

Lions Open NCAA Cage Quest Tonight Against Toledo Five

By DICK McDOWELL

The Penn State basketball team faces the acid test tonight at Fort Wayne, Ind., where it battles a top-notch Toledo University quintet in the first round of the NCAA eliminations.

The Lions, who finished their regular season Saturday with a resounding 67-52 win against Temple, will be making their third attempt for honors in the national tourney.

The opening tip-off is scheduled for 10:45 p.m. EST following the Notre Dame-Loyola contest. Station WMAJ will reconstruct the game from Western Union wire and broadcast it play-by-play beginning at 11 p.m.

Capacity Crowd Expected

Coach Elmer Gross and his ten-man squad left State College late Sunday night and went through a light workout on the Coliseum floor yesterday afternoon. A capacity crowd is expected at the huge arena tonight to witness the doubleheader.

The Lions carry a 14-5 record into the game and they'll be meeting one of the best college quintets in the Mid-West. The Rockets, Mid-America Conference champions, have been given a three-point edge on the Nittanians.

Rockets Have 13-9 Record

The Rockets won only 13 games during the regular season, dropping nine, but can boast of some very outstanding accomplishments. In winning the conference (10-2) they topped NIT entry Bowling Green. But probably more outstanding was their performance against powerful Duquesne. They bowed to the Dukes by only two points, and only after leading until the last minute of play.

Six men form the warhead on Coach Jerry Bush's entry. The big man will be forward Phil Martin (6-1), a high scoring senior who tossed in 420 points during the regular season. Behind him comes forward John Paxdzior (6-2), center Bruce Sprice (6-6), and guards Jim Hafer (6-1) and Jim Ray (5-10). The sixth man

(Continued on page seven)

Debate Teams Rank 5th, 12th In Tournament

The men's debate team placed 5th and the women's squad ranked 12th out of 17 schools Saturday in the Mount Mercy Invitational Tournament.

Sidney Goldblatt and Richard Kirschner defeated the negative teams of St. Vincent's College and West Virginia University on the problem, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a policy of free trade." They were defeated by John Carroll University debaters.

Benjamin Sinclair and David Meckler won debates against both men and women's teams from Allegheny College. They lost to Westminster College.

Barbara Menapase and Lois Hummell, debating the affirmative of the foreign trade question, defeated Carnegie Tech. They were defeated by the Pitt women.

(Continued on page eight)

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 54, No. 95 STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 9, 1954 FIVE CENTS

Parties Nominate Election Candidates

Jesse Arnelle, junior class vice president, Robert Smoot, campus National Student Association coordinator, and Lewis Wade, secretary-treasurer of the Mineral Industries student council, were nominated for All-University president at preliminary nomination clique meetings Sunday.

Lion party named Arnelle and Smoot. State party nominated Wade.

Final party nominations and elections of candidates will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday. Spring elections for All-University, class, and Athletic Association offices will be held April 7 and 8.

Other All-University candidates named by the parties Sunday are William Rother, sixth semester forestry major, State, vice president; Jerry Donovan, sixth semester labor management relations major, Lion, secretary-treasurer; Robert Homan, junior class president, State, secretary-treasurer.

There were no Lion party nominations for All-University vice president.

Lion party senior class presidential nominations are John Speer, president of Blue Key, and Kaye Vinson, sixth semester arts and letters major.

State party named Donald Balthaser, sixth semester business administration major, for senior class president.

Lion party nominated John Thalimer, fourth semester electrical engineering major, for junior class president.

State party did not nominate for junior class president. Others receiving nominations are Richard Hurlbrink, sixth semester horticulture major, State, senior class vice president; Marilyn Schadt, sixth semester education major, and Charlotte Lutinski, sixth semester medical technology major, Lion, senior class secretary-treasurer; and Faith Gallagher, sixth semester sociology major, State, senior class secretary-treasurer.

Earl Seely, fourth semester electrical engineering major, Lion, junior class vice president; John Kraft, fourth semester labor management relations major, State, junior class vice president; Marian Ludwig, fourth semester home economics major and Judith Sedor, fourth semester arts and letters major, Lion, junior class secretary-treasurer; and Patricia Dickinson, fourth semester journalism major, and Fay Hilberg, fourth semester business administration major, State, junior class secretary-treasurer.

There were no nominations for (Continued on page eight)

AIM Board Acts in Gun, Beer Case

The case of two students charged with possession and use of alcoholic beverages and with keeping a revolver in their dormitory was recommended to the Senate committee on student affairs yesterday by the Association of Independent Men, judicial board of review.

In forwarding the case to the higher authority, the board gave as its reason the fact that they had no punishment severe enough. While recommending action by the senate committee, however, the board asked that the penalty be something less than expulsion or suspension.

Other action taken by the board was recommending the placing of a second semester resident of Irvin Hall on office probation for the remainder of the semester for drinking in his dormitory.

Charges against the two in the first case, residents of Hamilton Hall, included keeping beer in their room, drinking beer and liquor in their room on the night of the offense, February 20, keeping a revolver in their room, and handling it during the course of the evening of the party.

John Ball, head of the AIM board, said he felt in this case the board's penalties of board or office probation were not severe enough. He stressed the danger involved in handling firearms saying, "It's not what happened, but what could have happened."

In recommending office probation for the Irvin Hall student, Ball explained the penalty meant the offender's name would be on record in the Dean of Men's office but nothing would go on his permanent records. If, however, he makes another mistake, Ball said, he would have to go before the Senate committee on student affairs with the possibility that both offenses would be put on his record.

Prof to Speak On Leadership

Joseph F. O'Brien, professor of public speaking, will address cabinet's leadership training course on "Parliamentary Procedure" at 7 tonight in 110 Electrical Engineering.

Sixty-three students have registered for the six-week training course, Charles McClintock, program chairman, has announced. Students may register until noon today at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Cost for the course is $1.25.

Other topics in the course include the responsibility of leadership, organization of Penn State student government, reports, records, correspondence, publicity and public relations, delegating responsibility, working with advisers, and program content.

Frosh Council to Meet

Freshman Council will meet at 6:30 tonight in 103 Willard.

TODAY'S WEATHER

FAIR AND WARMER

Kenworthy Clarifies Frosh Dating Rule

Under the Senate-approved chaperoned dating code which will go into effect Sept. 1, 1954, there will be no differentiation between freshman and upperclass women in regard to fraternity dating, according to Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs.

Present regulations of the Senate committee on student affairs do not permit freshman women to attend fraternity functions where chaperons are not present, Kenworthy said.

Under the new policy chaperons will be present at all fraternity dating functions except in houses with "dry" status.

Fraternities who petition for and are granted "dry" classification will be permitted to have women guests in the houses unchaperoned from 5 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and from noon to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Freshman regulations of Women's Student Government Association state that permissions and regulations concerning dating in fraternity houses are set up by IFC and the Senate committee on student affairs.

"These regulations and permissions," the WSGA regulations booklet states, "will be announced at the beginning of each semester and subsequent changes in said regulations will be announced as occasion demands."

According to Kenworthy, future Senate committee dating regulations will apply to all women students rather than deal specifically with freshmen.

WSGA rules provide that first semester freshman women may associate with men until 5:30 p.m. on weekdays after the period of customs ends. First semester freshman women may date after noon Friday and Saturday and until 5:30 p.m. Sunday, the rules stipulate.

During the second semester dating restrictions within prescribed hours are removed.

The new University policy of chaperoned dating provides that dating in fraternity houses end at 8 p.m. on Sunday. Under the unchaperoned dating code now in effect dating in fraternity houses is permitted until 11 p.m.

The change, Kenworthy explained, is in accordance with the (Continued on page eight)

IFC Positions Still Open, 3 Posts Vacant

Nominations are still open for men interested in holding next year's Interfraternity Council posts and early candidates will be announced at tomorrow night's IFC meeting.

IFC President Thomas Schott said he is now receiving self-nominations addressed to him and left at the Student Union desk in Old Main. He said last night he did not have a complete list of those who had nominated themselves for IFC posts up till then.

Qualifications which a candidate for the offices vacant must meet as stated in the IFC constitution, are that he have a 1.0 all-University average and be a senior during his entire year in office. Posts open will be president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer. These posts are now held by Schott, Edwin Kohn, and Alan McChesney, respectively.

Schott said nominees will be introduced at tomorrow night's meeting and again at the next IFC meeting one week later along with any new candidates. Elections will be held March 31, Schott said, so the new officers may be introduced at the IFC-Panhellenic spring banquet April 1.

Prexy Attends Funeral Of Washington Relative

President and Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower were called to Washington last Friday because of the sudden death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. John R. Eakin. Funeral services were held Monday in Washington.

Unite and Stop Russia - Dulles

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 8 (AP)—Moscow seeks to bring parts of the Western Hemisphere into the Soviet Orbit, Secretary of State Dulles said today.

The secretary urged the American republics to take united action to thwart any such designs. He addressed the 10th Inter-American Conference in support of a U.S. anti-communist resolution and soon afterwards cancelled speaking engagements in the United States. The explanation given was that he wanted to remain here and direct personally the U.S. campaign for the resolution.

Dulles began by reading a stern lecture to Guatemala on the meaning of international communism. Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello of that Red-tinged Central American republic had said he didn't know. When Dulles finished, the Guatemalan said he still didn't know.

International communism, President Eisenhower's top diplomat explained, "is that far-flung clandestine political organization which is operated by the leaders of the Communist party of the Soviet Union. Since 1939 it has brought 15 once independent nations into a state of abject servitude. It has a hard core of agents in practically every country of the world. The total constitutes not a theory, not a doctrine, but an aggressive, tough political force backed by great resources and serving the most ruthless empire of modern times."

He called on the Americas to spring into united action if one of them fell victim.

Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Paraguay, Nicaragua and Honduras immediately threw their support to this new "Dulles doctrine." Mexico submitted an amendment expanding such joint action to all forms of totalitarianism.

With a lengthy debate apparently in sight, Dulles called off a speaking engagement at the Philadelphia Bulletin Forum Wednesday.

Toriello sat silent while delegates gave Dulles a 26-second burst of applause for his definition and then said he was still unsatisfied.

He asked whether the label could be pinned on normal trade and diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, "the struggle against imperialism and economic privilege," "the raising of coffee prices in the United States," or the "struggle for peace."

U.S. officials have charged in the past that Reds occupy important posts in Guatemala and wield considerable influence with his leftwing government.

ROTO Section Will Feature Cheney Photo

A picture of Alyce Cheney, the University's entry in the Pittsburgh Press campus queen contest, will appear April 11 in the ROTO section of the Pittsburgh Press along with 29 other campus queens representing colleges and universities in the tri-state area.

The Department of Public Information this week will forward Miss Cheney's picture to contest headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Students may vote for the inter-collegiate queen by sending in ballots, which will be printed daily in the Pittsburgh Press, to contest headquarters.

A picture of the final winner will appear on the cover of the ROTO section sometime in May.

Miss Cheney was one of the six finalists in the local queen contest. Other finalists were Louise Justin, sixth semester pre-medical major; Maureen Flannery, fourth semester home economics major; Marjorie Schenck, second semester journalism major; Mary Pera, fourth semester education major; and Carlene Samuels, fourth semester pre-medical major.