Last-Half Rally Wins for Lions

By DICK McDOWELL

Smashing ahead with a sensational fourth quarter scoring splurge, the Penn State basketball team battered Toledo University 62-50 last night before 6200 fans at the Fort Wayne Memorial Coliseum in Fort Wayne, Ind. in the opening round of the NCAA eliminations. The win qualifies the Lions for entrance in the Eastern Regional playoffs at Iowa City, Iowa, on Friday.

Spearheaded by Jimmy Brewer's explosive offensive play, the Nittanians roared into the lead midway in the final period in a tremendous offensive spurt that netted them 19 points while the Rockets could counter with only seven.

Arnelle High Scorer

Brewer came off the Nittany bench early in the second half and proceeded to lead the Lion offense on the floor while he tossed eight points through the nets. Jesse Arnelle, held in check by Rocket center Burton Spice, was the high man for the Lions with 13 and Ron Weidenhammer accounted for 11, while Earl Fields added another ten.

The Nittanians' tight zone defense checked the Rockets considerably throughout the contest, forcing them to shoot from outside, but until the final period the Ohio quintet completely dominated the rebounding and was able to counter the Penn State defensive screen.

Lions Foul Heavily

Fouls played the important role in the first two periods. Captain Jack Sherry had four against him before the first half ended and Arnelle carried three as the Rockets paraded to the line 34 times in all, scoring on 21 attempts.

Penn State stepped off to a 2-0 lead on Ron Weidenhammer's corner set shot. The Rockets came right back with two, and then the Lions moved ahead and led until late in the period, when the score stood at 15-15. With less than a minute remaining, however, Weidenhammer's second set and Bob Rohland's foul point put the Nittanians out in front 18-15 and that's the way the period ended.

Then in the second quarter the Rockets opened up. They tossed in 15 points—nine of them from the foul line—while the Nittanians could muster only nine. Toledo led at the half, 30-27. Phil Martin's set from the side knotted the count, 20-20, early in the period after Toledo had collected three straight charity points. And from there the tall Rockets, out-rebounding the Lions, began to increase the margin.

Rockets Lead at Half

The Lions finally managed to stop their fouling late in the period and two consecutive push shots by Jimmy Brewer tied the score at 27-27. However, John Pazdzior's jump from the pivot and Martin's fourth foul point of the period moved Toledo back out in front, 30-27.

The Lions faded dangerously in the first half of the third frame. Martin, who topped the game's scorers with 25 points, hit consistently with his outside set shots, and at one point the Ohioans led 40-34. But the Lions, thirsty for their first opening win in three attempts at NCAA play, struck back late in the period and had the score tied 43-43 at the end.

Then came the phenomenal fourth quarter. Toledo jumped ahead 46-43. However, Weidenhammer's set shot and Fields' foul point evened the count. Then Jesse Arnelle dropped a lay-up after a fast break and State moved ahead for keeps, 48-46. From there on in it was all Penn State.

Leading 51-49, the red-hot Lions fired in 11 points while the wilted Rockets could account for only a single tally. Penn State was moving away when the final buzzer sounded.

Matriculation Card Marking OK'd by Elections Committee

Matriculation cards will be either date-stamped or punched when students vote in the All-University elections April 7 and 8, the elections committee decided last night.

A decentralized voting system will be used in the election. Polling places will be set up on the second floor lounge of Old Main, the West Dorm lounge, Temporary Union Building, and Nittany Dorm 20.

In the past, where one polling place was used, matriculation cards needed only to be shown to secure a ballot.

Under the system adopted by the committee last night, the matriculation card will be date-stamped on the blank side if the card is not cellophane-enclosed. If the matriculation card has been cellophane-plated, it will be punched.

Elections will be for All-University senior class, junior class, and Athletic Association offices.

Four committee members were appointed by Kohn to prepare layout reports on the four polling places. They are Ernest Famous, George Greer, John Sherk, and Allan Schneirov. Famous will investigate Old Main lounge, Greer, West Dorm lounge; Sherk, Nittany Dorm 20; and Schneirov, Temporary Union Building. The report will be presented to the committee next week.

First-Day Tabulations

The committee discussed the possibility of totaling the first-day voting after the polls close at 5:30 p.m. April 7. It decided to temporarily postpone action until the situation could be completely investigated.

The committee will set up tables in the lobby of Sparks Building—both upstairs and downstairs—for the issuance of clique cards Sunday. Matriculation cards must be presented before clique cards will be issued.

According to the spring elections code, a student must attend two clique meetings to be eligible to vote in clique elections. At least one meeting must be attended prior to the final nomination meeting Sunday.

Membership List

The cliques will file a complete membership list with the elections committee today. The list will designate the official clique chairman and other clique officers. The list will contain the name of every clique member who has attended two meetings and the name of every student who has attended one meeting.

Open House for Grads

The third in a series of open houses for graduate students will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. today in 304 Old Main.

Social Code Statement Is Approved

Faculty and administrative approval of the new statement of policy on the social situation at the University was completed when the Council of Administration endorsed the policy.

The University Senate approved the policy statement Thursday upon recommendation of the Senate committee on student affairs.

The new policy, which will go into effect Sept. 1, 1954, will mean the substitution of a chaperoned fraternity dating code for the unchaperoned system now in effect, and revision of Senate regulations W-4 and W-5 (prohibiting the serving of alcoholic beverages at social functions).

Special privileges will be granted to fraternities which employ housemothers and to those who apply for and receive classification as "dry" houses.

Under the revised drinking rules, which will come before the Senate for final approval April 1, responsibility for good conduct and conformance to the laws of the borough, Commonwealth, and nation, will be placed upon the student organizations.

The policy statement said policing of all University-related social functions is infeasible.

Under the chaperoned dating code, there will be no differentiation between freshman and upperclasswomen in regard to fraternity dating, according to Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs. At present freshman women are not permitted to attend unchaperoned functions in fraternity houses.

Orientation of fraternity men to the new social policy is being handled by the Dean of Men's office.

Separation Plan Gets Approval

The West Dorm Council decided Monday night to send a letter approving the West Dorm separation plan to the Dean of Men's office.

The plan, sponsored by James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, would put upperclass residents in McKee Hall and would provide for increased counselor supervision in freshman units.

Several members of the council oppose the plan and will present a substitute plan at a later date. The separation proposal is an attempt to solve the problem of increased damage and failing grades in the area.

Fraternity Presidents, IFC to Meet

Fraternity presidents will meet at 11 p.m. tonight at Delta Tau Delta to discuss the changes in drinking regulations and the dating code adopted by the University Senate.

The meeting, announced by Thomas Schott, Interfraternity Council president, will follow a meeting of the full council at 7:30 p.m. in 105 Main Engineering.

The president's meeting will be the second since the new rules were announced last Wednesday by the Senate committee on student affairs. At the first gathering, Schott and O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, explained the new action and Schott asked that the information be taken back to the houses.

Schott said he expected tonight's meeting to be spent in more discussion and the voicing of opinions by the fraternities. The meeting, he said, will probably determine the future action of the fraternities and any changes the group would want.

Froth Parodies Hit Publications At University

Froth's parody issue, a takeoff on campus publications, will be available at the usual distribution points from 8 a.m. today.

The issue includes the parodies The Dully Collegian, Inking, and Home Ec Mews and Coos.

Other Froth blasts are the Penn State Engineer, the Penn State Farmer, Molester and Sciolist, and the G.D. Independent.

Guatemalan Walks Out of Confab

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 9 (AP)—Guatemala's foreign minister walked out of a plenary session of the 10th Inter-American Conference today when a speaker from the Dominican Republic called for an end to attacks on the United States.

Guillermo Toriello told reporters outside the meeting he had "more important matters than to hear such people in the ridiculous and stupid role of discussing democracy."

Attacks Pro-Reds

The speaker, Dominican Foreign Minister Joaquin Balaguer, had assailed countries which "help Soviet Russia" but sit back and allow the United States to be attacked.

Toriello, asked if Guatemala was fighting communism, said "it is defending democratic institutions and would fight anything—communism included—that harms democracy."

Asked if he knew of any instance where communism had helped democracy, Toriello replied: "I don't know."

U.S. Support Grows

It climaxed a day which saw growing support for U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' "keep communism out of the Americas" plan. Guatemala has already said it would do everything possible to defeat the proposal, but a Dulles victory already appeared assured.

Cuba, Panama and Venezuela came out strongly at a session of the 10th Inter-American Conference for Dulles' resolution, which calls on the countries of the Americas to exchange information about Communist infiltration and to take united action if any one country should fall victim to it.

Join U.S. Supporters

The three joined Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Honduras and Paraguay who supported the U.S. stand yesterday. There are 19 countries attending this meeting and so far nine, including the United States are on record in favor of the anti-Communist drive.

Dulles canceled engagements in the United States to stay here and direct the campaign for his resolution. Mounting support indicated a major victory for him on the Latin American diplomatic front.

Withheld Economic Policy

While concentrating on the Communist issue, the U.S. delegation caused considerable speculation here by canceling without explanation a planned declaration on economic policy.

Samuel Waugh, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, was scheduled to spell out today just what the rest of the hemisphere could expect from the United States in trade and aid.

When he dropped off the speaker's list, Latin American delegates wondered out loud if there were some sharp divergence of opinion within the U.S. delegation. The delegation had no com-
