

Montgomery Is Queen; Lewis, Maid of Honor

By PHYLLIS PROPERT

Jane Montgomery, eighth semester journalism major, will be crowned May Queen on May 8. Sally Lewis, second semester home economics major, will serve as Maid-of-Honor.

Approximately 1200 women voted yesterday in the final queen election sponsored by the Women's Student Government Association.

It is the second consecutive year that a journalism student has won the honor of being Penn State's May Queen.

Marilyn Buzby, eighth semester pre-medical major, and Ona Kay Lee, eighth semester journalism major, who were finalists for May Queen, will be senior class attendants for the queen.

The two runners-up for Maid-of-Honor will be freshman attendants. They are Janice Brenner, second semester education major, and Mary Lou Dubson, second semester home economics major.

Faith Gallagher, sixth semester arts and letters major, and Polly Moore, sixth semester home economics major, were elected junior class attendants in the primary elections Tuesday.

Sophomore attendants, also elected in the primaries, are Eileen Marcelina, fourth semester education major, and Shirley Mix, fourth semester physical education major.

The Forster twins, Ann and Margaret, second semester home economics majors, were chosen as heralds for the queen's court. Charlotte Klippel, fourth semester physical education major, and Patricia Olkkonen, fifth semester recreation major, will act as jesters.

Miss Montgomery is vice-president of the Wesley Foundation. She was a member of last year's debate team and Junior Class Queen.

Fifty-five senior women signed at the polls to be in the hemlock chain. They are Gloria Beppler, Joan Johnson, Barbara Bohrer, Jeane Beard, Mary Snyder, Jane Overmeyer, Nancy Acheson, Barbara Hamill, Winnie Shelley, Marion Kalbach, Ethel Wilson, Frances High, Jeanne Keller, Ruby Hayes, Carolyn Lackey, Grace Thomas, Elizabeth Tomlinson.

Home Weekend Theme to Be Family 'Art'

"Home Art in Family Living" will be the theme of the fifth annual Home Economics Spring Weekend April 9 and 10.

The exhibits, demonstrations, talks, and other parts of the program will place emphasis upon home art as an interrelated part of family life.

Specialists in various fields have been invited to speak at the two-day program.

The feature event will be a talk by George Nelson, home furnishing designer, industrial designer, and architect, at 3 p.m. April 9 in Schwab Auditorium. His topic will be "Good Design—What Is It?"

The last event of the weekend program will be a fashion show in Schwab Auditorium.

Topics will be discussed to aid the family in achieving beauty with the skills, abilities, and resources of the family members, to improve the appearance of the community, and to develop attractive, convenient homes.

The annual alumni dinner will be held April 9 at the Autoport. Stanley Wollner, interior designer, will discuss "Color in the Home."

Cwens to Give 3 Scholarships

Cwens, sophomore women's hat society, will award three $50 scholarships to sophomore women, according to Jean Yemm, president.

Applications will be available Monday through April 13 in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main. Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of financial need, character, high scholarship, and activities.

Cwens also awarded two $50 scholarships to junior women during the fall semester.

A recent project of the sophomore women's honorary was the redecoration of the town room in Woman's Building for commuting students.

Members of Cwens assisted with Women's Student Government elections and will sell tickets for Campus Chest Friday, and Monday. They will also serve as ushers for May Day and will make bouquets for Mothers' Day teas and luncheons as a spring project.

WRA Constitution Change Will Alter Grade Requirement

According to the revised Women's Recreation Association constitution, a 1.3 All-University average is required for candidates for the presidency of any WRA club. Previously this average was required for candidates for any club office.

Other revisions of the constitution include assigning the responsibility for publication of the WRA Handbook to the WRA president instead of to the publicity chairman. The handbook is published every other year.

The revised constitution provides that the club activities chairman shall be in charge of the annual Penn State Sports Day and that the assistant intramural chairman shall be in charge of the individual sports program.

Meetings of the Club Activities Board will not be held weekly, as specified in last year's constitution, but will be held upon the request of the club activities chairman.
