

WRA Announces Aquacade Cast

Names of the participants of the ten divisions in the annual Women's Recreation Association Aquacades, "The Aqua Daily," to be given at 8 p.m. April 9 and 10 at White Hall pool, have been announced by Patricia Colgan, president of the WRA Swimming Club. There will be nearly 100 swimmers.

The theme for the show is based on a newspaper, and each of the ten sections will represent a part of the newspaper.

Sandra Dahlinger and Jane Lamont will direct Sue Conway, JoAnn Fulton, Alice Gorka, Ann Hafer, Elaine Harding, Francis Hoffman, Patricia Jones, Barbara Kabeakjian, Marcia Manley, and Mary Phillips in "Headlines" which will be the first number.

Following this, Nancy Fisher and Patricia Olkkonen will present "Travel," the second section of the newspaper.

The number "Weather Forecast" will be directed by Barbara Seifert with Margaret Beling, Marthat Fleming, Susan Pentz, Joan Perry, Margaret Porterfield, Ginger Rife, Nancy Sauer, Carol Thompson, Sandra Weichel, and Anne Wenzel as the swimmers.

Miss Olkkonen will direct "Sports" as well as swimming in one of the other numbers. The swimmers for this part are Marjorie Blank, Elaine Bohus, Suzanne Mann, Alice Thornton, Peggy Davis, Patricia Essley, Marie-Louise Kean, and Nancy Seiler.

Grant to Direct

"Financial" will be directed by Judith Grant and include Betty Bemus, Sue Copper, Dolores Hepler, Karin Peterson, Nancy Peterson, Joan Reitz, and Betty Wilton.

Sylvia Crum, Miss Lamont, Miss Seifert, and Constance Weitknecht will present "Comics."

"Movie News," under the direction of Eleanor Gwynn, will have Betty Bell, Amber Hassinger, Alice Haviland, Ann Hutchison, Patricia McLaughlin, Shirley Mix, Phyllis Richards, and Martha Rojahn as participants.

Society and Theater

"Society and Theater" will be presented by Miss Colgan and Miss Gwynn.

Miss Rojahn and Miss Richards will direct "Fashions" in which Majorie Entwisle, Jean Eyerman, Ann Hadesty, Ruth Howland, Shirley Kay, Barbara Knoebel, Jeanette Kohl, Shirley Martin, Janet Murdock, Nancy Ritter, Peggy Trevorow, Nancy Walter, JoAnne Watts, and Rebecca Zahn will participate.

"News in Review," the final section, will be under the direction

11-1 Approval Voiced On 'Shorts' Regulation

By NANCY WARD

Eleven women students questioned Thursday by the Inquiring Reporter expressed approval, and one disapproval, of the Bermuda shorts ruling passed Wednesday night by Senate of Women's Student Government Association.

The women were asked, "What is your opinion of the ruling passed Wednesday night by WSGA Senate that will allow coeds to wear Bermuda shorts on campus when going to and from recreational activities?"

The students and their opinions are:

Jeanette Turner, second semester arts and letters major: "I think it's a good idea. I can't see anything wrong with it and don't see why they didn't have it before."

Bonnie Brush, fourth semester medical technology major: "It's a very good idea because they're comfortable for recreational activities and women at most colleges are allowed to wear them."

Marilyn Gourley, eighth semester chemistry major: "I don't think they look very nice on campus and I don't like the shorts myself."

Nancy Morgan, second semester arts and letters major: "I think girls should be allowed to wear Bermuda shorts, but I agree with the ruling that they should not be permitted to wear them to class or in dining halls."

Olivia Lauer, second semester home economics major: "I think it's pretty fair and a good idea that we're allowed to wear them to and from recreational activities. However, I believe coeds should be allowed to wear Bermuda shorts in their dormitory lounges."

Gertrude Kittelberger, sixth semester medical technology major: "I think it's all right. I think girls look chic in Bermuda shorts and they're comfortable for recreation."

Donna Lucas, fourth semester business administration major: "I think it's a good idea with one exception. I can't see how they can regulate what we wear in town."

Mary Darbie, sixth semester home economics major: "I feel that it's perfectly all right to wear Bermuda shorts, and if you can wear them to recreational activities, you can wear them any place else that's suitable for Bermuda shorts."

Betty Weston, sixth semester physical education major: "I think it's a very good idea because it eliminates the necessity of having to wear a long coat on warm days when you want to play tennis or go on a picnic."

Brenna Hariman, fourth semester home economics major: "I think it's a pretty good idea because most of the girls want to go up to the tennis courts in Bermuda shorts without a long coat that they have to throw on the ground. Besides, Bermuda shorts aren't very revealing."

Diane Lee, second semester elementary education major: "I think that since shorts are prohibited on campus, Bermuda shorts are a compromise suitable for recreational activities. I think it's a good idea they passed the rule."

Nancy King, fourth semester elementary education major: "I think coeds should be allowed to wear Bermuda shorts on campus because they are allowed to at other colleges. I think the ruling is a step forward over the past."

Senate Will Not Meet

Senate of Women's Student Government Association will not meet this week.

Newswoman Will Speak At Dinner

Bess Furman, member of the Washington bureau of the New York Times, will speak at the Matrix Table at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Nittany Lion Inn.

Miss Furman will speak on "Washington Personalities" at the dinner sponsored annually by Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism fraternity.

Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower, Dean of Women, Pearl O. Weston, and approximately 110 women students have made reservations for the Matrix Table. Reservations cost $2.75 and may be made until 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Reservations may be made upon presentation of a card enclosed with invitations.

Wrote History of White House

Miss Furman is author of "White House Profile," a political-social history of the executive mansion from its occupancy by John and Abigail Adams in 1800 through the Harry S. Truman administration.

She also wrote "Washington By-Line," an autobiographical account of 20 years as a Washington newspaperwoman from 1929, when she joined the Washington bureau of the Associated Press, to 1949. Included in the book is the Truman great upset election.

Rode on Campaign Trains

Miss Furman has covered all first ladies since Lou Henry Hoover and has ridden on the Roosevelt and Hoover campaign trains. She has covered four national political conventions. During the last 10 years she has been on the New York Times staff.

MISS BERNICE MAIER

Okay Joe?

Bernice is a second semester freshman from Philadelphia and the fellow who gave her that collossus of a rock for her finger is a Phi Sigma Delta named Barry.

Those of you who remember our "OK Joe" girl of two weeks ago, Sue Shrenzel, might be interested in knowing that her picture won a gold seal award in the state wide salon held in Pittsburgh yesterday. As a matter of fact, all four of our entries won top awards. One of those, "Mr. Knox" (the print now hanging in our hallway) was selected as one of the five finalists to receive a silver trophy. The trophy winner will be notified tomorrow, so we're keeping our fingers crossed.

Like good music? We've got over 60 albums of it and you can select one to your liking to be played during your sitting.

Sincerely,
b.c.
