

Rules Changed For Greek Sing

Two major changes have been made in the rules governing the Interfraternity-Panhellenic Councils' sing scheduled as part of the 1954 Greek Week activities.

The new regulations, announced by sing co-chairmen Alexander Zerban and Anna Mae Webb, require rehearsals to be closed this year and set new size qualifications for groups competing.

Zerban said this year fraternities and sororities with more than 25 active members must have at least 18 members plus a director in their choruses while those with less than 25 actives need only have nine plus the director.

Previously the rule had required 12 members plus the director of participating organizations. Zerban said the revisions were made to make the competition more equal for smaller groups.

In commenting on closed rehearsals, Zerban said any competing group will be disqualified if it is found to have either allowed others to attend its rehearsals or has attended others. He said this rule is "to keep the singing within the group and to keep it truly representative of that group."

Zerban said so far 20 fraternities and 15 sororities have entered choruses in the sing and additional entries are still being received.

Preliminary competition will begin on March 24 and 26 and the finals will be held at 7 p.m. March 28 in Schwab Auditorium, with a rebroadcast by Station WMAJ scheduled for one hour later. The judges will be chosen from the University Music department and the State College Chamber of Commerce and will be announced later.

Competing groups are required to sing two songs, Zerban explained. Each fraternity must sing the Penn State Glee Club arrangement of Blue and White and one fraternity song, one of which is to be unaccompanied, he said, and each sorority is to sing any two sorority songs, one unaccompanied.

12 Get Tickets In 'Crackdown'

Twelve more tickets were passed out to students for driving on Pollock road yesterday, the third day of a traffic violation "crackdown." The total of students given tickets now stands at 34.

Campus Patrol Captain Philip A. Mark said he will continue to stop traffic on the road between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 7:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays, until violations stop.

He said parking conditions on campus have generally improved since the new fine collecting system went into effect several weeks ago.

Inquiring Reporter

12 Students Voice Disapproval Of Senate's New Social Code

By MARCIE MacDONALD
General disapproval of the new social code recently adopted by the University Senate was voiced by twelve students interviewed by the Inquiring Reporter this week.

Six students, when asked "What are your views regarding the new social code adopted by University Senate?" replied that they felt the code contained too strict regulations. Eight stated that they thought housemothers and chaperones were unnecessary and impractical.

The students and their opinions are:

Louise Glud, sixth semester arts and letters major: "In general, I disapprove of the code. By such complete and binding regulations the administration is stunting the social growth and self-control of college students. The unchaperoned dating clause will create many difficulties when there proves to be too few chaperones available for fraternity functions. And I don't believe many houses will be financially able to pay nor

William L. Werner
Simmons Lecturer

Werner Talk Will Begin Lecture Series

William L. Werner, professor of American Literature will speak on "Penn State and American Literature" at 4:15 p.m. Monday in 121 Sparks as the first lecturer of the 8th annual Simmons series.

In treating the subject, Werner will pay tribute to the pioneer activity of Fred Lewis Pattee in the study and teaching of American literature. He will present him not only as a scholar, teacher, and creative writer, but also as a critic who had extensive relations with other American critics and writers.

Werner, who is Pattee's successor and literary executor, will discuss memorials to him, such as the Fred Lewis Pattee library and the recent publication of Pattee's autobiography, "Penn State Yankee."

Also to be treated are other members of the community, including former students, alumni, and faculty members who themselves have contributed to American literature.

Werner, a graduate of Muhlenberg College, is a member of the Modern Language Association as well as other learned and professional organizations. He also is national president of the College English Association.

West Dorm Applications Available

Men who will be seniors next semester may apply for rooms in the West Dorm area from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday at Nittany Dormitory 20.

Applicants must have had an All-University average of 1.0 or better at the end of the past fall semester, according to Otto E. Mueller, director of housing. Mueller said the first 120 qualified men to apply will be assigned to the West Dorms.

Payment of the $10 room and key deposit will obligate an applicant to live in University dormitories both semesters next year if he enrolls at the University, Mueller said. Deposits will be due when students receive room assignment forms several weeks after application.

Prospective juniors who have a 1.5 All-University average may register for West Dorm housing from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at Nittany Dormitory 20. The first 60 qualified applicants will be assigned, Mueller said.

Men who will be sophomores next semester and who have a 2.0 or better All-University average may apply for West Dorm rooms from 7 to 9 p.m. March 23 at Nittany Dormitory 20. The first 60 qualified men to apply will be assigned.

Mueller said men who wish to room together next year should apply together. Each man must submit his own application, he said.

Fifty West Dorm rooms will be reserved for certified handicapped students.

Seniors Seek Suggestions For 1954 Gift

Suggestions for the 1954 senior class gift will be received from 8 a.m. Monday until 5 p.m. April 2 at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Approximately $9000 will be available for the gift this year.

Although only seventh and eighth semester students may participate in final voting for the gift, any student may submit suggestions, Carolyn Pelczar, gift committee chairman, said yesterday.

Suggestions must be in written form and addressed to the gift committee, Miss Pelczar said.

Suggestions will be screened by the committee and George L. Donovan, director of Associated Student Activities.

Final voting for the gift has been tentatively set for April 28 to 30, Miss Pelczar said.

College's Pride

DEBATERS FROM FIVE of the 20 colleges and universities attending the Debaters Congress discuss their college's pride of 1953-54 before going on the air last night. Joseph F. O'Brien, men's debate coach and professor of public speaking, interviewed the delegates in a 30-minute broadcast over radio stations WMAJ and WDFM.

Debaters' Congress To Draft Legislation

Delegates to the 19th annual Pennsylvania State Debaters' Congress, which continues through tomorrow, will go into committees today to prepare mock Congressional bills for passage in a general assembly.

An informal reception began the Congress last night with more than 100 representatives from 20 colleges and universities, including six out-of-state institutions, attending. The delegates participated in a 30-minute radio panel and quiz program on the congress' theme, "Our College's Pride in 1953-54," at 9:30 p.m. Joseph F. O'Brien, professor of public speaking, was moderator for the program, which was broadcast over Stations WMAJ and WDFM.

Preceding the official committee meetings will be a general assembly at 10 a.m. today at the State College Hotel. Convention officers Richard Davis of Lehigh, president; Benjamin Sinclair of the University, and Lee Vines of Slippery Rock State Teachers College, vice presidents; and Otto Hetzel of the University, secretary, will welcome the debaters. A nominating committee for the election of officers will also be selected.

The delegations will then divide into two committees to prepare bills and reports on the topics, "What should be the trade policy of the United States?" and "How should the president be selected?" If counter-proposal factions are present in the committees, minority reports will be prepared for the assembly's consideration.

Candidates for Gavel Girl, an outstanding woman debater, will speak on women in public life at a banquet at 5:30 in the State College Hotel. A general assembly on the foreign trade question will follow the banquet.

Tomorrow's assembly session will consider the selection of the president. After debate and reports, the assembly will elect of-

Four Students Will Present Recital Tonight

One of two student recitals this weekend will be presented by four students at 7 tonight in 117 Carnegie Hall.

Voice selections will be presented by Phoebe Erickson, eighth semester arts and letters major, who will sing "Son tutta duolo" (Scarlatti) and "Q del mio dolce ardor" (Gluck). Glenn Goss, eighth semester general agriculture major, will sing Handel's "Where'er You Walk" and Homer's "Requiem."

Jeanne Duvoisin, graduate student in music, will play "G Major Prelude and Fuge" (Bach) and Eudell Korman, fourth semester arts and letters major, will play a piano selection of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6."

Another student recital will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday in Schwab Auditorium. Students participating in the program are vocalists James Madenfort and Barbara Parros, and Roy Clark and Ruth Stuft, who will present piano and organ selections.

Officers for the 1955 congress. Four outstanding parliamentary speakers will be presented with debaters' keys.

RUDY BLACK TRIO daily at the Town House. Supper music at 7 p.m. and Evening at 9 p.m.

Today WARNER theatres

Catharine
Dean Martin
Jerry Lewis
in
'MONEY FROM HOME'

State
Walt Disney's
'ROB ROY'
Richard Todd

Nittany
Alec Guinness
'THE CAPTAIN'S PARADISE'