A Phi O Campaign

In its April issue, Froth listed its choices of the "flops of the year." The editors, however, overlooked one effort which obviously fits into the category—Alpha Phi Omega's "Keep Off The Grass" campaign. The national service organization began with a noble attempt to protect the suffering comeliness of the campus. They ended by detracting from, rather than enhancing the beauty which they sought to preserve.

The object of the campaign, evidently, was to remind students to keep off the grass by erecting signs to that effect at strategic points about the campus. The success or failure of this project is not the point under consideration. The important thing is that the signs were erected and forgotten, and that was the extent of the campaign. There were few other attempts made to carry out the project, and the signs which were erected to remind students to preserve the appearance of the lawns have been allowed to deteriorate and become eyesores to the spots where they stand.

It is difficult to see the service rendered by Alpha Phi Omega in this campaign. Before an organization launches such a project it should weigh the anticipated value of such an effort against the possibility of harm it might do.

Alpha Phi Omega has no control over weather and other conditions which might tend to undermine its campaign, but planning for a follow-

Court Amendment Favored by Senate

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—The Senate today voted 58-19 for a constitutional amendment designed to prevent any future attempt to revamp the Supreme Court such as occurred in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

The key proviso of the amendment would permanently fix the number of justices on the U.S. Supreme Court at nine. The size of the court, now determined by law but not by the Constitution, has been changed a number of times in the course of history.

The proposed amendment would also require all federal judges to retire at 75. The oldest member of the Supreme Court now is Justice Felix Frankfurter, who is 71. Before final passage, the Senate knocked out a provision which would have barred justices from resigning to run for president.

The Senate-approved measure now goes to the House. If approved there by a two-thirds vote, it would then be submitted to state legislatures. To become part of the Constitution, it would have to be ratified by 36 states within seven years after being submitted by Congress.

Among other things the amendment would:

1. Compel retirement of all justices and other federal judges at 75, except those serving a specified number of years.
2. Prohibit Congress from ever withdrawing the Supreme Court's authority to consider constitutional cases within its appellate jurisdiction.

French Get Permission To Evacuate Wounded

SAIGON, Indochina, May 11 (AP)—Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap announced tonight he had decided to authorize the French to remove their seriously wounded from Dien Bien Phu.

Giap made his announcement over the Vietminh radio a few hours after Gen. Henri Navarre, French commander in Indochina, had asked Giap to arrange evacuation of the approximately 1300

Hearing Cut Plan Is Defeated, 4-3

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens telephoned a veto today—while at home watching the proceedings on television—and so a last-ditch Republican move to cut short the McCarthy-Army public hearings was defeated, 4-3.

In the stormy aftermath of a stormy day devoted entirely to argument over cut-it-short proposals, Senate investigators agreed to vote tomorrow on a strongly backed new move to hold night as well as day sessions.

The decisive vote—on a proposal by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) to shorten the public phase of the inquiry—came after Joseph N. Welch, counsel to the Army side, twice left the hearing room and telephoned the virus-stricken Stevens.

With TV cameras recording the remarkable—and probably unprecedented scene—Welch finally reported the Army secretary felt the Dirksen proposal "would not result in fairness."

Dulles Wants 'United Action'

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he favors a Southeast Asia alliance which would authorize member countries to put down the attacks by Communist forces in Indochina.

At the same time, he said that even if all Indochina falls to Red aggression he believes it would still be possible for an anti-Communist coalition to hold the rest of Southeast Asia, an area he said is of transcendent importance to U.S. security.

Dulles frankly acknowledged that loss of Red-threatened Indochina would make the task of saving the remainder of Southeast Asia far more difficult. But he said the West would never give up in despair.

His remarks at a news conference constituted the first official disclosure he was considering a "united action" formula which would permit the United States and allied countries to intervene in the Indochina War.

Schwable Gets Job

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—A Pentagon desk job with no command authority lies ahead for Col. Frank H. Schwable, the Marine flier who signed a false germ warfare confession while he was a prisoner of war in Korea.

Senate Approval Sought For Defense Funds

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Sen. Homer R. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today he will push for quick Senate approval of more than 29 billion dollars of defense funds to carry out President Eisenhower's "new look" for the nation's armed forces.

Despite Communist gains in Indochina and some protests by Democrats in Congress, Ferguson said he expects Senate passage of the new look military budget, which involves reductions in ground forces and emphasis on air power.

'Sparrow I' Missile

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—The Defense Department announced tonight the existence in "advanced status" of the supersonic Sperry "Sparrow I" guided missile system.

The weapon is meant to be used from airplanes against airplanes. Since aerial targets are naturally much more evasive than surface targets this implies a high degree of maneuverability and control.
