Congress May Get New Draft Plan

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Asst. Secretary of Defense John A. Hannah said today the Pentagon may soon ask Congress for a new draft-reserve program involving "radical and dynamic changes" in the nation's manpower defense setup.

Testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Hannah said the new program is near final approval by President Eisenhower, the National Security Council and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

It is designed, he said, to fit the present period of emergency "when we are neither in all-out war nor at peace."

As outlined by Hannah, the program would include:

1. A requirement that youths within the 18-26 year draft

Adams Will Speak At Commencement

Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education, will speak at commencement exercises June 7, Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, announced yesterday.

Exercises will be scheduled at 10:30 a.m. at Beaver Field. In case of bad weather they will be held in two sections at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Recreation Hall.

Seniors will receive at least three and possibly four admission tickets to Recreation Hall for relatives and friends, Kenworthy said. These tickets will be honored until ten minutes before the exercises begin and then the doors will be opened for general admission.

Pony-Wagon to Lead Ag Show Parade

A six-pony hitch and wagon will lead the parade tonight that will preview tomorrow's 37th annual Little International Livestock Show in the University's livestock judging pavilion Saturday afternoon.

The show, which this year is dedicated to Dr. William L. Henning, head of the Department of Animal Husbandry and coach of the livestock judging team for the past 20 years, is sponsored by the Penn State Chapter of the Block and Bridle Club.

Parade Forms at Barns

The parade, starting at 6 p.m., will form at the dairy barns and will travel from the barns down Shortlidge road, proceed west on College Avenue, and return to the barns by way of Burrowes and Pollock roads. The six-pony hitch and wagon were brought here by Browns' Coca Cola advertising company of Pittsburgh for the event. A six-horse hitch and caliope were brought by the Menzie Dairy Company of McKeesport, Pa.

Also included in the parade will be two international grand champion horses from the University string, two hitches from the Western Penetentiary, and a two-horse hitch from the University. Light horses will also be ridden in the parade.

Students Lead Animals

Students showing the three different breeds of horses, Belgian, Morgan, and Percheron, will lead the animals in the parade. These and other animals—sheep, swine, and beef cattle—will be displayed on the tanbark tomorrow from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Special features in addition to this year's show will be held tomorrow afternoon. These include a greased pig contest, a special pony hitch demonstration, a sheep shearing demonstration. Carroll Shaffner, University sheep superintendent, will provide a display of how sheep dogs operate.

Exam Schedule Release

The final exam schedule for the Spring semester appears on pages 7 and 8.

The conflict schedule will be printed in the Daily Collegian as soon as it is made available.

Board Names McGrew 1954 Froth Editor

Carl McGrew, sixth semester physics major, has been named editor of Froth by the magazine's senior board.

Byron Fielding, fourth semester arts and letters major, replaces McGrew as managing editor. Fielding was formerly editorial director.

Ronald Safier, sixth semester business administration major, was named business manager. He was co-director of Froth advertising staff.

Larry Gedrich, sixth semester arts and letters major, and Alexander Ayers, sixth semester labor management major, were named co-directors of the advertising staff.

Sanford Lichtenstein, fourth semester business administration major, was named national advertising director.

The new staff will assume office immediately under the advisement of the present senior board. The final issue of Froth will appear during Spring Week.

Warren Gran, sixth semester architecture major, was named promotion manager.

14 Students Fined By Traffic Court

Traffic Court levied $27 in fines on April 13 to 14 of the 22 students scheduled to appear before the court. Six dollars was collected by the court, and the remainder was to have been turned in to the Dean of Men's office within the next 48 hours.

The court levied two probationary recommendations to the Dean of Men's office, and recommended that one student's car be sent home.

June Graduates May Order Gowns

Chemistry and physics and physical education seniors who will be graduated in June may order caps and gowns today at the Athletic Store.

The following seniors may order caps and gowns on the scheduled days: liberal arts and business administration, Monday through Wednesday; Home Economics and Mineral Industries, Thursday through Saturday.

Invitations and announcements may be ordered at the Student Union desk in Old Main according to the same schedule. A deposit of $5 is required for caps and gowns.

Deadline Set Today For Ugly Man Contest

Today is the deadline for candidates to register for the Ugly Man contest May 5, 6, and 7.

Applicants must sign up at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Pictures of candidates will be taken tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. in 405 Old Main.

A $1 registration fee is required of each candidate when he registers. The candidate will also select the time for his picture at registration.

Istanbul Prof To Deliver Chem Talks

Dr. Fritz G. Arndt, professor of chemistry at the New York University of Istanbul, Turkey, will deliver the annual Priestly lectures, Monday through April 30, in 119 Osmond Laboratory. Thursday's lecture will be at 5:15 p.m. and the others at 8 p.m.

Topic of the lectures, which are sponsored by Phi Lambda Upsilon, national chemistry honorary society, is "Problems of Theoretical Organic Chemistry." They are open to the public.

Dr. Arndt's Monday lecture will deal with "Problems of Dizaalkane Chemistry," Tuesday's with "Problems of Acid Function," and Wednesday's with "Problems of Tautomerism."

Thursday and Friday, Dr. Arndt will discuss "Problems of Aromaticity in Heterocyclic Systems," and "Problems of Ene-diol and of Organic Oxygen Radicals."

Dr. Arndt has worked in many fields of general and organic chemistry. The most extensive of these are syntheses and properties of heterocyclic systems of triazines, triazoles, pyrones, thiapyrones, dipycylenes, and pyridones. Work on these types led him in 1923-24 to the first enunciation of the principle which is now called mesomerism or resonance.

Men's Concert Set for Sunday

The Penn State men's Glee Club will present its annual spring concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in Schwab Auditorium.

The 55-voice group is directed by Frank Gullo, associate professor of music.

The concert will mark the opening of the spring tour of the group. This spring the tour will include concerts in Greensburg, Pittsburgh, Greenville, Buffalo, N.Y., and Elmira, N.Y. The Glee Club will appear on television in Pittsburgh.

The Glee Club is also scheduled to give its annual Mother's Day concert May 9 in Schwab Auditorium.

John Moran, fourth semester arts and letters major, will be a tenor soloist on the concert. Eudell Korman, fourth semester arts and letters major, will present a piano solo.
