

Mrs. Eisenhower to Pour At Tea for May Queens

Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower will pour at the tea in honor of seven former May Queens after the May Day ceremonies Saturday in Old Main.

May Day activities will begin with teas in the dormitories from 2 to 3 p.m. Saturday. The processional will begin at 3:30 p.m. in front of Old Main. Jesters leading the march will be Charlotte Klippel and Patricia Olkkonen. The hemlock chain will be composed of 50 senior women.

Free Tickets Now Available For Concert

Tickets for the annual Spring modern dance concert to be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Thursday, and Saturday may be obtained in White Hall.

Admission is free, according to Dorothy Briant, assistant professor of physical education and director of the concert to be held in White Hall.

Carolyn Watson, instructor in physical education, will introduce modern ballet to Penn State. She will appear in "Joys Are Our Wings," a dance based on a theme by Jean Paul Richter. Costumes will be white.

Bette Love, fourth semester physical education major, who appeared in last year's concert will be soloist in a dance based on the principles of the United Nations, backgrounded by Biblical verse. She will also appear in a dance of the Congo, based on a theme by Vachel Lindsay.

Marilyn Black, sixth semester arts and letters major, will be soloist in a comedy number, "El Toro Ferocio-Ferdinando," the story of Ferdinand, the Bull.

Assisting Miss Briant in directing the concert are Alberta Mills, instructor in physical education and Miss Watson. Accompanist will be Hermance Reese, instructor in physical education.

Members of the cast, supervised by the directors, are doing choreography for the concert.

Readers of quotations will be Joan Shaddinger, Joan Flinn, and Jean Mears, sixth semester home economics majors.

Officers of the Modern Dance club are Janet Melzer, president and Constance Paakh, secretary.

Co-Edits

Phi Mu

Graduating seniors of Phi Mu were recently honored at a dinner-dance at State College Hotel as a part of Phi Mu Weekend. Other activities of the weekend included a picnic at Whipples Dam and a pledge retreat.

Pledges Mary Craig, Janice Huber, Greta Jordan, Ellen Marks, and Carol Stehmen were honored at the retreat.

Beaver House

New officers of Beaver House are Curtis Hare, president; Walter Filmore, vice president; Robert Hilliard, secretary; Ralph Vernot, treasurer; Anthony Mattos, caterer; Marvin Long, house manager.

"Jinx" Jenks Wins Old Gold Kudos

To Carol "Jinx" Jenks, compliments and a carton of Old Golds for very fine work as president of Penn State Home Economics Club and as secretary-treasurer of the Bowling Club.

The fine and friendly tobaccos in Old Gold Cigarettes offer you real smoking pleasure and relaxation. Always a Treat instead of a Treatment when you light up an Old Gold, King Size or Regular.

Freshman attendants will be Janice Brenner and Mary Dubow; sophomore attendants, Eileen Marcelina and Shirley Mix; junior attendants, Faith Gallagher and Polly Moore; senior attendants, Ona Kay Lee and Marilyn Buzby.

Four State College elementary school pupils will be flower girls and train bearers.

Sally Lewis, second semester home economics major, will serve as maid-of-honor. Jane Montgomery, eighth semester journalism major, will be crowned May Queen by Nancy White, retiring president of Woman's Student Government Association.

Presentation of the world will be made by Barbara Wallace, retiring president of the Women's Recreation Association. Phyllis Richards, Penn State Christian Association representative, will present the scepter to the May Queen.

Panhel Chorus
The Panhellenic council chorus, under the direction of Barbara Wallace, will sing "Green Cathedral" and "Alice Blue Gown."

Members of the Schuhplattler Club, organized in 1950 under the PSCA, will do three dances built around love, courtship, hate, and jealousy. They will be "Nev Bayreischer," "The Figure Dance" and "The Dance of Jealousy."

The Interfraternity Council chorus, directed by John Jenkins, will sing "There's Music in the Air" and "I Had a Dream, Dear."

Freshman and sophomore women will do a May Pole dance.

Among those attending the tea in honor of the former May Queens will be deans and professors who were at the University when the seven women attended Penn State. Members of WSGA, which is sponsoring the tea, will attend also.

Mrs. Bruce Dunlap of Camp Hill will be the oldest queen attending. She reigned as May Queen in 1914.

Other Queens
Other former May Queens who will attend are Mrs. Arthur Geigner, Arlington, Va., 1922; Mrs. William J. Sweeney, Summit, N.J., 1924; Mrs. Charles Kindred, Titusville, 1925; Mrs. Charles Smith, Bellefonte, 1928; Mrs. H. Aubrey Myers, Springfield, 1933; and Mrs. Ernest Berkow, Pittsburgh, 1941.

The seven women will watch the May Day ceremonies from a section in the bleachers reserved for them.

In case of rain the program will be presented in Recreation Hall.

Frosh Council Will Consider 2 Hours Issues

Two issues concerning hours for freshmen women will be considered by Freshman Council at 6:30 tonight in the day students room, Woman's Building.

Repeal of the regulation that first semester women may not date after 5:30 p.m. weekdays will be discussed.

Freshman Regulations Board previously voted to remove this regulation. However, the board will have to reconsider the issue, even if the council votes to repeal the rule.

This will be necessary because of the length of time elapsing since it was originally considered.

Granting two special 11 o'clocks to second semester women who have made a specified scholastic average their first semester will be considered. The average has not been decided upon. Freshman women now have four special 10 o'clocks each semester. The addition of two 11 o'clocks, if passed, will take effect in September.

Both issues were discussed by Woman's Student Government Association Senate Wednesday night. If these recommendations are passed by Freshman Council, they will go to Freshman Regulations Board, be submitted for approval to Dean of Women Pearl O. Weston, and go to WSGA Senate for final vote before they are accepted.

Robertson Chosen Air Society Queen

Anne Robertson, sixth semester merchandising major, was chosen queen and honorary commander of the Arnold Air Society by four officers of the department of air science and tactics at the society's formal dance Saturday night.

The queen received a gold crown and loving cup. Her attendants, Geraldine McKenna and Lee Edwards, received bouquets of roses.

Leonides Endorse Academic Freedom

The protection of academic freedom was one of the primary resolutions passed at the 13th National Independent Student Association conventions, according to members of the Penn State delegation.

The convention was held April 12 to 15 at Cornell University. Seven members of Leonides and eight members of the Association of Independent Men represented Penn State. Penn State Leonides led the discussion groups at the convention.

Howard Sauder, representative from Pollock Council, explained the details of a picnic to be held by the men in the Pollock area with the possible merge with Leonides. The picnic will be held from 2 to 3 p.m. May 16 in Black Moshannon. The members of Leonides voted to return the suggestion to their dormitory units for approval. Reports of the members will be made at the next meeting.

Joan Packard, president of Leonides, appointed five committee chairmen. They are Joyce Shusman, social chairman; Peggy Trevorow, Woman's Recreation Association chairman; Loretta Hunter, publicity chairman; Helen Spagnolo, cultural chairman; and Janice Holm, parliamentarian.

Miss Shusman was named chairman of the "Dink Debut," a dance held annually for freshmen. Miss Hunter and Miss Spagnolo are co-chairmen of the 1954 Autumn Ball.

Gecau Will Speak At Westminster

Julius Gecau, Christian ambassador from Kenya, Africa, to this country, is visiting the Westminster Foundation of the Presbyterian Church to discuss problems mutually affecting students in India, Africa, and the United States.

Gecau will be available for consultation at the Foundation this week. He will speak to campus groups and will visit Acacia and Beta Theta Pi.

Gecau will speak at the Foundation's Mother's Day breakfast and service at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Presbyterian Church.

Cwens to Hold Card Party

Cwens, sophomore women's hat society, will sponsor a card party at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Hillel Foundation.

Proceeds from the party will go to the scholarship fund, from which Cwens will award three $50 scholarships this month.

The Charles Shop will present a fashion show as part of the party.

Numerous games will be played and cards will be supplied. Refreshments will be served.

The following local merchants have contributed gifts for door prizes: Clearfields, cuff links; Schlow's Quality Shop, a white clutch bag; the Athletic Store, a double deck of cards; Kalin's, a set of flower jewelry; and the Blair Shop, a jewel box.

MARY SPANGLER

Okay Joe?

A fourth semester Home Ec from Mount Joy, it was indeed a pleasure working with Mary. She just looked good in any position.

No... we don't have an annual "dollar day" but we do have an unusual offer once each year. For the small sum of $4.95 you can have a four proof setting and receive a 5x7" portrait plus 6 miniatures. The usual charge is $10.40. A saving of better than 50%. This is applicable to students and college personnel this week only.

Arrangements are being made now to photograph "mother and son" groups in front of the fraternity houses this coming Sunday. Call now and avoid disappointment.
