

Hayman to Play At Senior Ball

By SALLY SYKES

Richard Hayman and his orchestra will be featured at the semi-annual Senior Ball tonight from 9 to 1 a.m. in Recreation Hall. Hayman is best known for his popular recording of "Ruby."

Tickets will be sold today at the Student Union desk in Old Main and will be available at the door. They are on sale for $4.

Rec Hall will be transformed by artificial blossoms, trees, and overhanging boughs in carrying out the theme of "Blossom Time." Refreshments will be served.

The Senior Ball committee includes Walt Back, chairman; Fiorentino Feraco, Betsy Siegler, Myron Enelow, Jane Larpenteur, and Steve Melmeck.

Eight Spring Week trophies will be awarded during the intermission. Because in the past a joint group of men and women have totaled the most points during Spring Week, two trophies have been purchased. However if a single group should win, the trophy will be exchanged for a larger one.

Also receiving awards are Chi Phi and Sigma Sigma Sigma for winning in the artistic group of the Spring Week parade. Theta Kappa Phi and Theta Phi Alpha will receive a trophy for first place in the collegiate section, and Alpha Gamma Rho and Delta Delta Delta will receive one for first in the comic division.

The Potters Mills High School band from Centre Hall and the Bellefonte American Legion junior band will be awarded trophies for first and second place in the parade.

Herbert Hollowell will receive a trophy for winning the He-Man contest during Spring Week.

A good crowd is expected for the last big dance of the season. Last year's dance featured Sammy Kaye and honored Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower.

Forms Ready for Applicants to AIM Board

Application forms for next year's Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review are now available at the Student Union desk in Old Main, according to Robert Dennis, AIM president.

Independent men with at least a 1.0 All-University average are eligible to apply for one of eight positions on the board. Completed forms must be returned a week from today to Dennis or to any Council president, West Dorm; of the following: Stanley Juras, West Dorm Council president; Donald Weidner, Town Council president; Richard Steindel, Nitany Council president; and George Copella, Pollock Council president. The forms may be obtained from any of these four council presidents, Dennis said.

According to Dennis, the following procedure will be used by the AIM Board of Governors in selecting men for the board positions. Applications will be studied by a special AIM committee, and those best qualified will be interviewed by the committee. Eight will be chosen. The AIM Judicial Board of Review's purpose is to hear disciplinary cases involving independent men. Decisions are subject to approval by the Dean of Men's office. Edward Stopes has been chosen chairman of the judicial group by the AIM Board of Governors.

"This is an excellent opportunity for independent men to gain the valuable experience of student government," Dennis said.

Kirschner Wins Debate Contest

Richard Kirschner, eighth semester arts and letters major, placed first in the finals of the term-end public speaking contest of the men's debate squad Wednesday. Sidney Goldblatt, sixth semester pre-medical major, was second.

The topic of the intra-squad contest was "The Best Solution to the Free Trade Problem in the World Today."

Kirschner's speech, "I Claim Extravagance," advocated abolition of all tariffs and complete free trade. Goldblatt's "Is the Tariff the Substitute for Inventiveness," advocated free trade for both short and long term benefits. Both winners were awarded gold gavel charms.

Other finalists were George Haines, second semester education major; Jonathan Plaut, second semester industrial engineering major; Donald Pripstein, eighth semester industrial engineering major; and Benjamin Sinclair, sixth semester arts and letters major.

A term-end address reading contest will be held Wednesday.

Symphony Orchestra Elects New Officers

Robert C. Jones, sixth semester music education major, has been elected president of the University Symphony Orchestra.

Other officers are Frances O'Connell, secretary; William Mills, manager; and Stanley Michalski, librarian. Theodore K. Karhan, associate professor of music and music education, is conductor of the orchestra.

Jets Make Flight Over State College

The F-84 thunder jets scheduled to fly over State College as an air guard for the Armed Forces day parade finally had clear weather yesterday to make the flight.

The planes flew over the campus area between noon and 12:15 p.m. before heading back to their home base in Philadelphia. Weather conditions kept the planes grounded Wednesday.

39 Students Withdraw

Thirty-nine students withdrew from the University between March 18 and May 5. Thirty-one were from the campus, six from undergraduate centers and two from Mont Alto. Reasons cited were: personal, 20; illness, 14; scholastic, three; financial, one; and others, one.

Coed Discussions Slated for Tuesday

The annual intramural discussions for women will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday in 2 Sparks.

The contest, open to all coeds except members or former members of the women's debate team, is sponsored by Delta Alpha Delta, women's debate honor society.

The topic for this year's discussion is "Would More Religious Education Lead to Higher Morals?"

Contestants will be allowed to speak three different times for a total of six minutes. No advance preparation is necessary, and the discussion will be more or less a "glorified bull session," Dorothy Osterhout, women's debate manager, said.

Monday is Deadline

The deadline for registering for the discussion is Monday night. Persons interested in entering the contest may sign up with Ellen Ross, 110 Thompson; Ann Leh, 17 Atherton; Agnes Porter, 321 Simmons; or Lois Hummel, 423, McElwain.

Any sorority or campus group may sponsor as many contestants as it desires, or contestants may enter without sponsors. A trophy will be awarded to the winning speaker. Zeta Tau Alpha won the trophy in the 1952 and 1953 contests.

Final Round Wednesday

The speakers will compete in elimination rounds Tuesday night. The final round will be held Wednesday night. The speakers will be judged by members of Delta Alpha Delta and the women's debate team.

Annual Concert To Be Given By Orchestra

The University Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Theodore K. Karhan, associate professor of music and music education, will present its annual spring concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in Schwab Auditorium.

The Orchestra will open with the "Overture to the Secret of Suzanne" by Ermano Wolf-Ferrari. The second number will be "Symphony No. 6 in C" by Franz Schubert.

Robert Jones and Fred Orkieski will be trumpet soloists in "Concerto in C for Two Trumpets and String Orchestra" by Antonio Vivaldi.

The White Peacock from "Roman Sketches" by Charles T. Griffes and two Polovetsian Dances from "Prince Igor" by Alexander Borodin will conclude the program.

The concert, sponsored by the Department of Music, will be open to the public.
