

White to Crown May Queen Today

By JACKIE HUDGINS

Jane Montgomery, eighth semester journalism major, will be crowned May Queen today by Nancy White, retiring president of Women's Student Government Association, at ceremonies beginning at 3:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of Old Main.

Spectators' seats for the ceremonies will be reserved for parents of students participating in the program until 3:20 p.m.

In case of rain the ceremonies will be held in Recreation Hall. Maud Strawn, May Day general chairman, will announce at 10 a.m. today whether the program will be in front of Old Main or in Rec Hall.

During the ceremony presentation of the world will be made by Barbara Wallace, retiring president of Women's Recreation Association. Phyllis Richards, Penn State Christian Association representative, will present the sceptre to Miss Montgomery.

20 Compose Honor Arch

Twenty senior women will compose the honor arch. Anna Mae Webb, eighth semester music education major, and Patience Unge-thuem, eighth semester home economics major, will participate in the honor group with seniors previously named.

The procession will begin at 3:30 p.m. from the steps of Old Main. Jesters leading the march will be Charlotte Klippel and Patricia Olkkonen.

Fifty senior women will make up the hemlock chain procession.

Frosh to Attend Queen

Janice Brenner and Mary Dub-sow will be freshman attendants; Eileen Marcelina and Shirley Mix, sophomore attendants; Faith Gallagher and Polly Moore, junior attendants; and Ona Kay Lee and Marilyn Buzby, senior attendants. Four State College elementary school students will be flower girls and train bearers.

Sally Lewis, second semester home economics major, will serve as Maid of Honor to the queen.

The Panhellenic chorus, under the direction of Miss Wallace, will sing "Green Cathedral" and "Alice Blue Gown."

3 Dances Scheduled

Members of the Schupplattler Club, organized in 1950 under the Penn State Christian Association, will perform three dances built around love, courtship, hate, and jealousy. They will be "Nev. Bay, reischer," "The Figure Dance," and "The Dance of Jealousy."

The Interfraternity Council chorus, directed by John Jenkins, eighth semester music education major, will sing "There's Music in the Air" and "I Had a Dream, Dear." Freshman and sophomore women will do a May pole dance.

Open Houses Planned

Open houses will be held in five women's dormitories today and tomorrow. The open houses will be held in Thompson, Grange, and McAllister Halls from 2 to 3 p.m. today; in McElwain, 1:30 to 3 p.m. today; Atherton, 1 to 3 p.m. today; Simmons, 1:30 to 3 p.m. tomorrow; and in Woman's Building from 2 to 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Only friends of women living in the dormitories are invited to visit the rooms, according to Barbara Kilmer, chairman of the open house committee. Guides will be posted in dormitory halls.

Dormitory teas will be held from 2 to 3 p.m. today.

1st Queen to Attend

Mrs. Bruce Dunlap, the first Penn State May Queen, will be among the guests at a tea in honor of seven former May Queens immediately following the ceremonies. Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower will pour. Mrs. Dunlap reigned as May Queen in 1914.

The tea will also honor Mrs. Arthur Geiger, Arlington, Va., 1922; Mrs. William J. Sweeney, Summit, N.J., 1924; Mrs. Charles Kindred, Titusville, 1925; Mrs. Charles Smith, Bellefonte, 1928; Mrs. H. Aubrey Meyers, Springfield, 1933; and Mrs. Ernest Berkow, Pittsburgh, 1941.

Special Chapel Service

The Mother's Day Chapel service will be held at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium. Dr. Henry Pitt Van Dusen, president of the Union Theological Seminary, New York, will speak.

The Penn State Men's Glee Club, recently returned from a tour through Western Pennsylvania and New York, will give a concert at 3 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

After the hearings had adjourned for the day we speeded back in the Senate subway and went over to the Press Gallery in the House of Representatives. We were welcomed by the gallery's superintendent who told the leader of the group, "I'm sorry you couldn't have gotten over here earlier; we passed the St. Lawrence seaway bill today after 40 years." Did we miss something? Did we?
