

Cabinet Drops Enrollment Unit

The All-University enrollment committee was abolished by All-University Cabinet Thursday night. The cabinet action followed a report by John Speer, committee chairman, in which he stated the committee had outlasted the University's need.

In his report, Speer explained that the enrollment committee was formed by the student body five years ago at a time when the University was having trouble attracting new students.

2 Honoraries Will Present Joint Concert

The Louise Homer Club, women's music honorary, and Phi Mu Alpha, men's national music honorary, will present their annual combined concert at 3 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The program is open to the public, free of charge.

Included in the concert will be a woodwind quintet, flute trio, brass quartet, string quartet, piano duet, and a mixed chorus.

The works of early composers will be featured in the program. Mozart's "String Quartet No. 19" will be played by the string quartet. The flute trio will play Mozart's "Titus" and a Bach fuguetta.

"Fantasy No. 1" (Jenkins) and "Paduane VI" (Posch) will be presented by the brass quintet. The woodwind quintet will play a large from the string quartet "Opus 76, No. 5" (Haydn) and "Joyful Dance" (McKay).

The first movement of Mozart's "Piano Concerto" will be played in a piano duet.

The combined chorus of the Louis Homer Club and Phi Mu Alpha will sing "Crux Fidelis" (John IV, King of Portugal), "Welcome Sweet Pleasure" (Weelkes), and "An Evening Hymn" (Purcell).

PiKPhi Basement Damaged by Fire

A fire Thursday night in the basement furnace room of Pi Kappa Phi caused slight damage.

The fire started when pledge Don Ziegler, fourth semester business administration major, lit a cigarette which caused floor wax fumes to ignite. Ziegler received minor burns on the hand.

Alpha Fire Co. was summoned, but members of the fraternity were able to extinguish the flames before the company arrived.

Monday Is Deadline For Washington Trip

Students may sign up until Monday for the Young Republicans' Washington trip, March 8 and 9, Benjamin Sinclair, club president, said yesterday.

Students on the trip will have lunch with Sen. Joseph Martin, Sinclair said, and will also meet Senators James Duff, Irving Ives, and Joseph McCarthy.

Interested students may contact Carl Saperstein to sign up for the trip.

Ag Speech Tournament To Be Held

The Paul R. Guldin Agricultural Speaking Contest, open to undergraduates in the College of Agriculture, will get under way with an organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, in 103 Agriculture.

A student who wishes to participate in the contest may choose his subject as long as it is about agriculture or rural living. The subject must be original and the speech must be in the student's own words. Topics will be approved and recorded at the preliminary meeting.

Two speeches about the same topic will be required from each entrant. The first talk should be five minutes long and will be delivered in the semi-finals which will be held on March 15. The second should be eight to ten minutes in length and will be given in the finals to be held on March 16. Approximately 20 per cent of the participants will be chosen to speak in the finals.

Judges for the contest will be Edward R. Gilkey, instructor in speech; Roy C. Buck, assistant professor of rural sociology; and Henry S. Brunner, professor of agricultural education.

Speakers will be judged on their directness and bodily participation in delivery, selection of subject, audibility and understandability, clearness and correctness.

Winners will be announced during Ag Activities Night, March 17. First prize will be $50 and a gold medal while the second place award will be $25 and a silver medal.

446 Students Vote For Campus Queen

Four hundred and forty-six students have cast ballots for Penn State's queen in the Pittsburgh Press campus queen contest. The deadline for voting is 5 p.m. Monday.

Students may vote by showing matriculation cards at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Ballots will be counted Monday night and the winner of the contest will be announced in Tuesday's Daily Collegian.

Penn State's queen will be chosen from six finalists—Alyce Cheney, Maureen Flannery, Louise Justin, Mary Pera, Carlene Samuels, and Marjorie Schenck.

Pictures Posted

Pictures of the finalists are posted in the lobby of Old Main and in a window of the Athletic Store.

A special picture of Penn State's queen will be taken by the Department of Public Information and forwarded to contest headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The Press will publish pictures of the candidates in the ROTO section of the paper April 11. Thirty colleges and universities are entered in the contest.

Final Balloting

Press readers will select a final winner by sending in ballots printed in the Press. A full-color picture of the intercollegiate queen will appear on the cover of the ROTO section sometime in May.

Finalists in the University contest were chosen from 99 candidates on the basis of their photographs. Contestants in the Press intercollegiate contest will be judged on the same basis.

Coeds entered in the contest may pick up their pictures at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Former Student To Go Free In Book Theft

No charges will be placed against a former eighth semester education major accused of stealing books from residents of second floor McKee Hall, unless he returns to the University, Dean of Men Frank J. Simes has announced.

According to James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, the student used a pass key to enter rooms in the building and took approximately $100 worth of books. Some books were sold at the Used Book Agency, but money was given to owners for them, Dean said. Approximately 18 books were returned.

The student tried to enter another college, Simes said, but was refused admission because of a "hold" the University had placed on his transcript. He informed the Dean of Men's office he was entering the service and declined to return to campus to face charges before the Senate committee on student affairs' subcommittee on discipline.

Dean said a clear-cut case was obtained against the student. Samples of his handwriting on the book receipts were turned over to Mary L. Willard, professor of chemistry and amateur criminologist, who reported all samples matched.

Dean said cooperation of UBA members with the investigation was "wonderful."

The student withdrew from the University voluntarily, Dean added.

Hunter Will Address Architecture Students

John Hunter, Altoona architect, will speak to the student chapter of the American Institute of Architects at 8 p.m. Monday in 107 Main Engineering.

Hunter's speech will deal with school building design. It is open to the public.

Deadline Is Set For Soph Queen Contest Entries

Entries in the sophomore class queen contest may be submitted to the Student Union desk in Old Main until noon March 12, Janet McKee, co-chairman, has announced.

The contest is being run in conjunction with the semi-formal sophomore spring prom, March 20. Any sophomore woman sponsored by a campus organization may compete.

Postcards will be mailed this weekend to fraternities, sororities, and other campus groups urging their participation in the contest, Miss McKee said.

The minimum size for photos of contestants is 2½ by 4 inches. Five finalists will be chosen to appear at the dance where the queen will be selected. Names of contest judges will be announced later.

Language Examinations To Be Given Monday

Examinations for candidates for advanced degrees in foreign languages will be given from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday. The Spanish exam will be held in 127 Sparks, German in 228 Sparks, and French in 316 Sparks.

Prize Offered In Essay Contest

Five hundred dollars will be awarded to the undergraduate college student who writes the best essay on "Communism and Academic Freedom."

The essay, limited to 2000 words, must be submitted by March 1 to the Mathews Award Editor, the American Mercury, 11 E. 36th street, New York 16, N.Y. The winner will be announced April 1.

Student Teachers To Order Gowns

Seniors being graduated in June who will be practice teaching during the second eight weeks of the semester may sign up for caps and gowns Tuesday through next Saturday at the Athletic Store.

Invitations and announcements may be ordered during the same period at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

FFA to Meet Monday

The Future Farmers of America will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in 102 Agriculture Education. A movie on the silver anniversary of the F.F.A. convention at Kansas City will be shown.

Solution to Phone Question Requires Common Courtesy

By ANN SAYLOR

No doubt, at least once, when a Penn Stater has picked up the telephone to call that important friend the answer has been, "Sorry, no lines are available right now."

According to Robert Sigworth, Supervisor of Utilities, there cannot possibly be enough equipment installed to handle all the calls people want to make during the period from 6:30 to 10 p.m. each night. The answer to this problem seems to be common courtesy, since for every half hour a student takes to make a phone call, 30 others are being deprived from a one minute call.

The phone service here at the University differs from that of other large institutions in that there are fewer restrictions placed upon the women students in using the telephone, and dormitory switch boards are not used.

The switch board system was set up in 1925 when the dormitory and administration boards were combined. This system was continued until 1938 when a separate dormitory switch board was included in the construction of Atherton Hall. After Simmons and McElwain Halls were built in 1950, the board was moved to the basement of Simmons where it is today.

Five regular and 13 part time operators are employed to handle the campus phone calls made by students. During the busy evening hours, students' wives who have had previous Bell Telephone experience substitute for the regular force.

During the busy periods, an extra operator is on duty to handle requests for information. Since it is impossible to give out directory information, such requests are often referred to the Registrar's office, basement of Willard Hall.

The switch board itself has positions for eight operators and is classified as hotel board by the Bell Telephone Co., so that a 10 cent charge is made for each outside call. To handle these town and long distance calls, 65 lines are connected to the State College Bell Telephone board.

Special regulations for the use of phones have been set up by the administration. These regulations include a 12 p.m. deadline daily for men and a 10 p.m. deadline Sunday through Thursday for women. Women are given a 12 p.m. limit on Friday and Saturday nights. Long distance and emergency calls may be made at any time.
