

15 Townspeople to Select Finalists for 'Miss State'

Fifteen townspeople have been invited to take part in the preliminary judging May 3 of the Miss Penn State queen contest, according to Carole Avery and Marshall Donley, coronation chairmen.

Judges will hold a short informal interview with each contestant, who will be chosen on the basis of a maximum of ten points. The points given each entrant will be tallied, and the five finalists will be selected according to the greatest number of points.

Each organization may enter only one contestant, and if two groups combine in the Spring Week activities May 10 to 14, they may jointly enter only one candidate, Miss Avery explained. This rule also applies to entrants in the Ugly Man and He-Man contests.

All Miss Penn State entrants must turn in a 5x7 picture by 10 a.m. April 14 to the Student Union desk in Old Main, Miss Avery said. The name of the entrant, her age, semester, curriculum, activities, home address, and the sponsoring organizations must accompany the picture. A registration fee of $1 will be requested of each contestant, she added.

The five finalists will receive 100 points for their sponsors toward the Spring Week trophy, and Miss Penn State will be awarded 150 points, George Richards, Spring Week chairman, has announced. Entrants in the contest will receive no points, he added.

Final judging and the Coronation of Miss Penn State will take place at 8:30 p.m. May 10 at Recreation Hall. Celebrated persons, as yet unannounced by the coronation committee, will choose the queen.

Madeleine Sharp, eighth semester speech major, was crowned Miss Penn State last year by Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Preliminary judging of the five finalists was done by John Wayne, motion picture star. The queen was chosen by Mrs. Eisenhower, Harry Stuhldreher, steel executive and one of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame; Mimi Smith, Miss Pennsylvania of 1952; and Laura Lou Brookman, managing editor of the Ladies' Home Journal.

Edward Klevens, second semester electrical engineering major, and Jonathan Plaut, second semester industrial engineering major, had the negative side in debating Jacques Mitchell and Edward English of the Vermont team, in the afternoon.

Sidney Goldblatt and David Meckler, second semester industrial engineering majors, debated the negative side against Colleen Wescott and Claire Battles of the Vermont team in the evening.

Chairmen of the debates were Edward R. Gilkey, instructor in speech, for the afternoon event, and Harold J. O'Brien, assistant professor of speech, for the evening event.

Robert D. Huber, professor of speech, at the University of Vermont, was the adviser for the Vermont team.

Members of All-University Cabinet should submit their reports for the student government booklet today at the Student Union desk in Old Main, Myron Ene-low, editor, has announced.

Robert N. Hilkert, vice president in charge of personnel at the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, will speak at the Interfraternity-Panhellenic Council Spring Banquet at 5:45 p.m. tomorrow in the Nittany Lion Inn.

Hilkert will speak on "Big Wheels and Little Wheels." Hilkert, former president of the industrial relations association of Philadelphia and chairman of the industrial relations committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, is a lecturer in management at Temple University. He has served as director of personnel at the Federal Reserve Bank in Washington and as personnel consultant to the board. Prior to Hilkert's joining the staff of the Federal Reserve Bank, he was associate director of the Educational Records Bureau in New York, and served 15 years as a member of the faculty of the Hill School, Pottstown. Hilkert holds degrees from Yale and Columbia Universities.

Alec Beliasov, banquet co-chairman, said Hilkert will discuss his observations of college and post-college big wheels who have entered business, and will discuss the advantages of fraternity life in the development of wheels of various sizes.

Presidents of all fraternities and sororities, representatives to IFC and Panhellenic Council, and chapter advisers will attend the banquet.

Francis E. Hyslop, associate professor of fine arts, will discuss "The Religious Significance of Contemporary Art" at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Joan Geiger is program manager, and on the crew are Jo Ann Bonfanti, Francis Crawford, Bernard Kleinstub, Marcia Phillips, Gordon Pogal, Howard Schwartz, Nancy Schade and Joan Wilson.

Advertising manager is James Farmer. On the crew are George Beimersderfer, Mary Lou Benner, Peggy Byrnes, Nancy Easter, Shirley Fry, Edward Goldston, Mary Jo Heckman, Jane Lamont, Barbara Lederer, Katherine Millikan, Sheldon Odland, Arnie Rosenberg, Barbara Schmidt, Patricia Shelly, Constance Taylor, Roger Vogelsinger, and Sandra Weichel.

Frank Cressman is House manager, and on the crew are Richard Gordon, Janet Easley, Carol Bauer, Vonessa Edelen, Nancy Bird, Judy Burns, Glenda Rine, Mary Pera, Nancy Norling, Noreen Meyer, Marilyn Moore, Janet Stevenson, Constance Anderson, Anne Caton, Mary Lou Moore, Lillian Melko, Joan Ziegler and Ruth Rapp.

Sound manager is Roger Owen, and models supervisor is Norma Loughner.

IFC-Panhel Will Hear Hilkert Talk

Robert N. Hilkert, vice president in charge of personnel at the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, will speak at the Interfraternity-Panhellenic Council Spring Banquet at 5:45 p.m. tomorrow in the Nittany Lion Inn.

Hilkert will speak on "Big Wheels and Little Wheels." Hilkert, former president of the industrial relations association of Philadelphia and chairman of the industrial relations committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, is a lecturer in management at Temple University. He has served as director of personnel at the Federal Reserve Bank in Washington and as personnel consultant to the board. Prior to Hilkert's joining the staff of the Federal Reserve Bank, he was associate director of the Educational Records Bureau in New York, and served 15 years as a member of the faculty of the Hill School, Pottstown. Hilkert holds degrees from Yale and Columbia Universities.

Alec Beliasov, banquet co-chairman, said Hilkert will discuss his observations of college and post-college big wheels who have entered business, and will discuss the advantages of fraternity life in the development of wheels of various sizes.

Presidents of all fraternities and sororities, representatives to IFC and Panhellenic Council, and chapter advisers will attend the banquet.

Francis E. Hyslop, associate professor of fine arts, will discuss "The Religious Significance of Contemporary Art" at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Joan Geiger is program manager, and on the crew are Jo Ann Bonfanti, Francis Crawford, Bernard Kleinstub, Marcia Phillips, Gordon Pogal, Howard Schwartz, Nancy Schade and Joan Wilson.

Advertising manager is James Farmer. On the crew are George Beimersderfer, Mary Lou Benner, Peggy Byrnes, Nancy Easter, Shirley Fry, Edward Goldston, Mary Jo Heckman, Jane Lamont, Barbara Lederer, Katherine Millikan, Sheldon Odland, Arnie Rosenberg, Barbara Schmidt, Patricia Shelly, Constance Taylor, Roger Vogelsinger, and Sandra Weichel.

Frank Cressman is House manager, and on the crew are Richard Gordon, Janet Easley, Carol Bauer, Vonessa Edelen, Nancy Bird, Judy Burns, Glenda Rine, Mary Pera, Nancy Norling, Noreen Meyer, Marilyn Moore, Janet Stevenson, Constance Anderson, Anne Caton, Mary Lou Moore, Lillian Melko, Joan Ziegler and Ruth Rapp.

Sound manager is Roger Owen, and models supervisor is Norma Loughner.

Coaly, Mule Mascot, Needs Resting Spot

Coaly, the black mule who hauled stones for the construction of Old Main, still needs a home. And the Coaly Society wants to get it for him.

The first tradition at Penn State—before the Old Willow, before the Obelisk, before the ratio—Coaly was working at the back-breaking task of pulling the stones that went into Old Main.

Coaly, brought to Farmer's High School in 1857, himself went into Old Main after his death in 1893. When the wildlife museum was converted into a meeting room in 1936, Coaly was taken to a hayloft in a veterinary hospital, which is now the Poultry Diagnostic Laboratory.

Initiates Guard Bones Today Coaly's remains, which have been on exhibit in Old Main, will be transferred back to the Poultry Lab. The Coaly Society, an agricultural activities honorary society, isn't happy about this at all. Its 25 initiates, which have been guarding the bones in two-hour shifts for a 24-hour period, would like to see Coaly in a classroom in the Agriculture building. Even more, the society would like a glass case built around his remains.

Coaly Society Grows The society, formed in 1951, to give recognition to outstanding participants in Ag Hill activities, has since grown to include Ag Achievement Night, the Golden Speaking Contest, and the Mr. Agriculture Contest in its program. Members are selected on the basis of an activities point system.

The Coaly Society is proud of its growth and its mascot. And very proud of the fact that only Coaly members may write their names on the bones of the black mule that started the train of Penn State traditions.

The Centre County Young Republicans Club will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 202 Willard to elect officers. Benjamin Sinclair will preside as the incumbent president.

University delegates to the meeting are Robert Kurtz, Robert Dennis, and David Eber.

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Freshmen and third semester students will receive notice of room selection for next year early in April.

A wedding trial had to be postponed in New Haven, Conn., because both the groom-to-be and the best man collapsed with ulcers.

Riding Group Will Sponsor Horse Show

The Penn State Riding Club will hold its annual horse show April 30 through May 2. The horse show will be a three-day event in contrast to past shows requiring only two days.

The new three-day event will test the skill of both horse and rider more completely than any other single competition, as it demands complete obedience and manners from the horse, said Gerry Goldman, Riding Club president. Jumping ability, speed, and stamina are most important.

The horse show committee, under Nancy Wild, chairman, will plan and produce the entire show. A second committee, under William Brodnax, chairman, will plan the show.

The event will be run in three phases. The first phase will consist of a dressage test to prove that both horse and rider are "well-schooled." The second is an endurance, speed, and cross-country test, and the third phase, on the last day, will consist of a ring jumping test to prove that the horse's strength was not completely drained during the second day.

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Freshmen and third semester students will receive notice of room selection for next year early in April.

A wedding trial had to be postponed in New Haven, Conn., because both the groom-to-be and the best man collapsed with ulcers.

Men Debaters Meet Vermont

Four members of the men's debate squad met two teams from the University of Vermont in two non-decision debates yesterday afternoon and evening.

The debates were held at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in 316 Sparks. The subject was the national debate topic, "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

Edward Klevens, second semester electrical engineering major, and Jonathan Plaut, second semester industrial engineering major, had the negative side in debating Jacques Mitchell and Edward English of the Vermont team, in the afternoon.

Sidney Goldblatt and David Meckler, second semester industrial engineering majors, debated the negative side against Colleen Wescott and Claire Battles of the Vermont team in the evening.

Chairmen of the debates were Edward R. Gilkey, instructor in speech, for the afternoon event, and Harold J. O'Brien, assistant professor of speech, for the evening event.

Robert D. Huber, professor of speech, at the University of Vermont, was the adviser for the Vermont team.

Members of All-University Cabinet should submit their reports for the student government booklet today at the Student Union desk in Old Main, Myron Ene-low, editor, has announced.

Room Selection Deadline Today

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Freshmen and third semester students will receive notice of room selection for next year early in April.

A wedding trial had to be postponed in New Haven, Conn., because both the groom-to-be and the best man collapsed with ulcers.

Alec Beliasov, banquet co-chairman, said Hilkert will discuss his observations of college and post-college big wheels who have entered business, and will discuss the advantages of fraternity life in the development of wheels of various sizes.

Presidents of all fraternities and sororities, representatives to IFC and Panhellenic Council, and chapter advisers will attend the banquet.

Francis E. Hyslop, associate professor of fine arts, will discuss "The Religious Significance of Contemporary Art" at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Joan Geiger is program manager, and on the crew are Jo Ann Bonfanti, Francis Crawford, Bernard Kleinstub, Marcia Phillips, Gordon Pogal, Howard Schwartz, Nancy Schade and Joan Wilson.

Advertising manager is James Farmer. On the crew are George Beimersderfer, Mary Lou Benner, Peggy Byrnes, Nancy Easter, Shirley Fry, Edward Goldston, Mary Jo Heckman, Jane Lamont, Barbara Lederer, Katherine Millikan, Sheldon Odland, Arnie Rosenberg, Barbara Schmidt, Patricia Shelly, Constance Taylor, Roger Vogelsinger, and Sandra Weichel.

Frank Cressman is House manager, and on the crew are Richard Gordon, Janet Easley, Carol Bauer, Vonessa Edelen, Nancy Bird, Judy Burns, Glenda Rine, Mary Pera, Nancy Norling, Noreen Meyer, Marilyn Moore, Janet Stevenson, Constance Anderson, Anne Caton, Mary Lou Moore, Lillian Melko, Joan Ziegler and Ruth Rapp.

Sound manager is Roger Owen, and models supervisor is Norma Loughner.

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Young Republicans To Elect Officers

The Centre County Young Republicans Club will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 202 Willard to elect officers. Benjamin Sinclair will preside as the incumbent president.

University delegates to the meeting are Robert Kurtz, Robert Dennis, and David Eber.

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Freshmen and third semester students will receive notice of room selection for next year early in April.

Alec Beliasov, banquet co-chairman, said Hilkert will discuss his observations of college and post-college big wheels who have entered business, and will discuss the advantages of fraternity life in the development of wheels of various sizes.

Presidents of all fraternities and sororities, representatives to IFC and Panhellenic Council, and chapter advisers will attend the banquet.

Francis E. Hyslop, associate professor of fine arts, will discuss "The Religious Significance of Contemporary Art" at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Joan Geiger is program manager, and on the crew are Jo Ann Bonfanti, Francis Crawford, Bernard Kleinstub, Marcia Phillips, Gordon Pogal, Howard Schwartz, Nancy Schade and Joan Wilson.

Advertising manager is James Farmer. On the crew are George Beimersderfer, Mary Lou Benner, Peggy Byrnes, Nancy Easter, Shirley Fry, Edward Goldston, Mary Jo Heckman, Jane Lamont, Barbara Lederer, Katherine Millikan, Sheldon Odland, Arnie Rosenberg, Barbara Schmidt, Patricia Shelly, Constance Taylor, Roger Vogelsinger, and Sandra Weichel.

Frank Cressman is House manager, and on the crew are Richard Gordon, Janet Easley, Carol Bauer, Vonessa Edelen, Nancy Bird, Judy Burns, Glenda Rine, Mary Pera, Nancy Norling, Noreen Meyer, Marilyn Moore, Janet Stevenson, Constance Anderson, Anne Caton, Mary Lou Moore, Lillian Melko, Joan Ziegler and Ruth Rapp.

Sound manager is Roger Owen, and models supervisor is Norma Loughner.

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Room Selection Deadline Today

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Freshmen and third semester students will receive notice of room selection for next year early in April.

Alec Beliasov, banquet co-chairman, said Hilkert will discuss his observations of college and post-college big wheels who have entered business, and will discuss the advantages of fraternity life in the development of wheels of various sizes.

Presidents of all fraternities and sororities, representatives to IFC and Panhellenic Council, and chapter advisers will attend the banquet.

Francis E. Hyslop, associate professor of fine arts, will discuss "The Religious Significance of Contemporary Art" at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Joan Geiger is program manager, and on the crew are Jo Ann Bonfanti, Francis Crawford, Bernard Kleinstub, Marcia Phillips, Gordon Pogal, Howard Schwartz, Nancy Schade and Joan Wilson.

Advertising manager is James Farmer. On the crew are George Beimersderfer, Mary Lou Benner, Peggy Byrnes, Nancy Easter, Shirley Fry, Edward Goldston, Mary Jo Heckman, Jane Lamont, Barbara Lederer, Katherine Millikan, Sheldon Odland, Arnie Rosenberg, Barbara Schmidt, Patricia Shelly, Constance Taylor, Roger Vogelsinger, and Sandra Weichel.

Frank Cressman is House manager, and on the crew are Richard Gordon, Janet Easley, Carol Bauer, Vonessa Edelen, Nancy Bird, Judy Burns, Glenda Rine, Mary Pera, Nancy Norling, Noreen Meyer, Marilyn Moore, Janet Stevenson, Constance Anderson, Anne Caton, Mary Lou Moore, Lillian Melko, Joan Ziegler and Ruth Rapp.

Sound manager is Roger Owen, and models supervisor is Norma Loughner.

Women who will leave for student teaching assignments this week or who will be out the first eight weeks of the fall semester must make arrangements for room assignments by 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said eight-week students who will not student teach this semester will be notified later when they may select rooms for next year.

Fourth through seventh semester women who have not selected rooms for next year must also report to Mrs. Hibbs by 5 p.m. today in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Freshmen and third semester students will receive notice of room selection for next year early in April.

IT'S PENN STATE THESPIANS'

BLOOMER GIRL

A BROADWAY MUSICAL COMEDY

Thurs. -- $1.00; Fri., Sat., & Mat. -- $2.00

THIS WEEKEND

TICKETS NOW ON SALE AT STUDENT UNION

Send your friends PICTURE POST CARDS in color of Penn State Campus and Surrounding Areas 3 for 10c in the TUB $5.00 in sales; $1.00 in merchandise free

BX PENN STATE BOOK EXCHANGE

WARNER

Carthage

ROBERT RYAN
JAN STERLING
"ALASKA SEAS"

State

JUDY HOLIDAY
"IT SHOULD HAPPEN TO YOU"

Nittany

8-ACADEMY AWARDS
"FROM HERE TO ETERNITY"