Gymnasts Seek EIGA Individual Honors Today

Kois Enters IBA Finals Tonight

By ROY WILLIAMS

Three of Penn State's seven entries in the Intercollegiate Boxing Association tourney of the East at Charlottesville, Va., will enter the semi-final round of elimination this afternoon.

Moving into the semi-finals of the 31st IBA tourney by virtue of byes, Bob McMath, 132-pounder; Jack Stokes, 147-pounder; and heavyweight Joe Goleman will face their first tourney opposition. McMath and Stokes are sophomores; Goleman is a junior.

No points are awarded to the particular team which has men moving into semi-final competition by route of the bye until those same men have scored victories in their first round of actual competition.

Last night Penn State's four other entries saw action in the first round eliminations at Virginia's Memorial gymnasium.

Harry Papacharalambous, 125-pounds, Ron Smith, 139-pounds, and Frank Breidor, 165-pounds,

Penn State's Adam Kois advanced to the finals of the Intercollegiate Boxing Association tourney at Charlottesville, Va., in defense of his 178-pound Eastern title with a TKO decision over Elmer Wilson, Army, in the third round.

The Lions netted only four points by virtue of Kois' victory. Three Nittany preliminary entries, Harry Papacharalambous, 125-pounder, Ron Smith, 139-pounder, and Frank Breidor, 165-pounder, lost.

Syracuse, making another strong bid to cop the Eastern title for the sixth straight time, leads its five-team competition by eight points. Army is threatening the Orange's supremacy, however, with seven team points. Maryland and Virginia each have netted six points, followed by Penn State with four and Catholic University with one. City College of New York did not enter the 31st annual Eastern classic.

entered the preliminaries, while Captain Adam Kois entered the only semi-final bout of the evening.

Kois, in defense of his 178-pound Eastern crown, was pointed the favorite to move into the finals tonight by dumping Elmer Wilson of Army. A victory by Kois would net the Lions three team points; preliminary wins award one team point, semi-final wins add an additional three points, and an individual victory in the finals awards five more team points.

But victory hopes in the other three preliminary bouts for the Lions may not be as bright as in the 178-pound division.

Pappy and Breidor face two seasoned ringmen from Syracuse. Breidor faces Vince Rigolosi, defending 165-pound Eastern champ, who defeated him at Rec Hall. Pappy faces Frank Guelli, the Orange's seasoned bid in the light-weight slot.

In the 125-pound class, McMath meets last night's winner of the Mike Stevenson (A)-Bob Rush (V) this afternoon. Stokes will meet Syracuse's fourth entry, Art Nelson, and Joe Goleman faces the victor of last night's Bill Creech (V)-Dick Croyne (M) bout this afternoon. Victories in any of these bouts will assure each Lion a total of four points for Penn State's total team scores, and a try at the individual weight class crown in the finals tonight.

Defeated for First Time

Jan Cronstedt was defeated for the first time this year on the horizontal bar by John Jengo of Temple.

Cronstedt Leads Field Of 13 Lions at Temple

By RON GATEHOUSE

The 13 members of Gene Wettstone's Eastern titleholding gymnasts entered in the 27th annual Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastic Association meet in Philadelphia will seek to defend their old titles and pick up new ones this afternoon.

The competition, composed of individual gymnasts representing the five EIGA schools, will take to the mats and apparatus at 2 this afternoon in Temple's South Hall.

All-around ace, Jan Cronstedt, is the number one Nittany Vale representative performing in the melting pot of the East's gymnastic best.

The Finnish-born junior sensation will be going all out to defend the parallel bar title he picked up in last year's attraction.

Owns All-around Crown

The gym artist also owns the Eastern all-around crown, and stands an excellent chance of keeping it among his array of titles and honors.

Cronstedt tasted defeat only once on the horizontal bar in the past season's action, and looms as a likely prospect to carry away top honors in that department. Temple's John Jengo turned him back on the bar in the latest clash between the two teams, and stands as the only candidate capable of beating him out for top honors.

Accompanying Cronstedt in today's Eastern all-arounds will be two other Nittany artists—Karl Schwenzfeier and Tony Procopio.

Both will be all out to assist Cronstedt in keeping the all-around crown in the confines of Mount Nittany. In nearly every one of the season meets the two were found battling it out for top honors on the flying rings.

Meet East's Best

Both will pit their routines against those of the East's best this afternoon in quest of attaining the title in that event.

Defending Eastern champ on the side horse, Bob Lawrence, ranks as a heavy favorite on his speciality. He dropped only one outing over the season, due to a break in his routine. However, another Lion stalwart, Co-Captain Frank Wick, took the driver's seat and carried away top honors.

The double-vision version of Frank Wick, Co-Captain Al, will be putting his parallel bar knowledge on the line against the East's highest ranking men in that department. No doubt the opposition will be led by the Owl's Bob McCarthy. He came the closest to upsetting the Lion ace this year, and ranked third in last year's Eastern classic behind Al and Cronstedt.

Another Owl representative, Gene Scholl, will be out to make it a double win against the Lions' number one man on the rope, Skeets Haag. Haag suffered his only seasonal setback at the hands of Scholl when the two clubs met two weeks ago.

Other Nittany exhibitionists entered in the East's finale are Dick Spiess, John Baffa, Bill Paxton, Skip Heim, Leroy Fritch, and Hugh Cline.

In addition to Temple, standout gymnasts from Army, Navy, and Syracuse are out to pit their wares against the favored Lions.

Stagg Receives Football Scroll From Grid 'Hall'

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12 (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, who will be 92 years old in August and who is the only man who has been honored by the National Hall of Football Fame as both player and a coach, has just received a framed scroll commemorating his contributions to football.

"You probably may remember that in the fall of 1951 I was elected to the National Football Hall of Fame both as a player and as a coach," the grand old man told sports writers from his home in Stockton, Calif.

"Last year I received a letter from George E. Little, executive secretary of the N.F.H.F., who was trying to arrange for the public presentation of the award. In the letter he stated I want to inform you that you are the one man in the world who has a double Hall of Fame award—one for player as a member of Walter Camp's All America team in 1889 as a Yale end—and one for coaching."

Stokes Has Best Mark

Jack Stokes, sophomore on the boxing squad, has the best won and lost record with four wins in five bouts.

Quinn, Ex-Braves, Red Sox Head Dies

PROVIDENCE, R.I., March 12 (AP)—Baseball lost one of its outstanding personalities today when J. A. Robert (Bob) Quinn died at the age of 84 after a two-year illness.

Quinn, who preceded Tom Yawkey as top man of the Boston Red Sox and Lou Perini as president of the old Boston Braves, began his career as a catcher. He moved into the managing and front office field with Columbus, Ohio, where he remained for 17 years before advancing to the majors.

He leaves his widow, two sons, John, general manager of the Milwaukee Braves, and the Rev. Robert J. Quinn, O. P., a Providence College professor, and two daughters, Mary and Margaret.

His body will be sent to Columbus where he will be buried in St. Joseph's Cemetery after a requiem mass in St. Patrick's Church Monday.

Quinn also was business manager of the St. Louis Browns now Baltimore Orioles and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

After stepping out of the Braves' organization in favor of his son, Quinn was associated with a sporting goods firm and then became curator of baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Baseball Citrus Dope

BRADENTON, Fla., March 12 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates belted six home runs today to rout the Milwaukee Braves, 25-11, in a major league exhibition game.

Frank Thomas clouted two of the homers and Sid Gordon, obtained by trade from the Braves last winter, Jerry Lynch, Jack Lohrke, and Brandy Davis added the others. The six blasts gave the Pirates a total of 15 home runs in their last three games.

The Pirates chased three pitchers in a nine-run seventh inning. Lynch, a rookie outfielder up from the Piedmont League, led the 19-hit Pirate attack with two triples and a single in addition to his homer to drive in six runs.

Eddie Mathews, the Braves home run king, slammed three triples but also made three errors. Danny O'Connell, acquired in the Gordon trade, and rookie Dick Sinovic hit homers for the Braves.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 12 (AP)—Willie Mays slammed two more homers today to spark the New York Giants to a 13-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians and snap a four-game losing streak.

Mays' clouts came in successive turns at bat in the first and third innings. The 22-year-old centerfielder hit the first with one on and the second with the bases empty.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 12 (AP)—Del Ennis unloaded a two-run homer in the first inning today and that served the Philadelphia Phillies for a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Whitey Ford, lefthander who figures to be the ace of the Yankee staff, made his spring debut and pitched three innings. The two runs off him were unearned. Ford permitted three hits.

The Yank tally came in the second on a hit batsman and a single by Ford.

TAMPA, Fla., March 12 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, effectively bunting their 11 hits, downed a makeshift collection of Chicago White Sox rookies 11-7 today in an inter-league exhibition game.

The American Leaguers also made 11 safeties, including home runs by rookies Bill Wilson and Ed White.

Women's Golf Lead To Suggests by One

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 12 (AP)—Louise Suggs held stoutly to her lead at the midway point of the women's Titleholders golf tournament today despite a competitive course record 70 turned in by Babe Zaharias.

Miss Suggs, top money winner last year, for the second straight day had to pull her game together after a poor start to card her 71, one under men's par on the course.

Wrestling Record

The last loss the Lion wrestlers suffered prior to their two defeats by Navy and Pitt was in 1950 to Syracuse.

Owls, Lions Tied in Gym

In a series that began in 1933, Temple and Penn State are tied 8-8 in overall gym meets.

Newsman Pick Arnette For All-Tourney Team

Jesse Arnette, Penn State's high-scoring center, was chosen for the all-tournament basketball team by newsmen at the conclusion of the NCAA eliminations at Fort Wayne, Ind. on Tuesday.

Other selections are Dick Rosenthal and John Stephens, Notre Dame; Bob O'Donnell, Loyola of the South; and Phil Martin, Toledo. Rosenthal was voted the tournament's most valuable player.

Middlecoff, Kroll Tied In PGA Open

BATON ROUGE, La., March 12 (AP)—Tournament favorite Cary Middlecoff scored another wind-blown sub-par round today to draw into a tie with New Yorker Ted Kroll for the lead in the $10,000 Baton Rouge PGA Open.

With most scores soaring in the skittish breezes that buffeted the 6411-yard country club course, the former Memphis dentist posted a 71 alongside his opening day 67 for a total of 138 at the halfway mark.

Kroll, displaying his usual ability to beat the wind with long, low-slung drives, ran into putter trouble and had to scramble on the back nine to keep the pace. The New Hartford, N.Y., professional came in at 72.

A stroke behind the leaders was slim Ed Furgol of St. Louis, who also had to come on with a rush to make the regulation figure after blazing a 67 in the opening round. He was followed by Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y., together with Wally Ulrich of Maplewood, N.J., for fourth place tie.

Pension Plan Gets Owners' Approval

MIAMI, Fla., March 12 (AP)—Club owners of the American and National Leagues announced after separate meetings here today that they had approved the recommendations of the major league pension committee, "subject to some minor revisions."

A statement was issued jointly after the meetings by Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Warren Giles of the National League.

"The National and American Leagues approved the recommendations of the pension committee, subject to some minor revisions which were referred to the committee and counsel for final action," the announcement said. Four of today's runs on a single, walk and sacrifice fly.
