

Weather—
Cool With Showers

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Alpha Phi Omega
Campaign
See Page 3

VOL. 54, No. 136

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 12, 1954

FIVE CENTS

Mad Hatter Parade Winners Announced

Picture on Page Two
By BEV DICKINSON

Three first, second, and third prize winners in the artistic, originality, and comic categories under the theme of movie titles were named yesterday in the Mad Hatter parade contest.

One hundred and thirty-seven finalists were selected from 2500 entrants in the preliminary contest yesterday. Each of the finalists

Hollowell Wins He-Man Title; Beats Fifteen

Herbert Hollowell, sponsored by Alpha Sigma Phi and Delta Tau Delta, was named "He-Man of 1954" by judges at the final contest last night on Beaver Field, according to Barbara Wallace and Gerald Maurey, contest co-chairmen.

Hollowell won the title over 15 other finalists who were selected from 40 entrants in the preliminary contest Friday. He received a trophy and 150 points for his sponsors. Each of the four runners-up was awarded 100 points for their sponsors toward the Spring Week trophy. Entrants in the contest received 25 points.

After being judged on their costume and theme, in which Hollowell totaled the most points, the sixteen finalists competed in a 100-yard obstacle race on the Beaver Field track. Hollowell again placed first after running the dash in 16.0 seconds. Six contestants were eliminated and the remaining ten competed in the shotput throw.

Robert Allan, sponsored by Chi Phi and Sigma Sigma, threw the shotput to total the most points for that section of the finals. Five of the contestants were then eliminated, and the five remaining were considered by the judges.

The five finalists included Hollowell; Allan; Edward Pasko, Pi Kappa Phi; Daniel Van Duyn, Alpha Gamma Rho and Delta Delta Delta; and Robert Springer, Phi Kappa Sigma and Alpha Omicron Pi.

Judges for the finals were Ross B. Lehman, assistant executive secretary of the Alumni Association; George L. Donovan, director of associated student activities; and James H. Coogan, assistant director of public information.

Hollowell was selected as winner of the contest from the five finalists on the basis of physique, abilities, manliness, and costume, Miss Wallace said.

Student Union Directory

Clubs, honor societies, social fraternities, and other groups should turn in names of new officers to the Student Union desk in Old Main before May 22 in order to be included in the Student Union Directory.

F-84 Jets Fly At Low Altitude

The F-84 jets that formed an air guard for the Armed Forces Day parade last night flew at a minimum altitude of 1000 feet for demonstration purposes.

According to Lt. Col. Jack W. Dieterle, professor of air science and tactics in charge of the Air Force ROTC's part in the parade, permission was obtained from local authorities for the planes to fly lower than normal.

Col. Dieterle explained jets are required to fly high enough to safely clear high buildings, but the height of State College buildings made 1000 feet a safe altitude for the jets.

Malinak Is Ugliest Man On Campus

By NANCY FORTNA

Donald Malinak, sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Chi Omega, is the ugliest Ugly Man according to the five judges who picked the contest winner.

The judges met at noon yesterday to choose the Ugly Man winner. After much discussion, they unanimously chose Malinak. They based their decision on the amount of effort put forth in the campaign and also on the appearance of the seven finalists.

Donald Malinak
Ugliest Ugly Man

In the Ugly Man parade, Malinak was drawn in a carriage by slaves.

Malinak will be presented with the Ugly Man key at the Senior Ball by Richard Updegraff, president of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, sponsor of the contest. The 28-inch trophy will be presented to the groups sponsoring the winner.

Judges for the contest were George L. Donovan, director of associated student activities; Mary E. Brewer, assistant to the dean of women; Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant of the dean of women; Ridge Riley, executive secretary of the Alumni Association; and Louis Bell, director of public information.

The seven finalists in the contest were Malinak, Charles Oberance, James Dunlap, Ronald Lench, Ralph Laudenslayer, Kenneth White, and Robert DiJoseph. Alan Pomeroy, chairman, said the contest committee appreciates the effort put forth in the contest by the participants.

Parmi Nous Fee Due

Assessment may be paid by Parmi Nous members by 5 p.m. today at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

was awarded five additional points for his sponsors toward the Spring Week trophy. Entrants in the contest received five points.

In the originality classification, Nancy Anderson, Glorio Egizio, and Carol Mattner took first prize with their combined puppet show hat under the title "Lili." They were sponsored by Alpha Chi Omega and Lambda Chi Alpha.

'Pennies from Heaven'

Patricia McLaughlin, Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Kappa Sigma, won second place with the hat theme "Pennies from Heaven." Third place went to "The Sea Around Us," a hat worn by Carl Cross, sponsored by Sigma Pi and Alpha Xi Delta.

Seven organizations totaling the most points in the Mad Hatter contest include Phi Kappa Tau, 305; Alpha Chi Omega, 275; Lambda Chi Alpha, 270; Delta Sigma Phi, 235; Delta Delta Delta, 230; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 225; and Alpha Omicron Pi, 225. The results were released by the contest committee last night.

Honorable mention in the originality category was given to Mary Dubson, sponsored by Kappa Delta Rho and Thompson, whose hat was entitled "The Egg and I." Warren Hausman, Phi Kappa Tau and Women's Building, also received honorable mention for his hat, "Spaceman."

'Mikado' Is Most Artistic

Martha Colaianni, sponsored by Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Rho, won first prize from 46 finalists in the artistic classification. The theme of her hat was "Mikado." Second prize went to Rose Mary White, Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Kappa Sigma, for her wire and clover hat entitled "Lucky Me."

Olla Horton, Patricia Hughes, and Linda Sazberg took the third prize with their combined hat "Titanic." They were sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta and Delta Chi. Honorable mention in the originality category went to Thomas Pyle, Kappa Delta Rho and Thompson, for his hat "Kon-Tiki."

'She couldn't say No'

Thomas Elberty, Alpha Gamma Rho and Delta Delta Delta, drew first prize and much applause for his crepe paper stork entitled "She Couldn't Say No." Joseph Cutler and John Wolfinger, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, won second prize for their huge "Champion."

"She Wore a Yellow Ribbon," worn by Roy Walker, Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Tau Delta, received

(Continued on page eight)

Independents Will Operate Judicial Board

By BILL SNYDER

All independent students with a 1.0 All-University average will have an opportunity to serve on the Association of Independent Men's Judicial Board of Review, as a result of a measure passed last night by the AIM Board of Governors.

This Judicial Board of Review will review disciplinary cases involving independent men, subject to overrule by the Dean of Men's office. Edward Stoores has been named chairman of this Judicial board.

To apply for one of the eight positions on this judicial board, the independent must fill out an application, to be placed later this week at the Student Union desk in Old Main, and be interviewed by a special committee which was named last night by newly elected AIM president, Robert Dennis, presiding over his first board of governors meeting.

Not in Constitution

This judicial board is not officially in the constitution, but the amendment concerning it was passed on third reading last night by the board along with three other amendments. All four must now be passed by three of the four councils represented on the board of governors—which are West Dorm, Town, Nittany, and Pollock.

The amendments were pushed through for vote hurriedly by the board of governors, thus following an expressed desire of the board to bring the amendments up for council vote before the semester runs out. The board hopes to have the amendments part of the constitution for the next school year.

Newly Passed Amendments

The amendments are:
1. Compensation for AIM officers for a full school year at the following rates: president to receive $100, the secretary and treasurer $50, and the vice president, $25.

2. The Executive Board of AIM be composed of the four officers of the AIM and the presidents of the four councils.

3. These standing committees be set up and a chairman named by the AIM president: National Independent Student Association, publicity, social, projects, and elections.

4. The amendment concerning the Judicial Board of Review.

Robert Harding served as chairman for drafting these amendments.

According to the procedure for independents interested in serving on the Judicial board, the deadline for returning the applications to the board will be a week from Friday.

Committee Will Decide

The committee, named by Dennis and passed by the board last night, will pass on applications and interview those qualified as

(Continued on page eight)

Spring Carnival Opens Tonight At Windcrest

The Spring Week Carnival, in which 45 groups will participate, will be open from 6 to 11 p.m. today and tomorrow.

The carnival, one of the main events of the sixth annual Spring Week, will be situated at the Windcrest area at the corner of Shortlidge road and College avenue. Groups began setting up booths at noon yesterday.

Concessions and rides will be dispersed over the Carnival grounds. Popcorn and candy floss stands will be provided, and there will be four rides which include a ferris wheel, comet, merry-go-round, and barrel of love.

Booths on the Carnival grounds will comprise three long midways.

It seems that the weather and Penn State activities just can't get together!

Today will be partly cloudy and rather cool, the meteorology department reported yesterday. Rain by tomorrow morning is predicted. Tonight should be slightly warmer.

Rumor has it that next year fraternities are planning to have Eskimo themes for Spring Week.

Groups must have their booths cleared by midnight tomorrow, Richard Grossman, carnival co-chairman, stated. A violation of this rule will result in a removal of part of the group's carnival deposit, he added.

Carnival-goers may purchase tickets to enter booths for ten cents each at ticket stations on the carnival grounds. Proceeds above the expenses for Spring Week will go to the Penn State Student Scholarship Fund.

Twenty-five to 30 checkers will review carnival shows and if booths are found inappropriate the group will be warned. A second warning will mean the closing of the booth, Grossman stated.

Air Force Drill Team Takes Cup in Meet

The Air Force ROTC Drill Team won the drill competition conducted in front of Old Main Sunday afternoon before 1200 on-lookers.

President Milton S. Eisenhower presented the trophy to Cadet Lt. Col. Wayne E. Kanouse, commanding officer of the team.

Also entered in the competition were the Pershing Rifles Team and the Navy ROTC Drill Team.

No Sorority Unit Plans Are Made

Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant, said yesterday the physical plant had made no plans for building the proposed sorority quadrangle.

He said the idea is being considered, but no thought has been given to construction details.

President Milton S. Eisenhower has endorsed a plan for sorority quadrangles as a future housing program.

Under the plan, the quadrangle would be built and maintained by the University on University property and rented to sororities.

Molotov Hits U.S. Proposal on Asia

GENEVA, May 11 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov hammered at the proposed U.S. security pact in Southeast Asia today. The deadlocked Indochina peace talks were temporarily recessed.

Molotov described the proposed pact as "a new military bloc against the peoples of Southeast Asia" and said it was "in contradiction with the interests of peace."

The Soviet minister raised the question in a 19-nation meeting on the problem of unifying Korea. No signs of progress in settling the Korean question were discernible in today's session. The discussion of an armistice for Indochina will be resumed tomorrow in a session of the Big Four, Red China, the three Associated States of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam and Vietminh representatives.

Earlier a French spokesman said his government was opposed to major points in the Communist-led Vietminh armistice plan for Indochina. But he said the French consider the Vietminh proposals, along with France's, as a basis for discussion.

The spokesman made clear the French had not rejected the Vietminh proposals, which the United States says are designed to hand over Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia to eventual Communist control.

British and American spokesmen, commenting on Molotov's speech to the conference on Korea today, saw nothing which would help move the Korean talks out of the almost hopeless stage to which they have descended. The Communists from the outset have rejected any supervised elections in North Korea and insisted on Soviet-style voting. Molotov supported this position again today.

The official American spokesman said the speech was "right out of the archives. It has been delivered on innumerable occasions by Mr. Molotov himself and also by Mr. Chou En-lai, Red Chinese foreign minister. It is full of tired adjectives."

Molotov also made another effort to get Communist China accepted as a member of a "Big Five," a feat which so far has been successfully blocked by uncompromising U.S. opposition.

"The specific feature of the Geneva Conference," he said, "is the indisputable fact that only five states—France, Britain, the United States, the People's Republic of China and the U.S.S.R.—are participating in the discussion of both questions (Korea and Indochina)."