

Dance Theme to Be Alice-in-Wonderland

The story book characters, Alice and the King and Queen of Hearts, will decorate White Hall for the annual Sweetheart Dance from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday.

"Alice in Wonderland" will be the theme of the semi-formal dance sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association. Jack Huber and his orchestra, accompanied by vocalist Frances Spatafore, second semester arts and letters major, will play.

Tickets for the dance are on sale for $1.75 per couple at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Alice, made of paper mache, will step from a story book at the entrance to the White Hall gymnasium.

The King and Queen of Hearts will decorate the band stand opposite the entrance. Four eight-foot playing cards will be placed around the room.

A royal garden of white trees decorated with red hearts will surround the sweetheart wishing well at the left end of the room. Two life-size paper mache figures will be silhouetted against an eight-foot heart at the right end.

The Sweetheart Dance has been sponsored by WRA for the past 15 years. The dance is traditionally a Valentine girl-ask-boy event.

Proceeds from the dance will be given to WRA's foster child Marie Aftanas, 14-year-old Polish refugee in the American zone of Germany. Marie, adopted by WRA through the Foster Parent's Plan for War Children, Inc., has been receiving about $180 yearly from WRA since October 1952.

Proceeds from the dance originally were given to a scholarship fund until 1945. Since then the proceeds have been given to three war orphans.

WRA Names Elections Head

Kathleen Queensberry has been named elections chairman for the Women's Recreation Association elections to be held sometime in March. Barbara Wallace, WRA president, announced.

A Play Day planned for Feb. 27 will include swimming, basketball, bowling, and badminton. In charge of getting participants for each sport are Virginia Rogers, bowling; Joan Shillis, badminton; Marie Wogan, basketball; and Patricia Colgan, swimming.

Also planned by WRA is a Penn State Sports Day on March 6. Teams from six schools, the University, Bucknell University, Lock Haven State Teachers College, Mansfield State Teachers College, Juniata College, and Lycoming College will participate in badminton, swimming, basketball, bowling, and modern dance. A supper will follow the sporting events.

Scrolls Considers National Affiliation

Scrolls, senior women's hat society, is considering the possibility of organizing a national women's hat society with women from other colleges and universities.

Circulars will be sent to schools throughout the country to inquire if students there would be interested in such organization, Nancy Meyers, historian, said.

The group will entertain the Senior Citizens, an organization for State College residents over 65 years of age, on Feb. 23. Scrolls will also usher at the Community Forum tonight.

When Loues won the first Olympic marathon, his reception was so great that women threw jewelry at his feet.

70 Coeds Attend Panhel Fireside In Frosh Dorm

By PEGGY McCLAIN

"What are the woman student's chances of being bid by a sorority?" was freshman women's main concern at the Panhellenic Council fireside discussion Tuesday night in McAllister Hall.

Approximately 70 freshman women from McAllister Hall, more than half the number living in that unit, attended the discussion. Jane Bishop, chairman of the group, said the response and attendance were far better than she and the council had hoped for.

The talk was the first in a series of discussions on "What Sorority Offers You" to be sponsored by the council this semester.

Miss Bishop said the women were interested chiefly in their chances of being bid to a sorority, what type of clothes to wear during the rushing program, scholastic averages required for membership, and sorority-fraternity social events.

The women attending the discussion will be eligible for rushing in the fall semester or when they are third semester students.

Discussion leaders included Miss Bishop, eighth semester home economics major, Marilyn Buzby, eighth semester pre-medical major, Norma Reck, sixth semester education major, and Mary Heckman, sixth semester medical technician major.

Three more discussions on sororities will be held by the council in Woman's Building, first and second floors in Thompson Hall, and the third and fourth floors in Thompson.

Approximately 40 students have registered this semester for informal rushing. The council has requested that those women wishing to visit sororities sign in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

To be eligible for rushing, women must be at least third semester students and have a 1.0 All-University average.

Fraternities Asked For RIL Cards

Thirty-one professors have agreed to participate in fireside talks at fraternities as a part of the 1953-54 Religion-in-Life Week program. A list of these professors and their fields has been sent to the fraternities with return-post-cards.

Fraternities are requested to return cards to the Religion in Life office, 304 Old Main, naming the desired date for a talk and the preferred speakers. Information concerning the topic to be discussed should be included.

Thompson Triumphs, Will Play in Finals

By NANCY FORTNA

Thompson Hall 3 and 4, League 1 winners, defeated Kappa Alpha Theta, League 3 winners, 31-18, last night in White Hall to take the second semi-final playoff game in WRA intramural basketball.

Kappa Alpha Theta took the lead with a free throw by Patricia Farrell, but it never had the lead again.

Although the score seems to indicate a one-sided game, it was a well-played game throughout.

Nancy Sauer, playing forward position for Thompson, was high scorer for the evening with a total of 16 points. Janet Feaster was the spark plug of the sorority team with 11 points.

Thompson Meets Leonides

Thompson 3 and 4 will meet Leonides, League 5 winners, at 6:15 tonight on the White Hall courts to play the deciding game of the WRA intramural basketball season.

Thompson 3 and 4 previously beat McAllister Hall, Woman's Building, Atherton Hall, and Thompson 1 and 2. Kappa Alpha Theta beat Co-op, Alpha Kappa Alpha and Kappa Delta in League 3, and Zeta Tau Alpha on Monday night in League 4.

Winning Players

Players for the winning team were Meredith Miller, captain; Martha Rankin, Nancy Sauer, Yvonne Anthony, Margaret Forster, Ann Forster, Elizabeth Ives, Margaret Choate, and Miriam Jones.

Janet Feaster, Robert Sankey, Mary McMullen, Patricia Farrell, Betty Weston, Kathleen Greytok, and Jane Lamont played for Kappa Alpha Theta.

Quarter scores were 6 to 4, 14 to 9, 19 to 12, and 31 to 18 with the freshmen leading all the way.

The winner of the game tonight will receive points toward the WRA participation cup.

Freshmen Discuss May Day Election

Freshman Council last night discussed the election of maid of honor for May Day. The maid of honor is chosen by the freshman class from candidates selected in dormitory house meetings. Candidates must have a 5 by 7 inch picture by March 1.

The enforcement of quiet hours was also taken up as a result of the high percentage of freshman women on academic probation.

Thru the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

Hi gang! You thought that finals was the end of me, but I've been reincarnated in the form of a Saturday class (choose the lesser of two evils). It's just great getting back to waiting in yea long lines to buy books and walking over the campus mud and lime (awk, my suede loafers). Better yet, this crazy blazer and denim jacket weather—pretty soon it will be time to open my coke stand at Whipples.

But that can wait—ETHEL'S can't, that is for you to come in and start the semester off right. We hope you made the Wonderland your shopping center for Valentines. Hate post mortems, but we must say they were the greatest—to say the least. The birthday cards are still still abundant and magnifique.

Can't tell a Coed from a College Joe

With the way these gals have taken to Hathaways, button-downs and tab collars. They're classic all right and these girls wear 'em as well as their big brothers. But how much more Ivy they would look with collar safety pins—plain or pearled. Or a slim arrow pin that looks like it was just snapped from a Commanche's bow. Or just a gold clip for a neat finishing touch. Yes, no need to steal That Guy's old Manhattan, we've come into our own; and they button on the right side to boot!

Good things come in small packages

Or let's just say good things come in packages—especially those attractively wrapped. Any gift (excepting a bundle of 50's) will be more appreciated with bright, gay paper and saucy bow. ETHEL'S has the prettiest, most unusual in wrappings and ribbons, ever to be ripped off a gift. They're fun to receive and fun to wrap—these wrappings are worth the extra effort. Why I wouldn't accept a gift that wasn't wrapped con decor—not even from ETHEL'S (Holdit, don't tear up your Collegian contract, I apologize). Be seeing you . . .
