

Lawrence E. Dennis, formerly special assistant to the U.S. Commissioner of Education, has been named administrative assistant to President Milton S. Eisenhower.

Dennis will fill the vacancy left last September when Richard C. Maloney resigned to become assistant dean of the College of the Liberal Arts.

Dennis is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers College, and holds a M.A. degree in journalism from the University of Minnesota. He has completed much of the work toward his doctorate at the State University of Iowa.

As special assistant to the Commissioner of Education he aided in preparation of documents dealing with educational policy and participated in program planning for the office. He has served on the faculty at Kansas State College and at the State University of Iowa.

For the past two years Dennis has been a member of the editorial writing staff of the Des Moines, Iowa, Register and Tribune, contributing editorials and features concerning education, government, and other aspects of public affairs.

Group to Hear Senate Report

Social chairmen of sororities, fraternities, and independent social units will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Grange lounge to discuss the report of a special committee on recreation by the Senate committee on student welfare, Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, has announced.

Perkins is chairman of the special committee. Other committee members are Mary E. Brewer, assistant to the dean of women; Anne Free, assistant professor of home-community relationships; Harold B. White Jr., assistant professor of physical education; Marion Barasch, graduate assistant in speech; and Bernard Gruber, who graduated from the University last month.

Grad Students Seek Voice in Cabinet

A Graduate Student Council move to petition All-College Cabinet for representation on cabinet, was approved by the council Thursday night.

The action was taken after Gene Love, council president, reported on a recent interview with All-College President Richard Lemyre. Lemyre, Love said, had asked if the council would like cabinet representation, and had said that petitioning would be necessary before any definite action could be taken.

The results of the recent graduate student survey on proposed fee increases for graduate students were thrown out, because council believed the survey was not a representative sampling of graduate students.

256 Return Questionnaires
Only 256 of approximately 1500 graduate students returned the questionnaires which were distributed with the fall semester issue of the Graduate School Newsletter.

Of the 256, more than 200 said they were opposed to any fee increases.

A committee composed of Agnes Doody, Rozann Brooks, and Moylan Mills will investigate possible ways of contacting a majority of graduate students and will conduct a new poll.

"We feel the issue is too important to reach a decision without the opinions of a majority of the students," Mills said.

$10 Fee Increase
The fee proposals in the questionnaires included an increase of about $10 per semester to entitle graduate students to Athletic Association books; an increase of about $1 per semester to entitle them to the Daily Collegian; or an increase of about $11 per semester for both.

Graduate students received AA books last semester but they did not receive them this semester and will not in the future unless the fee increase is approved. At present graduate students are not entitled to the Daily Collegian.

Council Fees Total $138
Approximately $138 was collected in graduate student council fees from part-time graduate students at registration. David English, registration committee chairman, announced. In the past the council had not been able to collect the fee from those students carrying less than 12 credits per semester, who paid only for each credit they were carrying.

2 Hat Societies To Fete Children

Members of Blue Key, junior hat society, and Chimes, junior women's hat society, will entertain 20 underprivileged children from Woodcrest from 2 to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at Phi Gamma Delta.

The children will be given gifts, entertained with games, and served refreshments. Alexander Zurbir and Gail Green are co-chairmen of the Valentine party.

FIND THE RIGHT JOB AFTER COLLEGE

NAS Service Helps You NOW—

Newly developed career plan open to students of all classes—at no cost or obligation.

If you're like most college students, you probably haven't made up your mind what you're going to do after graduation. There's no more reliable source of advice than your own College Placement Bureau.

To further clarify your thinking, to help you decide where your particular skills will find the greatest opportunities by comparing one field against another, NAS has opened the way for you to secure first hand information from leading companies in the fields that interest you most.

NAS can do this because, as advertising representatives of more than 700 college newspapers, we are in daily contact with many of the most important and progressive companies in America. These companies not only constantly seek college-trained men and women, but often plan far ahead in competing with one another for the most promising prospects.

So, you see, this new NAS career plan is a service both to college students and business leaders. Here's how it works:

The coupon below indicates the fields in which the greatest opportunities exist today. You check those that interest you as a possible career. We'll do our best to see that your inquiry is referred to one or more of the leading companies in those fields. Of course, we can't guarantee a response. We're merely volunteering our services as a link between the campus and the business world. But in many cases you'll hear directly from leading companies in the fields you've chosen.

Their information should first of all give you a practical, down-to-earth picture of what the industry itself offers in the way of a career. Secondly, at the company level, it may include valuable facts and figures about working conditions, pay, and chances for promotion. Finally, filling in this coupon may even lead to job offers that would otherwise never have come your way.

So act now. If you're a junior, or even a sophomore, it's not too soon to join the seniors in considering a business career. The sooner you start, the more information you collect, the better your chances to find the right job after college.
